FARM BOARD WILL HOLD SURPLUS COTTON FOR YEAR IF SOUTH AGREES TO DESTROY THIRD OF CROP

CHILD IS KILLED, 4 PERSONS HURT IN ATLANTA CRASH

William Marlin Colwell, 3, of Jackson, Ga., Is Hurled to Instant Death in Collision Near Fort McPherson.

2 OTHER CHILDREN, MAN, WOMAN HURT

Colwell Child's Mother, Driving Passenger Car, Escapes Injury in Fatal Smashup.

One child was instantly killed, two other children were injured and a man and a woman were hurt in a collision between an automobile and a laundry truck at Langston street and Katherwood drive late Wednesday afternoon.

William Marlin Colwell, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo P. Colwell, of Jackson, was killed when the car driven by his mother and occupied by two other children, is said to have crashed into a Superior laundry truck driven by R. M. Smith, 27, of 1427 Beatie avenue. The accident occurred near Fort McPherson, where the baby was taken. It was pronounced dead upon arrival. The child was thrown out of the auto by the impact.

Those injured were:

Mrs. W. M. Glass, 51, of 1013 Lawton street, S. W., grandmother of the Colwell child; Smith, driver of the truck; J. D. Andrews, 10, and Robert Andrews, 12, of 968 Byron drive, Sylvan Hills. The Andrews children were riding with Smith on the truck.

Mrs. Colwell was driving and the baby was seated between its mother and Mrs. Glass. In the rear seat of the Colwell machine were Virginia Glass, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Glass, and Milton Colwell, 12; Catherine, 10, and Nora Annette, 9 months old.

Mrs. Glass and the occupants of the truck were taken to Grady hospital, where it was found that the Andrews children were slightly cut about the head, as was Smith. Mrs. Glass received injuries to her shoulder and ankle. The other Colwell children, their mother and the Glass child escaped injury.

Mrs. Glass said that their party was en route to Jackson. She said Mrs. Colwell was not accustomed to driving and that their car struck the laundry truck as it emerged from Evans drive.

Annual Meteor 'Show' Enjoyed by Atlantans

Atlanta astronomers Wednesday night and early this morning viewed a brilliant display of falling meteors. Hundreds sought vantage places before midnight and watched the display in the northeastern sky until almost daylight.

A party of friends visited the home of Judge John D. Humphries in Morningside to view the display. Judge Humphries, a widely known student of astronomy, said that the display was unusually brilliant.

Some of the meteors seen here were of great size and were readily visible to the naked eye, Judge Humphries said.

Chilean Cabinet Asks For Full Moratorium

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Chilean cabinet today recommended to the congress suspension of service of the foreign debt, making the partial moratorium declared last month complete.

Hunted as Rebel

General Mario Menocal, once known as the "tyrant" president of the Cuban republic, who is being hunted by government soldiers as the fugitive leader of the revolution.

14 REBELS SLAIN IN CUBAN BATTLE

Federal Troops Victorious in Bloody Clash With Insurgent Forces.

BY J. P. McKNIGHT.

HAVANA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Fourteen rebels and one rural guardsman were killed late today, the Cuban government announced tonight, in a clash between federal troops and rebels at Cejas del Negro.

The government statement also said 26 prisoners were taken by the federal troops, together with rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

The federal forces were led by Lieutenant Captain Arai and Lieutenant Rezane, and the rebels, 200 strong, were commanded by Luis del Pozos.

Previous to this no news of armed conflict between rebels and soldiers reached Havana today, but reports received here said the rebellious spirit was growing in the two near-by provinces of Pinar del Rio and Matanzas.

No further details of the Cejas del Negro battle had reached Havana this evening, other than the bare announcement from military headquarters.

Neither was there any report from troops pushing into the western extremity of Pinar del Rio province, on the strength of a rumor that General Mario G. Menocal, one-time president and acknowledged leader of the revolt, was hiding there with only seven men.

In the meantime the whereabouts of General Mario Menocal, prime mover in the revolutionary movement, remained undetermined. The government is believed to be pressing a search for him.

General Alberto Herrera, army chief of staff, said he had at his disposal 14,500 soldiers and sailors in whose loyalty the government rested complete confidence. He set rebel casualties during the past two days' fighting at 30 killed, 50 wounded and 150 prisoners, in round numbers. Another count showed 38 dead, of whom 34 were alleged rebels, one soldier, one policeman and two other persons.

Persons arriving this afternoon from Pinar Del Rio by train said revolutionary sentiment is spreading there.

In Matanzas province, to the east, 500 men were reported gathered around Boca de Camarioca. It was believed an attempt might be made to land expeditionary forces there. Other strong rebel forces have been reported about Cardenas, Linomar, Cantel, Amarillas and Colon.

Havana Quiet.

Havana province itself was quiet, as far as could be learned.

Further to the east, in Santa Clara, Camaguey and Oriente provinces no disturbances were reported, but it was said there was other continued movement of revolutionary troops. Trouble was expected at Cienfuegos, south coast port and traditional revolutionary hot-bed.

Despite government denials, oppositionists continued to claim the military regiment in Santa Clara was on their side. Lieutenant Colonel Erasmo Delgado left Havana last night with 30 men, ostensibly to join the regiment, and 150 other soldiers followed this morning, with much ammunition.

It was announced today that Colonel Francisco Carrillo, heading rebel forces about Remedios, in that province, had telephoned an offer to

REORGANIZATION DEBATE LAUNCHED IN STATE SENATE

Diversion Vote-Buying Charges by Harris Tabled; Department Cut Fight To Continue.

Debate on the departmental reorganization bill began Wednesday afternoon in the senate when an amendment was offered to strike the section on the department of public health. Earlier in the day the senate passed the 1932-1933 general appropriations act with a number of amendments, and tabled all resolutions pertaining to charges by Senator Roy Harris, of the 18th, that a highway department employe had boasted that anti-diversion votes were bought from senators with promises of road paving.

The amended appropriations bill was ordered back to the house for concurrence in senate changes in the bill, which inciude an increase of $84,500 a year for the common schools. The total appropriations carried by the measure are exactly the same as those suggested by the budget commission and approved by the house, these being $10,996,909.14 for 1932, and $10,997,409.14 for 1933.

To Resume Fight.

The reorganization fight will be resumed this morning. Efforts to strike the major portions of the bill are anticipated, following such attempts in a meeting of the senate committee on state of republic. With one minor amendment, the senate passed the first two articles of the bill, relating to the department of audits and accounts and providing for a supervisor of purchases, and to the veterans' service office. The single amendment provides that appointment of the director of the veterans' service office by the governor is subject to confirmation by the senate.

The amendment striking the department of public health section was offered by Senators Moore, Hand, Harris, Stark, Ennis, McWhorter and Strickland. In speaking on the amendment, Senator Emmett M. Williams, of the 27th, urged the senate to "listen to the voice of the people and not the voice of people employed in the department." Senators John W. Bennett, of the fifth; I. H. P. Beck, of the 37th, and Hugh Peterson, of the 15th, spoke for the section of the bill, while Senators Buell Stark, of the 43rd; Fred B. Hand, of the eighth, and Jeff Davis, of the 31st, favored the amendment. Senator Stark said that 15 physicians in his county asked him to kill the public health section of the measure.

Power Given Russell.

In passing the appropriations bill, the senate added a section giving the governor authority to reduce appropriations if funds are insufficient to meet the bill's figures, with the exception of amounts fixed by law. The senate increased the 1932 appropriation of the forestry department from $25,000 to $50,000 and the 1933 figures from $25,000 to $30,000. The state sanitarium at Milledgeville was increased from $1,200,000 to $1,300,000 a year and appropriations of several agricultural and mechanical schools were hiked from the house figures of $15,000 a year to $25,500 a year.

Under the senate amendments, the department of agriculture is given $200,000 a year, the house having set the figures at $255,000 for 1932 and $165,000 for 1933. The department of education maintenance fund was cut from $170,000 a year to $150,000.

The congressional reapportionment bill, amended by the house, has come back to the senate for agreement to the amendments. This matter probably will be taken up by the senate as soon as the reorganization bill is disposed of, with the prospect of placing the redistricting bill in the hands of a conference committee, where, it is believed, the differences will be amicably adjusted.

One of the sure signs that the session is rapidly drawing to its end came in the house Wednesday as friends of seven A. and M. schools successfully filibustered to prevent a vote on a bill which would abolish these state-supported institutions.

Representatives John Lewis, of Hancock; E. B. Dykes, of Dooly, and Ralph Rosser, of Walker, conducted the filibuster. Action on a motion

COURT DISMISSES CANNON PETITION

Way Made Clear for Continued Investigation of Political Funds.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The legal obstacle that Bishop James Cannon Jr. recently placed in the way of the senate campaign funds committee's inquiry into complaints he violated the federal corrupt practices act in 1928 was removed today.

Justice Cox in the District of Columbia supreme court dismissed the Southern Methodist churchman's petition for an order restraining the committee from further investigation into his political activities.

Unless some action is taken against Bishop Cannon soon, he cannot be prosecuted on charges of violating election laws in 1928, when he threw all his influence against Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee. The statute of limitations expires in September, although there is some question as to the exact date.

In the absence of the bishop, who sailed several weeks ago for Europe, his attorneys, R. H. McNeill and H. W. Winburn, argued today that the senate investigation was a persecution and that the committee was attempting to assume the functions of a grand jury.

Elisha Hanson, representing the committee headed by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, moved to dismiss Bishop Cannon's bill on the ground it did not state a cause of action.

After listening to several hours of argument, Justice Cox said the petition failed to show that the committee's inquiry into the Virginia campaign exceeded its authority.

Water Increase Bill Passed by Committee

Atlanta water rates may be hiked 25 per cent as the result of a bill approved by the house committee on municipal government Wednesday night.

Introduced by Representative Luther Still, of Fulton, the bill provides that the existing rate may be boosted in order to provide the city treasury with sufficient funds to operate the schools. Otherwise, proponents of the bill contended, the schools would not be able to continue after October 1.

Representative Paul Lindsay, of DeKalb, and Representative Still, of Fulton, advocated the bill as an emergency measure. It was opposed by Representative William G. McRae, of Fulton.

2 NEW BUILDINGS AT CANDLER FIELD TO COST $125,000

City and County to Erect Administration Center; American Airways Plans Big Hangars.

BY GENE HINTON,
Aviation Editor.

An improvement program of $125,000, which will enable Atlanta to maintain its position as the air center of the south and place Candler field in the forefront of southern airports, was assured Wednesday. The Fulton county board agreed to supplement $35,000 raised by the city with an appropriation of $15,000, the aggregate total to be used in the erection of a $50,000 administration building; American Airways, Inc., now serving the city with mail and passenger lines extending in several directions, announced early start on a $75,000 hangar and shop building.

The county appropriation, $10,000 of which will be in cash and $5,000 in labor and materials, was passed by the board after favorable action on the project had been taken by its finance committee. Commissioner George F. Longino, chairman of the committee, made the motion for passage of the proposal and the paper was seconded by Commissioner Walter F. Stewart.

"The building seems vitally necessary to the development of aviation here and to Atlanta's reputation as a center of aeronautics in the south," Longino said, "so we strained a point to make the appropriation. Any hesitation the committee might have felt in recommending the allocation was not because of the project's lack of worthiness, but because of the county's depleted treasury."

Council Action Monday.

Joseph E. Berman, who as chairman of city council's aviation committee, has been a strong supporter of the administration building proposal since he went into office, told the board he would draw up a paper which would be presented to the aviation committee tonight, to the finance committee of council Friday afternoon and to council itself Monday. Council already has agreed to the plan of raising $35,000 which is to be accomplished by the sale of anticipated rentals on the building.

When council has finally approved the proposal, Berman said, bids would be advertised for at once, with the prospect of actual start on the new building within 30 days. Certain field changes must be brought about before work on the structure itself can be begun, it was said.

American Airways, it was said here Wednesday, plans to maintain its present operations office and waiting room in the stucco building which fronts on the east-and-west runway of the airport. The hangar, however, which extends for about 100 feet to the north of the smaller building, will be dismantled and probably removed to some other city on the company's southern transcontinental route and a much larger combination hangar-shop building erected in its place.

It was said that the project involves centralizing in Atlanta the line's repair and maintenance headquarters for the southern division. This is important to Atlanta, not only in the further recognition of this city as the air center of the south, but in the fact that it will bring between 30 and 40 families here and, in the same proportion, increase American Airway's pay rolls, to be spent in the Greater Atlanta area.

When the American Airways project has been completed the company will retain its present wide frontage on the east-and-west runway and its property will extend along the north-south runway for more than 200 feet. The entire plant, including hangar, shops and waiting rooms, will cover an area of 39,000 square feet.

Franco-German Amity Sure, Declares Harris in Berlin

BY TOM WILHELM.
Associated Press Foreign Correspondent.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—In the opinion of Julian Harris, news director of The Atlanta Constitution, an agreement between Germany and France is necessary for the peace of Europe and is as inevitable as "the revision of the Young plan."

Mr. and Mrs. Harris are touring Europe, making an exhaustive study of European conditions, by appointment of the Carl Schurz Memorial Association, under the auspices of the Oberlaender trust.

"There is an old saying," Mr. Harris said tonight, "that if hopes are dupes, fears may be liars. This seems applicable to the critical situation which kept Germany in anxious suspense from late June until the failure of last Sunday's plebiscite.

"The period of her exaggerated hopes began when the Hoover plan was made public. The failure of other powers to reach an early agreement on the plan produced a reaction which revealed that Germany's hopes were dupes.

"Following the failure of Barmstradter Und National bank, now happily adjusted, fears usurped the place of hopes, but fortunately proved to be liars.

"The attitude of France toward the Hoover plan, while understandable from the historic viewpoint, seems to be unsound, for I am confident that the complete peace and prosperity of Europe depends upon a fair and frank agreement between the Germans and the French. It is also my opinion, that while an understanding between the two great nations is temporarily postponed, it is as inevitable as a revision of the Young plan or the Polish corridor.

"My beliefs are based on the assumption that the French people are still a nation of realists. If this is true, France must be aware that from the moment of the announcement of the Hoover plan, although it was free from political instigations, her power entered a diminishing stage.

"As for Germany's domestic affairs, nowhere have I encountered a doubt that Chancellor Bruening's strength was increased and his leadership confirmed by the failure of the referendum. Indeed, his prestige today is such that he will be able to take steps with bold certitude which weeks ago found him hesitant. That the Germans are stirred with renewed confidence is manifest by the calm acceptance of the drastic decrees and by their refusal to draw money from the banks when these were reopened."

Harris said he believes Germany has entered the phase of her painful, but certain recovery, with self help as the basis of her program.

International help will be necessary, said Harris, inasmuch as the country will need additional credits to replace withdrawals.

"Germany today," he said, "is not merely in need of help; she is striving courageously to deserve it."

Key To Give Solution to Dry Question In Address at Chattanooga Today

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mayor James L. Key, of Atlanta, tonight said he would offer a solution of the prohibition question in an address here tomorrow.

The Atlanta executive, whose comment on the prohibition law has caused no little controversy, said tonight that "everybody knew prohibition was a fallacy, but nobody was speaking the plain, unvarnished truth about it." His subject tomorrow before the Chattanooga Rotary Club will be "This Alleged Prohibition."

Mayor Key said on his arrival here tonight that "the country, politically and socially, is much predisposed to the prohibition side." He added that "it is proved by the fact that every southern state is and has been on the side of prohibition many years, and that the country as a whole put prohibition in its constitution."

"Now even the ministers," he added, "are realizing prohibition is wrong. You would be surprised to know how many ministers down in my country believe as I do. The pastor of one of the largest churches in Atlanta came to me the other day and said he was going to preach a sermon about it. If congress could meet tomorrow and there were no political entanglements that prevented this action, it would remedy prohibition as quick as it could pass a bill. All that prevents it is political expediency."

Support of Fourteen States Urged In Move To Curb Falling Prices; Plan Meets Opposition of Georgians

Southern Leaders Slow To Give Indorsement to Federal Farm Board Plan; Russell To Give Proposal Close Study.

AMOROUS TERMS PLAN IMPOSSIBLE

Mariettan Cites Credit Extended on Crop; Talmadge, Tigner Scoff at Suggestion of Board.

Georgia and southern leaders generally were slow Wednesday night to give indorsement to the federal farm board's proposal to destroy one-third of the present cotton crop in an effort to stabilize prices.

Though the majority withheld comment pending a fuller and more complete study of Chairman Stone's proposal, there were those who scored it for various reasons. Governor Richard B. Russell said he would have no comment to make until he had received the proposal from Washington and had given it a thorough study. Other governors in the south, including Governor O. Max Gardner, of North Carolina, and Governor Doyle E. Carlton, of Florida, issued statements, the former promising co-operation and the latter countering with a proposal to store one-third of the crop instead of destroying it.

Prominent among those commenting on the proposal was Martin Amorous, of Marietta, a leading cotton authority, who pointed out that the proposal is not practicable because many of the south's leading cotton growers already have borrowed considerable in anticipation of a large crop and have pledged their crops as security for their loans.

Like Governor Russell, J. E. Conwell, president of the Georgia Cotton Co-operative Association, declined to comment until he had fully studied Chairman Stone's proposal.

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, declared that the whole scheme was nothing more than a bluff on the part of the board.

"I don't believe the farm board has one-third of the cotton on hand they claim to be holding. Congress ought to name a special committee to investigate the board and find out whether they have this cotton on hand. The plan to destroy one-third of the crop is so much nonsense."

Amorous Scoffs at Plan.

Amorous, regarded as one of the south's foremost authorities on the staple, said the proposal was just "a damn fool proposition."

"When the farm board declares that destruction of a part of the crop would enhance the price of the balance they are all wrong," he said. "It would have little, if any, effect on the price paid the producer. Cotton merchants might benefit to some extent but the farmer would simply lose the cotton he destroyed."

J. Hope Tigner, secretary of the Atlanta Commercial Exchange, said that the proposal is "just so much bunk."

"Cotton will keep for 30 years, and longer," Tigner said. "The suggestion that came from the governor of Mississippi was, of course, welcomed by the farm board. They grabbed the idea to save their faces. Whatever they do will be wrong, anyhow."

Definite Policy Needed.

"It is my opinion and that of the trade generally," Tigner added, "that if the farm board will declare a definite policy covering holdings for the next two or three years it will do

New Directors

Cason J. Callaway, of LaGrange, Ga. (above), and (below) Alexander Legge, former chairman of the farm board, who have been elected directors at large of the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, it was announced in Washington Wednesday.

CALLAWAY, LEGGE JOIN COTTON BODY

Georgian and Ex-Leader of Farm Board Named Directors of Co-op.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Alexander Legge, former chairman of the farm board, has been summoned again to lend the weight of his broad business experience to cotton stabilization questions.

E. F. Creekmore, president and general manager of the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, announced today that Legge and Cason J. Callaway, of LaGrange, Ga., had been elected directors at large of the corporation.

Legge is now president of the International Harvester Company, a position which he assumed again after retiring from the board last March.

"These men were chosen," Creekmore said in announcing that both had accepted, "to give added confidence to the Stabilization Corporation work."

Legge's election has been under consideration for several months. The former chairman, born and raised on a farm, has had a wide experience with farmers and farm problems. He also is intimately acquainted with the stabilization operations which were initiated by the board under his chairmanship.

Creekmore's announcement followed closely upon the agriculture department's forecast of an unexpectedly large 1931 cotton harvest of 15,584,000 bales and a subsequent sharp drop

Chairman Stone Seeks To Enlist State Governments, Farmers, Bankers in Dramatic Step To Stabilize Market.

7 MILLION BALES DECREASE SEEN

Board Claims 4,000,000 Bales Would Be Cut From Supply With 3,000,000 Withheld.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The farm board today called upon southern planters to destroy one-third of their crop now under cultivation, promising in return to hold stabilization surplus stocks from the market for one year.

Telegrams were dispatched to the governors of 14 cotton-producing states, urging them to enlist the co-operation of every available agency, including farmers and bankers, in this dramatic step to increase the price of cotton.

They were signed by Chairman Stone, who conferred today with directors of the Cotton Stabilization Corporation and the American Cotton Co-operative Association. Stone said if the growers promised to plow under every third row of cotton now growing, the cotton co-operative would be asked also to withhold the 2,000,000 bales it owns from trade channels.

"This program," he asserted, "if fully carried out by southern farmers as well as by ourselves will mean reduction of total supply by at least 4,000,000 bales and withholding from this year's market of 3,000,000 bales more."

Result of Estimate.

The action followed by a few days a government crop forecast in which the 1931 cotton harvest was estimated at 15,584,000 bales, more than 1,500,000 above last year. Cotton prices on every exchange immediately dropped.

A few hours before the telegrams were sent, it was announced Alexander Legge, former chairman of the farm board, had been elected a director at large of the Stabilization Corporation. Wheat and cotton stabilization operations with the board's $500,000,000 revolving fund were initiated under his chairmanship and he has been in close touch with all details.

Stone, in his telegrams to the governors of Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, estimated the probable carry-over a year from now under present conditions would be about 11,000,000 bales.

Prices on Decline.

"This condition," he said, "occurs in spite of the 10 per cent reduction in acreage last spring. It has already resulted in drastic price declines in cotton prices which, if allowed to con-

U. S. Spends Freely for Luxuries Despite Economic Difficulties

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The American sticks to his habits despite the depression.

He continues to smoke about as many cigarets as ever, to play cards just as eagerly, to consume about the same amount of pop, to eat nearly as much candy, to drink more coffee, to find recreation in golf, baseball and tennis, and to file into the moving picture shows about as often as before the business slump began, according to government and industrial figures.

The depression finds these various businesses flourishing remarkably well, and helping to hold up the sag manifest in other lines.

A grand total of 115,379,197,000 cigarets was sold last year, compared with 117,963,870,000 in the boom year of 1929, according to figures compiled here.

Moving picture theaters took in a billion dollars in 1930. This was $300,000,000 below 1929, but more than in 1928 when the total was $900,000,000. Candy consumption dropped just a bit from a total of 1,570,251,790 pounds in 1929 to 1,545,387,563 in 1930.

The per capita consumption of candy incidentally is largest in Nevada, the playground of divorce, and lowest in South Carolina, where there is no divorce. The comparative per capita figures are 23.62 pounds in Nevada and 6.25 pounds in South Carolina annually.

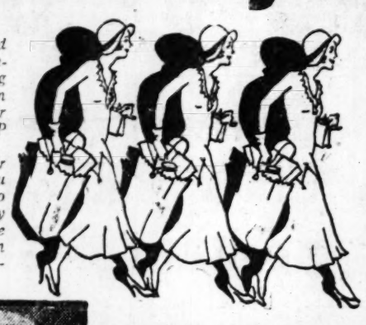

Coffee imports into the United States for the first six months of this year were far above those for the corresponding period of 1930.

ADAMS REFUSES PROBE OF NAVY YARD LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Statements by L. B. Schofield, Philadelphia commissioner of public safety, that liquor had been brought into the Philadelphia navy yard "under the noses" of sailors and guards were said by Secretary Adams today to be "too indefinite" to warrant an investigation.

The secretary added he had full confidence in Rear Admiral L. A. Bostwick, commandant of the yard, and had no intention of asking him for an explanation "unless more definite charges are made."

CHANGES SOUGHT IN HIGHWAY ACT

Effort Made To Make Establishment of State-Aid Roads Mandatory.

Provisions of the Neill-Traylor highway act of 1929, which creates a state highway map of 10,000 miles, would be changed so that establishment of the additional state-aid roads would be mandatory on the highway board instead of discretionary, under a bill by Senator Roy Harris, of the 18th, which has received approval of the senate highway committee.

Exclusive of the lengthy amending caption and other technical legal sections, the body of the act provides that it is enacted that "within a period of 24 months after the passage of this act the state highway department of Georgia shall survey and locate the additional state aid roads created by this act, and as soon thereafter as the county or counties in which said additional state-aid roads lie furnish to the state highway department deeds to the rights of way of said additional state-aid roads, then said additional state-aid roads shall be and become a part of said highway system. When said rights of way shall be furnished as surveyed and located as hereinbefore provided the state highway department shall certify to the state treasurer the fact that said road has been located, surveyed and that rights of way have been furnished and then said county or counties in which lie such additional state-aid roads shall receive a proportionate part of the taxes generally known as the gasoline tax for such additional mileage."

Senator Harris said that the present highway mileage of the state-aid system is 7,156, and that under his bill the highway board must, within 24 months, add an additional mileage based on the Neill-Traylor map so as to make the total 10,000 miles.

Senator Fred B. Hand, of the 8th district, Wednesday offered in the senate a bill amending the Neill-Traylor act so as to provide that certain roads shall have the same rank and status as other roads indicated by parallel white lines on the Neill-Traylor map.

The roads included in the bill are: Moultrie to Albany; Cordele to Albany; Hinesville to Glenville; Claxton via Glenville and Lanes Bridge; Reidsville to Piney Bluff; Thomasville via Metcalf to the Florida line; Monticello, Jasper to Forsyth; Moultrie via Pelham to Turner schoolhouse; Dawson to Bronwood; Buchanan to Tallapoosa; Cuthbert to Morgan; Preston via Brookville to Cuthbert; Moultrie via Pelham to Bainbridge, and Wadley, Davisboro and Bartow via Pervis' store.

The Hand bill would strike from the map the road from Moultrie leading southeast toward Pelham.

Roosevelt Club Convention Will Be Statewide Affair

Judge Henry H. Revill, who for the last 20 years has been judge of the city court of Greenville, Meriwether county, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Judge Revill is president of the Coweta Circuit Bar Association, consisting of the counties of Meriwether, Coweta, Heard, Carroll and Troup.

JUDGE HENRY H. REVILL.

In addition to his professional work he is the owner and publisher of the Meriwether Vindicator, one of the oldest and best weekly newspapers of Georgia. This county newspaper established a national reputation when it was owned and edited by Judge Revill's father, who presided over its destinies for many years.

Judge Revill is a warm personal friend of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt who, he says, is "the leading citizen of Meriwether county."

"It is remarkable about that man," continued Judge Revill yesterday. "I believe he knows more people in Meriwether county than any other man in it. He gets in that automobile of his and drives all over the county, meeting the country people, and calling most of them by name. It's 'hello, John, Dick or Bill' with him wherever he goes, and there isn't a man in the county seat that is not always glad to see him."

The September Club Convention.

Speaking of the Roosevelt September County Club convention to be called by Dr. R. B. Gilbert, president of the Meriwether-Roosevelt-for-President Club, the judge said: "Dr. Gilbert is getting letters from all over the state informing him of the names and addresses of the presidents and secretaries of the county Roosevelt clubs as organized. He decided upon the last week in September as the time of the meeting of the state clubs as Governor Roosevelt will be at Warm Springs at that time.

"We are going to give him a genuine Georgia ovation," said Judge Revill. "We expect every county in Georgia to be represented at this meetings and Meriwether county is preparing to entertain all who come. We have already received offers of assistance from our neighbors—Columbus, La Grange, West Point, Newnan, Talbotton and other towns in our section. We are going to make this the most memorable convocation of its kind ever held in Georgia. Meriwether county is known as the county of governors, and not until Mr. Roosevelt made it his Georgia home did he become governor of New York. Now we are going to give the nation its next president from Meriwether county. Our people are noted for their hospitality and we are going to be at our very best at this time, extending a genuine Meriwether county welcome to all who come to greet the next president of the United States."

EX-RAIL TREASURER PASSES IN MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(AP) Robert Hazelhurst, 72, a former treasurer of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad, died at his home here today as a result of a fall two weeks ago. He was forced, to retire from the railroad business 15 years ago because of his health. A native of Brunswick, Ga., he moved to Memphis 47 years ago.

WILLIAM J. EDWARDS.

OCALA, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—William J. Edwards, for more than 30 years a prominent Marion county resident and former chairman of the state sanitary live stock board, died at his home here last night of heart disease. He had been confined to his home several weeks.

JOHN S. FULTON.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Dr. John S. Fulton, former director of the state department of health, and for six years secretary-general of the international congress of tuberculosis, and of the international congress on hygiene and demography at Washington, D. C., died at his home here today at the age of 72. He was a native of Fremont, Ohio. His widow and five children, including Mrs. T. Conway Taylor, Richmond, Va., survive. The funeral will be Friday at Salisbury, Md.

F. H. BEATTIE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—F. H. Beattie, of Scarsdale, N. Y., general manager of the Cluett-Peabody Company, died on board the steamer Homeric early today of pneumonia. He was 43.

Officers said Mr. Beattie contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia during the voyage from Europe.

PROMISE BROKEN BY LEA, CHARGE

Publisher Failed To Deliver Bonds After Agreement, Says McCants.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12.—(AP) Alleged failure of Colonel Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher, to deliver bonds promised in return for a $300,000 issue of certificates of deposit was today laid before a jury trying him and three others on a charge of defrauding the defunct Central Bank & Trust Company here of $1,300,000.

William McCants, former auditor of the bank, gave the testimony. He said that, although the promised securities were never received, the bank listed payment for the certificates on its books as in cash.

In calling McCants, the state announced its intention of proving that the transaction was not legitimate. Throughout the trial, defense counsel have contended that all of Colonel Lea's dealings with the bank were entirely legitimate, and that he admits his indebtedness to the institution but denies any fraud.

McCants testified from bank records that the bonds were bought by the bank here under a repurchase agreement whereby they would be returned to Lea "whenever he paid for the certificates."

He also testified they were not delivered to the bank, but were held in trust for the bank by the Fourth and First National bank of Nashville, Tennessee.

BOND 'RACKETEERS' FOUGHT IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The formation of a $60,000,000 pool of frozen assets of closed state banks, designed to stabilize the Chicago Real Estate market, was announced today by State Auditor Oscar Nelson. The purpose, he said, was to combat the activities of racketeer bond traders and others, who, he asserted, had been beating down the price of realty bonds, thereby impeding the orderly liquidation of closed banks.

The pool will be made up almost entirely of real estate bonds and mortgages. A committee is to be named to liquidate the bonds in orderly fashion or hold them for a better market.

DIAMOND GIVEN TERM IN ATLANTA

New York Gangster Sentenced to Four Years and Fined $11,000.

BY CHARLES KLINE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The law struck at gangdom today, imposing the heaviest sentence possible on Jack ("Legs") Diamond, and detailing crack marksmen to conduct a continuous hunt for hoodlums still at large.

The racketeer, who previously had "beaten the rap" 24 out of 25 times, heard a federal judge from Kansas order him to serve four years in the Atlanta penitentiary and pay a $11,000 fine—the maximum penalty for his conviction of beer running and distillery ownership.

Diamond's associate in his illicit enterprises in the Catskills, Paul Quattrocchi, who, like Diamond, was convicted of conspiring to violate the prohibition law, but who escaped conviction of a charge of owning an unregistered still, was sentenced to Atlanta for two years and fined $5,000.

Hardly an hour elapsed after Diamond's sentence was imposed before Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney transferred a squad of crack sharpshooters to the motorcycle division of the New York police under orders to patrol each of the 16 police districts with new automatic shotguns.

A still further accounting with the law lies ahead for Diamond, whose only stay in prison thus far has been a short term for burglary.

"I would be remiss in my duty if I did not suggest to the district attorney," said Federal Judge Richard J. Hopkins, "that evidence showing possession, transportation and sale in violation of the Jones act be laid before the grand jury.

"The defendants (Diamond and Quattrocchi), if convicted of crimes brought to light through the evidence in this case, would be liable to far more severe punishment than that possible on the conspiracy count. They might be sentenced to 30 or 40 years."

"There's no use talking," was the comment of Diamond, former bodyguard of the slain gambler, Arnold Rothstein.

State authorities hope to bring Diamond to trial on a series of charges remaining from the alleged torturing of a Cairo (N. Y.) cider truckman. Carrying bullets from an attempt to assassinate him, Diamond went into court in Troy, N. Y., recently and was acquitted of an assault charge arising from the truckman's case, but kidnaping and other indictments still are pending.

STILL TO OFFER KEY PLAN TODAY

Bill To Cut Wards To Six Will Have Support of Eckford.

Atlanta's six-ward plan of government, an amendment to the city charter, will be introduced in the house of representatives this morning by Representative Luther Still and will have the support of Representative George Eckford, both members said Wednesday afternoon.

Cutting the wards from 13 to six, the bill provides for the election of six aldermen and six members of the board of education, one of each to come from every ward, and two members of city council.

The present members of council would serve out their unexpired terms, under the provisions of the bill, and would be eligible to run in the new wards at the expiration of their present terms.

The authority of the committees of council would be limited to their administrative functions, in all cases supervisory and appellate, and heads of departments would be responsible for personnel and performance of duty.

The bill would not become operative before January 1, 1932, and only after it has been ratified at the next general city election, this year, by a majority of the qualified voters.

The division of the city into six wards would be by the following boundary lines:

Ward 1.—Beginning at a point at the intersection of Peachtree street and Pryor street; thence south along Peachtree street to an intersection with the south line of land lot 78 of the 14th district of Fulton county; thence west along the south lines of land lots 78 and 83 of said district to the center of Hunter street; thence west along the center of Hunter street to the westerly right-of-way of the L. & N. R. R. belt line; thence northerly along said right-of-way to an intersection with the present city limits; thence northerly, easterly and southerly direction along the various courses indicating the present city limits to an intersection with the southerly right-of-way of the Southern railway main line where same intersects the west line of land lot 104 of the 17th, district of Fulton county; thence southerly along said west line of land lot 104 to an intersection with the center of West Peachtree street; thence southerly along said West Peachtree street, and along a portion of Peachtree street in a straight line to West Peachtree street; thence continuing southerly along West Peachtree street to the intersection of West Peachtree street and Peachtree street; thence southerly along Peachtree street to the point of beginning.

Ward 2. Beginning at a point on the south line of land lot 78 of the 14th district of Fulton county, where same intersects the center of Peachtree street, thence in a southwesterly direction along the center of Peachtree street and along the center of Whitehall street to an intersection of Whitehall street and Stewart avenue; thence southerly along the center of Stewart avenue to the present city limits; thence westerly, southerly, westerly, northerly, easterly, etc., along the existing city limits to an intersection with the westerly right-of-way of the L. & N. railroad belt line; thence southerly along said right-of-way to the center of Hunter street; thence easterly along said Hunter street and along the south lines of land lots 83 and 78 of the 14th district of said county to point of beginning.

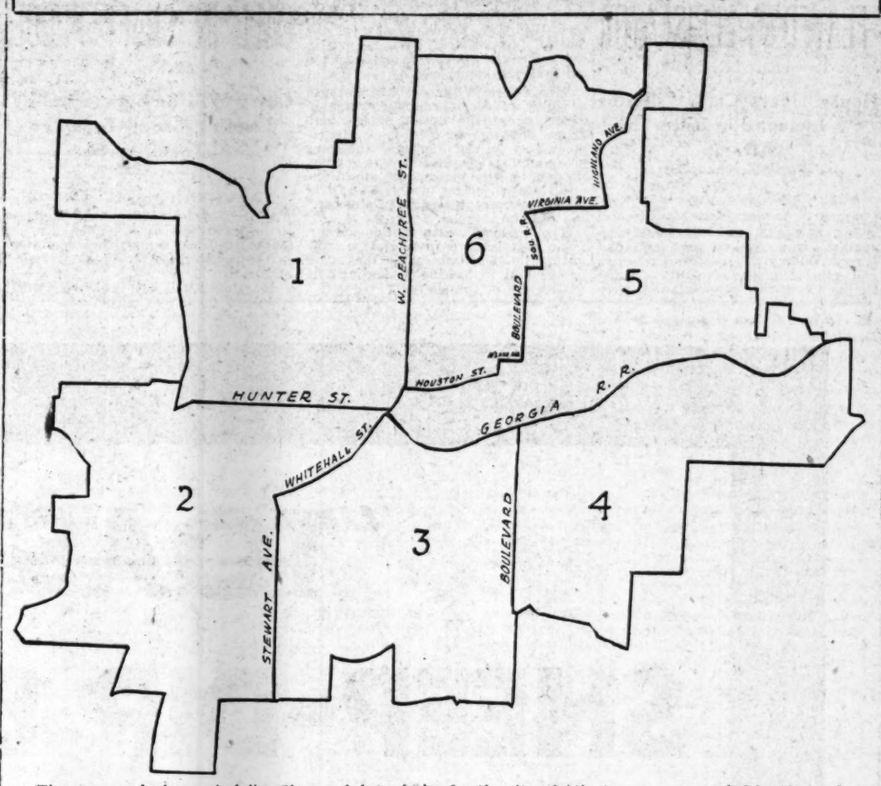

Ward 3. Beginning at a point at the intersection of Stewart avenue and Whitehall street; thence northeasterly along the center of Whitehall street to the southerly right-of-way of the Georgia railroad; thence easterly along southerly right-of-way of said Georgia railroad to the center of Carroll street; thence southerly along the center of Carroll street and the center of Boulevard to the southerly right-of-way of the belt line of the Atlanta & West Point railroad; thence easterly along said right-of-way to the present city limits 200 feet east of the center of Boulevard, S. E.; thence in a southerly, westerly, etc., direction along the existing limits to the center of Stewart avenue; thence northerly along said Stewart avenue to the point of beginning.

Ward 4. Beginning at a point on the southerly right-of-way of the Georgia railroad where same intersects the center of Carroll street; thence easterly along said right-of-way of said railroad to the existing limits; thence in a southerly, easterly, southerly and westerly, etc., direction along the existing limits to a point on the southerly right-of-way of the Atlanta & West Point railroad, 200 feet east from the center of Boulevard; thence westerly along said right-of-way of said Atlanta & West Point railroad to the center of said Boulevard, S. E.; thence northerly along the center of Boulevard, S. E., and along center of Carroll street to the point of beginning.

Ward 5. Beginning at an intersection of Houston street and Peachtree street, thence easterly along the center of Houston street to Boulevard, N. E.; thence northerly along said Boulevard, N. E., to the center of Highland avenue; thence easterly along said center of Highland avenue to the center of Glen Iris drive; thence northerly along said center of Glen Iris drive to the center of Ponce de Leon avenue; thence easterly along said center of Ponce de Leon avenue to the easterly right-of-way of the Southern railway belt line; thence northerly along said right-of-way to the center of Virginia avenue; thence easterly along said center of Virginia avenue to the center of North Highland, N. E.; thence northerly and northeasterly along said center of N. Highland avenue, N. E., to the junction of Lenox road and Johnson road to line between Fulton county and DeKalb county; thence northerly along said county line to the existing city limits; thence northerly, easterly, southerly, etc., along the existing city limits to the southerly right-of-way of the Georgia railroad; thence westerly along said right-of-way to the center of Peachtree street; thence northerly along the center of said Peachtree street to the point of beginning.

Ward 6. Beginning at a point in the center of Peachtree street where Houston street intersects same; thence northerly along the center of Peachtree street to the junction of West Peachtree street and Peachtree street; thence northerly along the center of West Peachtree street to the junction of Peachtree street and West Peachtree street; thence continuing northerly along the center of Peachtree street to the center of West Peachtree street; thence northerly along the center of West Peachtree street and along the west line of land lot 104 of the 17th district of Fulton county to the existing city limits on the southerly right-of-way of the Southern railway main line; thence easterly, southerly, northerly, easterly, southerly, etc., along the exisiting city limits to the line between Fulton county and DeKalb county; thence southerly along said county line to the center of Johnson road; thence southwesterly along the center of said Johnson road to the junction of Lenox road, North Highland avenue, and Johnson road; thence southwesterly and southerly along the center of North Highland avenue, N. E., to the center of Virginia avenue; thence westerly along the center of said Virginia avenue to the easterly right-of-way of the Southern railway belt line; thence southerly along said right-of-way to the center of Ponce de Leon avenue; thence westerly along said center of Ponce de Leon avenue to the center of Glen Iris drive; thence southerly along said center of Glen Iris drive to the center of Highland avenue; thence westerly along said center of Highland avenue to the center of Boulevard, N. E.; thence southerly along said center of Boulevard, N. E., to the center of Houston street; thence westerly along said center of Houston street to the point of beginning.

Key Plan To Be Submitted Today

The proposed six-ward delineation and boundaries for the city of Atlanta as recommended by Mayor James L. Key are shown in the above map. This plan, which entails a charter amendment for Atlanta, will be offered in the house of representatives today by Representative Luther Still. The Key plan, while reducing by more than half the number of wards, also provides, as may be noted, for a more equitable division of the city into political areas.

TWO BADLY INJURED IN CUTTING AFFRAY

B. F. Hames, 30, of Lakewood Heights, was badly cut about the face and head, and his right arm nearly severed from his body; and Frank Kitchens, 22, of 375 Richardson street, was cut on his left arm and side, and about the face, following an altercation at Brotherton and Forsyth streets Wednesday night, according to Detectives George Caldwell and A. E. Davis.

The police said that Hames was standing near a taxicab talking loudly and profanely, and that Kitchens and two companions, seeing that a woman was standing within hearing distance, remonstrated with him. Hames is said to have cut Kitchens, who, according to the report, fled with his two friends, but was overtaken by Hames at Whitehall and Forsyth streets, near the Pig and Whistle, where the battle was renewed.

Hames later was locked up on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, and stabbing another, and Kitchens was freed. Both men were treated at Grady hospital.

WILKINS TURNS NORTH FOR CRUISE IN ARCTIC

SKJERVOE, Norway, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins plans to make an arctic cruise, headed northward today.

Engine trouble delayed the vessel on the journey from Tromsoe to Skervoe, but when it arrived last night repairs had been made and Sir Hubert, who landed for two hours this morning, seemed delighted with the progress made.

LINDY AND ANNE VISIT ALASKAN GOLD FIELDS

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Nome experienced one of its greatest thrills since the 1900 gold rush by entertaining Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh with a trip today to the historic gold fields, where huge dredges are at work. Other points of interest in the famous mining town also were visited.

The flying couple, on their way to the orient for a vacation trip, arrived at Safety Bay, 21 miles from here, at 10:25 a. m. (4:25 p. m., eastern standard time) yesterday after a one-stop flight from Point Barrow.

They plan to take off tomorrow morning across Bering sea for Karagin island, off the coast of the Kamchatka peninsula, where fuel supplies have been placed on its southwestern tip.

VON GRONAU TO BLAZE AIR TRAIL IN NORTH ATLANTIC

BY GARDNER L. BRIDGE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A new and safer north Atlantic air trail across Iceland and Greenland and over the barren Hudson bay country to Chicago is the objective of Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, veteran of one transoceanic flight to New York from Germany.

Von Gronau, now at Reyajik, Iceland, could not be reached for further details of his plans, but there were strong indications today that he would continue around the world from Chicago.

BOARDMAN AND POLANDO EMBARK FROM MARSEILLES

MARSEILLES, France, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Russell Boardman and John Polando, New York-Istanbul fliers, embarked for home today on the steamer Excalibur. They took with them their plane, the Cape Cod.

JACK HARDY CASE DROPPED BY STATE

An indictment naming Jack Hardy, former council member, and Tom Ball jointly on a charge of simple larceny was reported Wednesday to have been nol prossed by the solicitor-general's office. The indictment was returned at the time a number of city graft indictments were made.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin stated Wednesday night that he had requested the indictment nol prossed and had given an attache directions to have the order signed by a judge. However, records in the clerk's office failed to show any order concerning the matter. Mr. Boykin stated that he had nol prossed the case as it was "not a city graft indictment" and was an inconsequential affair with very weak evidence.

Hardy is alleged to have kept the name of Tom Ball, a city employe at the cemetery, on the pay roll while he was not working for several days. It was contended that Ball was sick at the time. The matter came to light Wednesday when the city heard of fire masters who elected Hardy to a position on the fire department some months ago, voted to put him to work.

INJURY TO DRUGGIST TERMED ACCIDENTAL

Although Chattanooga police Wednesday termed the injuries to D. E. Stone, Atlanta druggist of 1220 Langley street, S. E., as accidental, Dr. R. E. Stone, of 414 Park avenue, S. E., left for the Tennessee city to conduct an investigation into the affair.

Stone, 37 years old and the father of five children, was found unconscious and seriously injured on the sidewalk in front of the hotel in Chattanooga where he was spending the night. His condition Wednesday still was considered serious.

MARKETING ACT MAY BE AMENDED

Revision Would Empower Farm Board To Use Two Provisions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A renewed discussion of farm relief today centered upon the possibility of efforts to amend the agricultural marketing act in the next congress to include both the equalization fee and export debenture plans.

Under such an amendment, the farm board would be empowered to use its discretion in employing either of these provisions in meeting an agricultural surplus emergency.

Farm leaders throughout the country have been debating the adequacy of present legislation with intensified interest in the last several months since new bumper crops have added to the complexity of the agricultural situation.

The McNary-Haugen bill, containing the equalization fee, was twice vetoed by President Coolidge. The American Farm Bureau Federation yesterday announced it would again actively support it, deeming existing law insufficient to deal with the farmers' troubles.

The export debenture was last defeated in the house a little more than a year ago when the Norris amendment to the tariff bill was lost by 70 votes after it had been adopted in the senate. President Hoover has declared himself opposed to the debenture, but has not spoken on the fee plan. Chairman Stone, of the farm board, also is on record against the debenture.

When the Norris amendment was defeated, the house had a republican majority of more than 100. It has been cut down to a close division of two with control still in the balance. What fate this plan as well as the equalization fee will meet in view of this circumstance, remains to be determined when and if the whole farm relief controversy which has raged intermittently since 1920 is reopened.

Going to school is an important occupation. It is a very profitable vocation. Competent statisticians have announced that every day spent in a technical school after high school graduation is worth $26.00 to the student—that means $130.00 a week, $520.00 a month. Rather staggering, isn't it? It probably never occurs to the student in school that he is making so much money—nor to one not in school that he might earn that much by going to school.

It is everywhere admitted that an education pays. It is a refining process that converts the raw product into valuable finished material. It is important, however, that any kind of education should be obtained at a good school.

It is the function of the National Association of Accredited Commercial Schools to investigate, survey, and evaluate private business schools for their efficiency. A school certificated by accreditment by the National is always a good school, and students of the business subjects may safely patronize it. It is always well for the prospective student to inquire as to the accreditment of the school he purposes attending.

The Southern has been fully accredited by the National Association.

"I'm glad we have a Telephone again"

A number of people who gave up their telephones during the stress of the past twelve months have told us that this proved to be false economy and they have had their service restored.

Those who have not had their service reinstalled, and those who may be hesitating about having a telephone of their own, are reminded that telephone service is no longer regarded as an expense, but is considered a necessary home convenience and economy.

No other money you spend can bring you more actual value. Thousands of telephone subscribers know the truth of this. They do not consider their telephone statement as a "bill," but rather as a reminder of pleasanter living and broadened opportunities.

Those who have previously enjoyed telephone service appreciate it more than ever; new subscribers wonder how they ever did without it.

Telephone service costs so little and the advantages are so many that it really doesn't pay to try to do without it.

LOCAL CHARITY RELIEF PLANNED BY AGENCIES

Outsiders, However, Not Provided for, Says Chest Head.

Distress in Atlanta, based on the lack of food and clothing attendant to the unemployment situation will be cared for entirely by the Atlanta Community Chest and the Better Business Commission, Frank Miller, executive director of the chest said Wednesday. Miller's statement came after he had been informed that Allen Burns, representing a group of more than 220 chests in leading American cities had reported to President Hoover that the situation could be handled by local agencies.

Mr. Miller pointed out that in making such a declaration he wanted it distinctly understood that he meant that Atlanta agencies could handle the city's own people and that it would not be able to undertake to assist those from other places who may elect to come here during the winter.

During 1931 the chest has had to carry more than twice the load it had in 1930 but this has been aided by special contributions by the Fulton county commission and the city government, Mr. Miller said.

ELROD RELEASED IN YOUTH'S DEATH

While arrangements were being made to bring the body of John F. Clemons, 17-year-old Atlanta art student, who was killed in an automobile crash on Long Island Tuesday night, back to Atlanta, word was received here Wednesday by relatives of Thomas A. Elrod, well-known artist and driver of the car, that Elrod had been released in custody of his father-in-law, H. G. Wade, of Sag Harbor, Long Island.

At the home of Elrod's mother, Mrs. F. W. Elrod, 2508 Dellwood drive, Haynes Manor, it was said that the father-in-law of the magazine artist had telegraphed that "all was attended to, and the accident was unavoidable."

The body of young Clemons left New York Wednesday for Atlanta, where funeral arrangements will be under the direction of H. M. Patterson & Son. Besides his mother, Mrs. J. L. Engrisch, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Martha Carter; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Reynolds, and Mrs. Albert Kearney, all of Atlanta.

LIGHTNING KILLS ONE IN ALABAMA CHURCH

BEAVERS REPLIES TO MANGET NOTE

More than 16,000 persons have been arrested for drunkenness, 3,329 have been convicted in state courts of violating the liquor laws and 664 automobiles seized while containing liquor have been confiscated in the last two years, Chief of Police James L. Beavers revealed in a letter Wednesday to John A. Manget, president of the Atlanta Prohibition and Law Enforcement Club and leader in a movement seeking to bring about the recall of Mayor James L. Key.

In addition, Chief Beavers told Manget, much brewing and distilling apparatus has been seized and destroyed and thousands of gallons of whisky and home brew have been confiscated.

The chief's letter to Mr. Manget came after he had received a note from Manget and C. A. Norton, the law enforcement club's secretary, praising him for the record during the month of July when a special liquor squad of eight men arrested 176 persons for violating the prohibition laws.

Manget and Norton are head of a group seeking signers for a petition to have a recall election.

TEXAS CO-OP LEADERS FLAYED BY LEGISLATOR

House Hears Carl Williams Included in Bitter Attack.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Charges of misfeasance, malfeasance, deceit, deception and incompetency, against Lynn Stokes, president, and Harry Williams, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, were made before the house of representatives today by Representative Lawrence Westbrook, of Waco.

In a prepared statement read to the house, Westbrook also charged Carl Williams, cotton member of the federal farm board, with failure to carry out the provisions of the agricultural marketing act.

"He (Carl Williams) has pursued a policy of deceit and subterfuge in carrying out the duties of his high office, leaving the affairs of the co-operatives in the hands of the gang of agricultural racketeers who got him his job, and he ought to be impeached and removed. He undoubtedly will be when congress meets in December," the statement read.

The house passed a motion authorizing a legislative investigating committee to co-operate with the attorney-general in making a thorough investigation of the charges.

TAMMANY CHIEF FACES CALL IN GRAFT PROBE

Curry Will Be Summoned by Leading Group Today or Tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—John F. Curry, leader of Tammany Hall, is to be a witness at a public hearing before the state legislative committee investigating the New York city government.

Mr. Curry will be asked by Samuel Seabury, counsel for the committee, to explain a telephone call made from his New York apartment three weeks ago to Lake Placid, N. Y., where Appellate Division Justice Henry L. Sherman has a summer home. On the day after that telephone call Justice Sherman signed a stay of execution for William F. Doyle, veterinarian, who had been sentenced to serve 30 days in jail for refusing to tell the committee with whom he split fees for appearances before the city board of standards and appeals in regard to enforcement of building regulations.

Funds Allotted.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally

(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)

present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out— so they can't be in!"

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

Relief for Unemployed Seen As Chief Topic for Congress

News of Presidential Plan Draws Varied Demands for Cash Doles Direct From U. S. Treasury.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The outburst of discussion about the program of congress on relief of distress foreshadows the expectation that this will be the principal controversy in a session exceptionally crowded with acrimony.

The president has under way a plan which, everybody infers, contemplates relief mainly through enlargement and improvement of the same mechanism as last year, namely "the organized co-operation of local and state and federal authorities and the large number of relief and charitable organizations." The mere tentative announcement of this presidential plan for relief has brought, from quarters opposed to the president, a large volume of energetic demand that relief shall take mainly the form of direct grant of money to the unemployed from the federal treasury. The principle involved in the distinction is the "dole," which in England and Germany is an established and continuing form of direct grant by the nation to the unemployed, not limited to emergencies such as the present.

The president's plan of relief would, of course, include money and co-operation from the federal treasury in the form of, for example, expanded appropriations for public works and other forms of federal help. What the president's plan is presumed to exclude is direct gift of a weekly stipend as a matter of right to all who qualify as unemployed. This is what is meant by the dole.

Fears of Dole System.

The apprehension about the dole, expressed by those who fear it, is that if adopted now it would be kept permanently in action on an enlarging scale as has been done in England. It is claimed, whether accurately or not, that the existence of the dole during several years on a constantly expanding scale is one of the chief causes of Great Britain's economic and financial stagnation. The dole in England has grown to a point where it is charged that men and families make a deliberate choice of living rather narrowly, but never the less satisfactorily in idleness on the government dole rather than accepting employment below a certain scale of pay.

Under normal circumstances, the dole as an institution might not command a majority in congress and certainly would not command the two-thirds necessary to enact it over a presidential veto. Under present conditions, however, several factors favor it. The distress in cities will result in strong pressure on members of both parties in congress. Even more potent will be the fact that the coming session of congress is on the eve of a general election for president, for one-third the senate and for the entire membership of the house.

During Campaigns.

During the very months of the battle over the dole, members and senators will be before their constituents for renomination in primaries and a few months later for election. In addition, conservative democrats who might ordinarily oppose the dole on principle, will now be under temptation to support it as a means of compelling a republican president to go on record against it on the eve of an election. The same political motive will operate with progressive republicans from farming districts who ordinarily would oppose any dole to city workers. The dole offers a larger opportunity for stirring up political effect than any other of the several controversies that normally ought to occupy the coming congress, such as the World Court issue.

The number of persons in congress who earnestly believe in the dole as a permanent institution, while small, is larger than is commonly realized. The dole would be paid out of income taxes, and the income tax provides a mechanism for taking from the "haves" to give to the "have nots." A considerable number of persons have come to advocate using the income tax not merely to pay the expenses of government, but as a social device for leveling out inequalities of wealth. The number of these in congress would not, however, be formidable if they were not supplemented by those likely to support the dole next winter as a matter of politics and personal appeal for re-election. The net of it is the dole will be the subject of a formidable controversy.

Trousered Princesses Startle Irish Village

PORTAFERRY, Northern Ireland, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Residents of this town had the shock of their lives today when the two Spanish princesses, Beatrice and Marie Christine, landed from a yachting cruise.

Spanish princesses are a novelty in Portaferry, anyway, but what thoroughly upset the inhabitants was the fact that the royal ladies were wearing flannel yachting trousers.

The stares and whisperings of the townsfolk seemed greatly to embarrass the visitors and Princess Beatrice tried to evade notice by dodging behind her fiance, Don Alvaro Antonio D'Orleans.

CRAZED MAN CAPTURED AFTER REIGN OF TERROR

Philadelphian Shot After Wounding Policeman and Dry Agent.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A man amuck who had terrorized an entire neighborhood was shot, seriously wounded, and captured today, after he had barricaded himself in his home and fought off police for an hour.

A policeman, John Lewis, was shot in the head and may die.

Albert Stucker, a Newark (N. J.) prohibition agent, who was passing, was slightly wounded in the exchange of shots.

Tony Stanno, the cause of the trouble, was shot down when a policeman, William Wilson, went into the Stanno home after Stanno had held off more than 75 policemen for an hour.

All windows of the Stanno place were shattered by gunfire before Stanno was brought out on a stretcher.

Stanno's wife and five children, who had huddled themselves in the kitchen of the five-room dwelling as Stanno ran from window to window, firing from a double-barreled shotgun, were taken to a hospital where the wounded man also was sent, to be treated for shock.

Stanno, police said, started on his rampage when he became enraged after calling at the home of Anthony Cilea, two blocks away, and demanded to know why Cilea's son had discharged him from his farm near Hammonton, N. J.

REORGANIZATION DEBATE LAUNCHED IN STATE SENATE

for the previous question, which would bring the abolition bill to a vote, was pending when the house adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

It previously had passed a bill to give prisoners who are sentenced to the chain gang credit for the time spent in jail and tabled the school code bill. Debate on the latter measure developed the fact that it would have increased the salary of the state superintendent to $5,000 and placed his election in the hands of the board created by the measure.

The first effort to revive legalized horse racing in the state for several years came with the introduction of a bill by Representative Fred Jones, of Lumpkin, which would authorize racing meets not to exceed a total of 100 days in each year. A state racing commission to be named by the governor would be created. Licenses to be issued would bring in revenue of $2,500 a day, Jones said.

Storage Plant Measure.

The house sent to the senate, for approval, the bill of the Fulton-DeKalb delegations approving, with reservations, the contract between the Western & Atlantic railroad commission and the Dixie Terminal building for the erection of a 9-story cold storage plant on the old Union depot site by August 1, 1932, at a cost of $1,000,000 and calling for an additional six stories, to cost $500,000, by August 1, 1936.

An amendment to the house bill, offered by Representative Davis, of Mitchell, provides that nothing in the contract shall annul or impede the right of the state to lease or re-lease, upon termination of the present lease of the N., C. & St. L. railway, the property and subjecting to the contract the existing rights of the lessee of the depot site.

The house ways and means committee, at an afternoon session, approved a committee substitute to the motor carrier tax measure which clarifies the law passed at the 1931 special session. It also approved a graduated peddler's tax.

14 REBELS SLAIN IN CUBAN BATTLE

Bodies Have Not Arrived.

A dispatch from Pinar Del Rio to El Pais said the body of General Francisco Peraza, announced by the government to have been killed but whose death is denied by his family here, and the bodies of other rebels reported slain had not yet reached Los Palaciones, a short distance from the scene of last night's battle. The dispatch did not mention Major Celestino Baizan, former Havana governor, whose death at Artemisa last night, with eight of his men, was announced by army headquarters.

Spasmodic firing continued there during the morning, the dispatch said.

Secretary of the Interior Octavo Zubizarretta, regarded as official spokesman for the administration, told representatives of the foreign press this afternoon that the "government contemplates with serenity the evnts which are taking place in Cuba."

Army, Navy Sufficient.

"It has rejected," he said, "the various offers to organize militia against the rebels, since the national army and the navy are enough to re-establish quickly order in all the republic.

"The last encounters with the insurgents, in which they have been badly beaten, assures for the government a swift and satisfactory solution of the conflict."

Army headquarters late this evening had no movement of troops to report, although a dispatch from Santa Isabel De Las Tajas, Santa Clara, reported soldiers engaged with 300 rebels just outside. At Sierra Morena, nearby, where yesterday all communications were cut, repairmen replaced the lines, only to have them broken again.

CUBAN REVEALS MEETINGS HELD IN UNITED STATES

At Philadelphia today the Evening Public Ledger said it was informed by Prudencio F. Trueba, Cuban architect arrested at Atlantic City last week for overstaying his leave in the country, that revolutionary juntas have been holding meetings in the United States, planning the overthrow of the Cuban government.

Trueba was quoted as saying these juntas are in constant touch with the oppositionists in Cuba, headed by Colonel Carlos Mendieta, leader of the nationalist party.

He intimated, the paper said, that hundreds of revolutionists have been mobilized secretly throughout this country and are awaiting instructions.

Arrangements were made at Washington for the navy to evacuate some 300 unemployed Porto Rican and Virgin Island workers from Santiago De Cuba.

Acting Secretary of State Castle said the decision was made after the American consulate at Santiago advised that these men had no prospective employment. He said the evacuation was not connected with the revolutionary movement, remarking that Santiago was a quiet area and that the decision was made before the revolutionists became active.

The American embassy at Havana reported without comment on the latest developments in the Cuban situation. Acting Secretary Castle said Ambassador Guggenheim probably felt the situation to be well in hand.

mail and passenger line from Atlanta to Los Angeles; a mail and passenger route to Cincinnati; a mail line to Chicago, and a mail line to New Orleans. Passenger service on the latter route will be inaugurated within a few weeks. Announcement of the company's new project at Candler field was made through C. R. Smith, vice president and general manager of the southern division, with headquarters at Dallas. Work on the improvement is expected to be under way within 30 days, it was said, under the direction of an Aviation Corporation engineer.

Principal credit for the successful culmination of the administration building project should go to the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has labored for months for the airport improvement and which made the work its major project for the year. Members of that organization's aviation committee were present at the county board meeting Wednesday afternoon, as well as at the meeting a year ago, when the proposal was first offered to the board by Councilman Berman.

With the completion of an adequate administration building Atlanta will be in step with the times and will be able to offer to the visiting public and to the government agencies which serve the field service and conveniences not now afforded at the airport.

Atlanta aviation leaders, operators at the airport and, especially, heads of the aviation-serving aviation branches were highly pleased at the Fulton board's favorable action. The county's appropriation will mean that the department of commerce will continue to maintain its southern headquarters here and that the field post-office and weather bureau will have additional space, sorely needed. The department of commerce, expanding rapidly, and forced to confine its growing activities to a single, small office, had been considering an offer made by Birmingham to move the headquarters into the handsome administration building recently completed at that city's new $1,000,000 airport.

Atlanta's new building, location and type as yet not definitely determined, will contain a large waiting and reception room for airport visitors and transport passengers; a first-class restaurant and other similar conveniences, and offices for J. H. Gray, manager of the airport, and the various governmental agencies. A place also probably will be provided where visitors may view the activities of the airport removed from dust and grime.

"Couple of Beers" Lead Man to Nap on Track

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Just how it happened he didn't know, but three subway trains passed over John Hussey today and he wasn't even scratched.

It might have gone on indefinitely if Hussey, who is 38 and lives in Jamaica, hadn't roused himself in time to look up and see the last of the three trains scream to a halt.

He clambered out from between the tracks and demanded to know where he was. Before taking a taxicab for home he admitted, police said, he had had "a couple of beers."

2 PRISONERS STABBED IN CELL-BLOCK FIGHT

Former Rival Gangsters in Pennsylvania Pen Are Wounded in Attack.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—(UP) Two men are reported near death in the Eastern State penitentiary hospital after a violent outbreak of gang warfare inside the prison walls Sunday night, it was learned today.

A gang of five prisoners, led by "Blackie" Zupkosky, who is serving a 70-year term for more than 100 robberies and shootings, attacked and stabbed two men who had been rival gangsters outside the prison and who had recently been sentenced to the institution.

The victims in the fight are Charles (Chick) Rothman and Lewis (Fat) Barish. Barish is serving life for his part in the murder and robbery at the Belmont Trust Company several months ago.

Rothman was stabbed six times in the chest and stomach and is reported to be dying. Barish, stabbed twice, is in a critical condition.

The fight started while Rothman and Barish were talking together outside cell block No. 10 during an exercise period. Suddenly Zupkosky and his gang rushed upon the two men, jerking cell-made knives from their pockets. They concentrated their attack on Rothman, who slumped to the concrete floor. They were still wielding their knives when John Brach, a prison guard, drove the five attackers to the wall with a pistol.

Additional guards herded the five men into a cell while Rothman and Barish were carried to the prison hospital.

Warden Herbert Smith has placed the attackers in "solitary." None of them will discuss the affair, he said. He believes it is linked with the recent slaying of a New Jersey gangster named Levine, said to have been a member of Zupkosky's gang.

THREE CONVICTS FLEE GANG AT BLAKELY

BLAKELY, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Overpowering a guard, three convicts escaped from the chain gang camp here tonight and were reported to have headed toward Macon and Atlanta in a stolen automobile.

Gaining the down-town section of Blakely before the pursuit was organized, they held up an Eastman (Ga.) man and took his automobile. Shortly afterward a negro reported three men had robbed him of his clothing.

Those who escaped were Fred Proper, 19; Durant Shaddix, 16, and John Freeman, 27. The latter was clothed in stripes and authorities said the negro had been robbed to provide him with civilian clothing. All the escapes are white.

Shriners To Plan For Big Meeting Here in November

Richard N. Fickett Jr., potentate of the Yaarab temple, has called a meeting for 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday night at the Shrine mosque to discuss plans for the meeting of the Southeastern Shrine Association, which is to be held here November 19 and 20.

The meeting here is the first of the southeastern organization, which was formed at the recent meeting of the imperial council of the Shrine at Cleveland. Officers are to be elected and other important business will be taken up.

Representatives from Shrine temples all over the southeastern section are expected to be present at the November meeting here. The meeting called by Mr. Fickett for next Tuesday night is the first of a series to be held by local Shriners in their planning of the November gathering.

Snake Puts Out Lights In Part of Two States

CARBONDALE, Ill., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A snake threw parts of two states into darkness for a time Monday night, linesmen for the Central Illinois Public Service Company reported today.

They said the snake crawled to the top of a 55-foot electric light pole and stretched itself across two high tension wires, causing a short circuit that put out electric lights in a part of southern Illinois near Mounds and a section of western Kentucky.

The linesmen brought the snake, which was electrocuted, here to support their story. The snake was described as a chicken or tree snake.

CIVIL SERVICE BILL IRKS COUNCILMEN

Alleged Lobbying of City Employes May Be Probed by Body.

Aroused because Atlanta city employes ignored council to lobby for a general civil service bill, several council members Wednesday were considering a councilmanic probe to fix responsibility with a view of disciplining those responsible.

Charging that a committee of from 15 to 20 employes are busy "at the legislature seeing the paper through and thus neglecting their jobs," Councilman Homer Foster, of the ninth ward, informed the fire board Wednesday afternoon that it seems they are intensely interested in the measure.

Foster's indictment was followed by a demand by Councilman Raymond Curtis, of the tenth, that names be furnished "so we can take the necessary steps to protect Atlantans," and by a statement by Alderman G. Everett Millican, acting mayor, that several "legislative bills saddle additional expense on the borough government when it is already practically bankrupt."

"That civil service measure means a lot of expense in itself," Millican told members of the board of firemasters. "It provided for a chairman of the commission at a salary of $5,000 a year and two assistants at a salary of $10 a day. In addition, a stenographer is to be employed at a salary of $1,800 a year. We should take cognizance of the measures which have been offered to the assembly without the knowledge of council.

"Besides the civil service bill, there is another measure establishing civil service specifically for the water department and placing the general manager of waterworks, who now is elected by the people, on civil service.

"Another paper provides for restricting curb markets, and still another, on which council has not yet acted, would force the borough clerk to run in a general borough election. I plan to offer to council all the papers thus far presented to the assembly on which council has not yet expressed itself."

Millican heads a special council liaison committee, charged with the responsibility of piloting through the assembly measures which have council's approval. He said as head of that committee he believes it incumbent on him to acquaint council with other bills not having the sanction of that body.

"I am studying the matter to see just what jurisdiction we have in the matter, and if I find council within the law, probably will ask a councilmanic probe to fix responsibility for overriding and ignoring the council in presentation of the civil service bill," Curtis said. "We should discipline those responsible."

Only routine matters occupied the attention of the board.

The Georgia house already has passed the general civil service bill providing that all employes, except the firemen and policemen, who already are under civil service laws, shall be placed in the new catalog and registered as civil service employes.

Members of a newly formed association of city hall employes indorsed the paper at a meeting Monday afternoon and called on members of the assembly to approve it.

Evans Chambers, of the construction department, is temporary president, and A. W. McLain, of the clerk's office, temporary secretary of the new association. A permanent organization is planned and a special committee is now framing a constitution and by-laws.

In Georgia's Legislative Halls

The house gave the privileges of the floor Wednesday to Dr. E. E. Murphey, president of the Augusta board of health; Dr. H. W. Shaw, member of the Richmond county board of health; C. D. McCutchen Jr., of Whitfield county; J. Ryan Johnson, postmaster of Augusta, and C. T. Grython and J. L. Sumner, former representatives.

The house committee on the School of the Deaf planned a trip for Saturday to the school at Cave Spring, the members to go as far as Rome by train and to be met there by cars, which will take them to the school.

A bill requiring uniform regulations for the attaching of license tags on automobiles passed the senate highway committee Thursday. The tags and fastening bolts are not to cost over five cents a pair.

The senate judiciary committee No. 2 passed a house bill providing that mortgages and deeds executed within or without the state may be attested just the same as deeds of sale.

The house judiciary committee No. 1 held what is probably the shortest committee meeting in this session of the legislature Wednesday night when it passed unanimously the mechanics' lien law bill.

The senate Wednesday passed a bill clarifying the act extending the term of the mayor of Atlanta from two to four years. The bill is designed to clear up a question raised when Mayor James L. Key took office, it having been contended that the act applied to Key's predecessor, I. N. Ragsdale.

The Atlanta ward reduction bill, cutting the number of wards from 13 to 6 with two councilmen and one alderman from each ward, Wednesday received the approval of the senate committee on municipal government, and probably will come up in the senate today for its second reading.

The house bill providing for election of the Atlanta city clerk by the people has been read for the first time in the senate, and is in the hands of the municipal government committee.

The senate committee on constitutional amendments will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon to hold a public hearing on a bill which would allow municipalities to issue bonds over their present limit on account of public utilities.

The first conference committee of the 1931 session was appointed Wednesday when the senate named Senators Alpha Fowler, of the 39th; W. H. Watson, of the 3rd, and J. O. Strickland, of the 1st, to confer with a house committee over house amendments to a senate bill regulating game bag limits.

The house bill on reapportionment of representatives of Georgia counties was received at the senate Wednesday and referred to the legislative reapportionment committee.

The senate bill increasing Atlanta's borrowing power from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 for any one calendar year was passed Wednesday by the senate.

Atlanta's firemen pension bill, providing for a sliding scale of pensions ranging from $20 a month for five years' service to $100 a month for 25 years' service, was approved Wednesday by the senate committee on municipal government. The bill has passed the house.

Dr. H. W. Shaw, of Augusta, trustee of the Georgia State hospital; L. S. Johnson, of Royston; A. L. Miller, of Calhoun county, ex-senator; Mrs. W. L. Denton, wife of the senator from the 38th, and O. B. Strong, of Savannah, Wednesday were guests of the senate.

The senate bill prohibiting unfair competition and discrimination between towns by laundries, dyeing establishments and similar firms Wednesday was withdrawn from the senate following an adverse committee report.

New Laws

Governor Russell Wednesday signed the following senate bill: No. 115, to repeal the act creating Atlanta's borough system.

House Bills

The following bills were introduced in the house Wednesday and referred to committees:

H. B. 617, by Elliott, of Henry, to allow the use of wire baskets in the waters of Henry county. Game and fish.

H. B. 618, by Preston, of Walton, to provide that the county school superintendent of Walton county may live in the county seat. Education.

H. B. 619, by Thompson, of Barrow, to provide that county school superintendent of Barrow county may live in the county seat. Education.

H. B. 620, by Preston and Almand, of Walton, to amend the act creating the board of commissioners of roads and revenue of Walton county. Counties and county matters.

H. B. 621, by Spivy and Williams, of Emanuel, to amend the act creating the city court of Swainsboro. Counties and county matters.

H. B. 622, by Musgrove, of Clinch, to require certain officers of Clinch county to make regular financial reports. Counties and county matters.

H. B. 623, by the Floyd county delegation, to provide that the county school superintendent of Floyd county shall not be required to live in that part of the county over which he has jurisdiction. Education.

H. B. 624, by Lewis, of Gordon, to amend the act creating the board of commissioners of roads and revenue of Gordon county. Counties and county matters.

H. B. 625, by Yawn, of Dodge, to abolish the office of tax receiver and tax collector of Dodge county and create the office of tax commissioner. Counties and county matters.

H. B. 626, by Oliver and Lance, of Hall, to amend the charter of the city of Belmont. Municipal government.

H. B. 627, by Howard, of Long, to amend the act establishing the city court of Ludowici. County and county matters.

H. B. 628, by the Bibb delegation, to authorize the city of Macon to buy or construct electric and gas power plants. Municipal government.

H. B. 629, by Jones, of Lumpkin, to create a racing commission for the state of Georgia. State of republic.

Senate Bills

S. B. 165, by Watson, 3d, to prevent abatement of causes of action ex delicto where the tort feasor dies before commencement of the suit. General judiciary No. 2.

S. B. 166, by Hand, 8th, to amend the Neill-Traylor highway act. Highways.

RESOLUTIONS.

S. R. 55, by Evans, 19th, and Weekes, 34th, to appoint a committee to investigate charges by Senator Roy Harris that a highway employe had boasted that eight senators' votes had been bought with promises of road paving. Tabled.

S. R. 56, by Hand, 8th, voicing opposition to sale by the federal farm board of cotton to Germany. Adopted.

PEACE OFFER MADE BY COAL OPERATORS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Kanawha Coal Operators' Association, through its secretary, has informed the West Virginia mine workers that members of the association are willing to "go beyond their actual needs for labor and to employ all the men that it is practical for them to use" and if any of the men "now idle at your call apply for employment their applications will be considered on their merits."

3 YOUTHS SENTENCED TO DIE FOR MURDER

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three Nashville youths today were under sentence to die in the electric chair after being convicted late yesterday of shooting down a policeman who tried to balk them in a grocery store holdup here May 9.

Leader of the trio was Horace Woodruff, 26, heavy-faced ex-convict whose confession of how he shot Patrolman Michael Mulvihill so they could escape with the store's receipts was made a part of the court records. Attorney-General Richard M. Atkinson painted him to the jury as the leader of a gang that had seven other holdups in its records.

The other two were Marion Cox, 22, and Morton Smith, 19. They admitted participation in the robbery, but asked for clemency on the ground of Woodruff's confession that he was the one who killed Mulvihill.

Motion for a new trial will be ruled upon later by Judge Chester K. Hart, who heard their trial.

THIRD MAN SOUGHT IN TORCH MURDERS

Police Seek Companion of Youthful Couples Found Dead in Burning Auto.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 12.—(AP)—New clues in the torch murder of two young couples, whose automobile was their funeral pyre, sent officers on fresh trails today, but nightfall found them without a solution.

Two suspects were held, but each new clue apparently pointed in other directions. The most important developments of the day were the finding of a purse, identified as the property of Vivian Gold, 15, one of the slain girls, and the discovery of a witness who saw the four young people in the company of a third man about two hours before their bodies were found in a burning automobile.

An intensive search was begun for the fifth member of the party, described by a waiter in a Milan (Mich.) restaurant as about 30 years old and wearing a soiled brown cap and a sweater. The waiter, Norman England, said the man was with Miss Gold, Anna May Harrison, 16; Thomas Wheatley, 17, and Harry Lore, 16, the other victims, between 2 and 3 a. m. Tuesday.

Several suspects were brought in during the day, but only the two brothers, Paul and Lawrence Keene, laborers, who were arrested last night, continued to be held.

The evidence regarding a fifth man and the fact that Miss Gold's purse was found nine miles from the place where the bodies were discovered was regarded by officers as favorable to the Keenes, who have no automobile.

$3,000,000 PRIEST HOME PLANNED IN MEXICO

BATON, N. M., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Plans for a $3,000,000 national Catholic hospital and sanatorium for aged, sick and infirm priests were announced here today at a citizens' meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

EFFORT TO BEAT RATE HIKE FAILS

Midwesterners' Motion Laid Aside by I. C. C. at Hearings.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Efforts to bring immediate defeat to the railroads in their move for a general 15 per cent increase in freight rates failed today before the interstate commerce commission.

A motion supported by six middle western state regulatory commissions asserting the carriers had failed to make a case justifying the proposed advance in charges was laid aside by the federal group for consideration later.

At the same time, it was indicated the present hearings, designed to obtain the evidence of eastern opponents of the increase might end much sooner than had been expected.

The western motion, filed on behalf of the railroad commissions of North and South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota and Nebraska, challenged the authority of the federal group to grant the increase. It asserted a financial emergency alone was not a sufficient basis for its approval.

The carriers countered today with a statement that they had established a case as complete as that of 1920 on which they were granted an increase and said the advance in charges approved then has since been "referred to with apparent approval" by the supreme court.

Several witnesses said businesses they represented were losing money and faced heavier losses if freight rates go higher. Jones said some firms in his territory were planning to discontinue use of coal for power and use hydroelectric power if they have to pay more for transporting their fuel.

HOOVER'S COUSIN WEDS W. G. HARBIT

WEST BRANCH, Iowa, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Miss Edyth Marie Harvey, a second cousin of President Hoover, was married here Sunday afternoon to William Glenn Harbit, of Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Rev. Guy Harvey, father of the bride and the president's cousin, performed the ceremony at the Friends' church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harbit were graduated from the West Branch High school.

President and Mrs. Hoover sent the bridal couple a wedding bouquet of white roses picked in the White House conservatory.

Of course you can tell the difference • they're FRESH!

What a world of difference there is between the mild, cool fragrance of Camels in the Humidor Pack and the unkindly hot smoke of an ordinary cigarette!

Your own throat will bear grateful witness to this.

If you have the slightest doubt about it, or about the importance of perfectly conditioned tobaccos in true smoking pleasure, just make this simple test:

First, inhale the smooth cool smoke of a factory-fresh Camel and note how throat-friendly it is; next, inhale the hot smoke of a parched dry cigarette and feel that scratch-and-sting on the membrane.

All the rare flavor and aroma of the fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos of which Camels are blended is kept intact and prime for you by the Humidor Pack.

This scientific germ-safe wrapping—not plain ordinary Cellophane, but moisture-proof Cellophane which costs nearly twice as much—seals in all the natural freshness, seals it so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

Try Camels, just to see what a happy difference freshness makes in a cigarette.

Do your throat a favor, try them for just one day; then quit them—if you can.

● Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack not only keeps your cigarettes safe from your wet bathing suit but also keeps the sand and dust out as well

BRITAIN SEEKING TO CUT EXPENSES

Cabinet Members Meet With MacDonald in Effort To Reduce Deficit.

BY VICTOR EUBANK.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Great Britain's "battle of the budget" was carried on today at No. 10 Downing Street, where Prime Minister MacDonald and members of the cabinet subcommittee on economy held a three-hour session for the purpose of finding ways and means of meeting the apparent deficit by cutting off some 120,000,000 pounds (about $600,000,000) from next year's expenditures.

It was understood no definite decisions were reached, but various phases of the May economy report were discussed and suggestions were offered which, it was hoped, might bring a happy ending to what is referred to as "the present grave situation."

The cabinet's "big five" was said to be generally agreed on the necessity of adjusting national finances in such a way as to cause the fewest possible number of persons to suffer and to insure economic stability.

The session will be resumed tomorrow morning, when reports from various government departments will be scanned for spots that can be operated on without the use of anaesthetics.

EASTERNERS ACQUIRE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Two New England newspapermen, Frank Knox, president of the Manchester (N. H.) Union Leader Publishing Company, and Theodore T. Ellis, former publisher of the Worcester (Mass.) Telegram-Gazette, today purchased the controlling interest in the Chicago Daily News.

Executors of the estate of Walter A. Strong, publisher of The News, who died May 10, announced the sale. The price was not revealed. Knox became publisher of the large afternoon daily and president of the Chicago Daily News, Inc. Ellis assumed the office of vice president.

Rufus C. Dawes and Joseph E. Otis, chairman of the Dawes-controlled Central Republic Bank and Trust Company, were named as new members of the board of directors.

Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to London, cabled from Paris: "I have known Colonel Knox personally for many years. In my judgment a better man could not have been found to carry on and develop the high ideals of editorial integrity and public service by Victor F. Lawson and Walter A. Strong."

Originated in 1876.

The first regular number of the Chicago Daily News was issued January 2, 1876. It was owned by Melville E. Stone, for many years general manager of the Associated Press; Percy R. Meggy and William E. Dougherty. Victor F. Lawson bought a controlling interest in July, 1876, and published the paper until his death, August 19, 1925. Strong then became publisher.

The paper moved into its large new building, constructed over Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks at Madison street and the Chicago river, June 8, 1929. Two months later it acquired the Chicago Daily Journal. The News is published six afternoons a week. Daily average circulation for July was advertised as 400,136.

Knox, the new publisher, was born in Boston, where he started his career in journalism, which has been interrupted only by his service in two wars. He served in the Spanish-American War with Roosevelt's troop of rough riders, and in the World War he enlisted as a private and was commissioned a lieutenant colonel before the armistice was signed.

Republican Leader.

In 1912 he went to Manchester, N. H., to become publisher of the Leader, which was later merged with the Union. In 1927 he became general manager of all the Hearst newspaper properties. He resigned the latter position last January 1. He has been prominent in the republican party for many years.

Ellis was born in St. Louis. He went to Worcester in 1900 as foreman of the Telegram. In 1907 he was given his choice of keeping his job or working on his invention, a fibre press blanket process.

Ellis decided to give up the job and in 1919 he had made enough money out of the invention to enable him to pay $1,000,000 for the Worcester Telegram. He later bought the Gazette, but in 1925 he disposed of both properties on the advice of his physician.

RUSSELL PRAISED BY JUNIOR ORDER

Resolutions commending the governor for his stand on the sale of schoolbooks to pupils in the public schools and for the uniformity of the books were passed Wednesday by the Junior Order of United American Mechanics at the closing session of the Georgia order's annual convention at the Ansley hotel.

Another resolution passed by the convention assured the national organization that the Georgia order would pass its quota in the 45,000 fall membership campaign.

Dr. Charles E. Brewer, national counselor of the organization, was the chief speaker on the closing day's convention program.

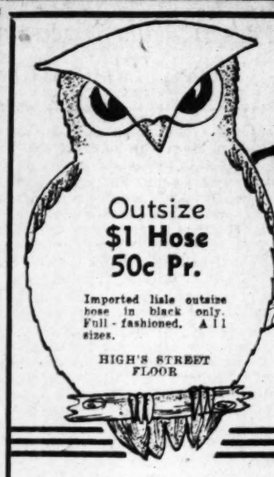

$250,000 IS ALLOTTED FOR QUACHITA RIVER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Allotment of $250,000 for operation and care of locks and dams on the Quachita river, Arkansas-Louisiana, was made today by the war department.

Other allotments included: $162,500 for operation of locks and dams on the Cumberland river, Tennessee and Kentucky; $50,000 for operation of locks and dams on the Upper White river, Arkansas; $19,000 for operation of locks and dams, including Tug and Levisa forks, Big Sandy river, Kentucky, and $7,000 for the operation and care of locks and dams on the Big Sunflower river, Mississippi.

THREE NEGROES KILLED IN JOYRIDE CRASH

Three negroes were killed and three others were injured early Wednesday morning when the car in which they were said to have been traveling more than 80 miles an hour crashed into a vacant house at 814 Pryor street, S. E. The dead were identified as Willie James, Homer Watkins and Annie McCain. The injured gave their names as James Diamond, Annie Lou Scott and Mae Lewis. The front porch of the residence was virtually torn away and the car was badly damaged.

ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 13, 1931.

NOW LEAVE THE BOARD ALONE.

The state senate on Tuesday dealt the coup de grace to the proposed diversion of highway funds to the payment of the state's defaulted appropriations. So that agitation is settled for the next two years.

There were honest differences of opinion as to the wisdom and expediency of such a diversion. Persuasive arguments both ways were possible and strongly presented, but the proposal was rejected by a three to two decisive vote.

Now that the policy "as is" remains uninvaded the right course is to keep hands off the work of the highway board and let it go forward in its present activities to forward the construction of the hard road system as rapidly and efficiently as possible. If so unobstructed the promise is that within the next two years we will have hard paved trunk roads traversing the state north to south and east to west. They are the first and most important possessions that the people want and will confer the largest benefits upon the economic conditions of the state.

The chairman of the board, Captain Barnett, is an able engineer, experienced road builder and devoted promoter of the people's welfare. It is hard to think of a more capable man for the state for that office. He has the confidence of the people who give no heed to the popgunning of him by those who are not able to browbeat and boss his official conduct. His colleagues on the board are of the same mettle as himself and will stand with him in maintaining the present organized and expeditious policies of the department.

Talk of expanding and reorganizing the board should be promptly hushed. The board is large enough now for quick and concordant action, since we have not adopted the plan of Virginia and other states that have but one highway commissioner with plenary power to do the job assigned to him.

The general assembly having allocated the funds to be used by the board in its construction, should now support the board without further cavils and contraventions. Left to pursue the right courses as the public road service may demand from time to time, the present able and efficient board will have "Georgia out of the mud" in the earliest time practicable.

NO EXTRA CONGRESSING.

Some of the restless spirits among republican and democratic congressmen are repeating their appeals to the president for an extra session of the congress.

Mr. Hoover may not be a combination of the "seven wise men of Greece," but like Mark Twain's mining camp cat that was blown up in a blast, he shys at any possible second experience. He has had one extra session that proved to be one too many. He will not afflict himself and the country with another. In that he shows gratifying wisdom and belated consideration for the people.

Anyhow, the congress had its full chance last winter to show what it could do to better the failing economic interests of the nation. It did nothing, however, but deplete the treasury, produce extravagant so-called relief appropriations, create the largest fiscal deficit the country has ever known, and left the people to descend into deeper depression than ever before.

An extra session of congress now would be regarded by the people of every shade of opinion, except that of "wild and woolly" insurgency, as a calamity ranking above drouth, bank failures, foreclosed foreign markets and the grasshopper invasion.

It is the common conviction that the country must stagger through its present troubles and depend upon the normal laws of demand and supply to readjust the balance between production and consumption. Only a fevered imagination could suggest what benefit a congress session would be to the restoration of our economic equilibrium.

BETTER TRAFFIC CONTROL.

Police records show that approximately 500 cases have been made during the past ten days against violators of the traffic ordinances by the members of the traffic squad who were recently put to work in plain clothes with strict instructions to make cases for all offenses coming under their observation.

This record number of cases and the sharp decrease in accidents show what can be accomplished when enforcement efforts are gone about in an efficient and systematic manner.

Every law-abiding automobilist should co-operate to the fullest in this drive of the police to bring about better conditions of safety on our streets. Especially should they not do anything to interfere with the officers in the strict performance of their duties.

Many violations are unintentional or as the result of ignorance of the law, but that does not make them any the less dangerous to law-abiding users of the streets.

Whether intentionally or not a violation is a violation, and the traffic officers should make cases for all infractions of the law. They violate their sworn duty if they do not.

Lieutenant Malcom, under whose efficient direction the drive of the last ten days has been conducted, has called special attention to the frequent violation of the ordinance requiring automobiles to come to a full stop before turning to the right into a traffic boulevard.

He is correct in his position that pleas of ignorance of this regulation—or any other—does not relieve his men of the responsibility to give copies of charges to drivers who violate it.

Only by active and efficient performance of their duties can our traffic squad bring to an end the flouting of the city's traffic regulations.

SILVERY ON THE EDGES.

The department of labor at Washington presents survey figures showing a decrease of 6 1-2 per cent in the costs of living since January 1 of this year. It also presents the following heartening facts:

During the six months of 1931, it was said, food prices dropped 13.8 per cent, house furnishings 6 per cent, fuel and light 5.5 per cent, clothing 4.6 per cent, and rents 3.1 per cent. Articles in the miscellaneous group dropped only 0.7 per cent.

Tracing prices back to the high peak of June, 1920, the report calculated clothing could be purchased 49.2 per cent cheaper now than then.

The next largest drop was shown in food prices with a reduction of 46 per cent, followed by house furnishings at 39.5 per cent.

These facts are welcome ones to the great mass of consumers. In some way or other all the people, whether rich or poor, must have a measure of those enumerated necessaries of daily life. That they can be had now in larger quantities than before shows something of a silver lining on the edges of the clouds of economic depression.

It is quite likely that the favorable commodity declines will continue until overproduction is largely overtaken, until employment becomes nearer to the normal of "good times," and the people feel themselves once more on "easy street" in the national life.

This significant and helpful fall in the cost of living should show itself in the wisdom of those who have wages and savings stocking up their pantries, clothes closets and fuel bins while the price lists are on a favorable level. A quick revival of the general business of the nation will surely be first reflected in a rise of the prices of daily necessaries.

President Hoover is reported as saying the unemployed will be taken care of next winter, but the unemployed would like some advance relief right now.

Our aviators are giving the world people crooked necks and cockeyes watching for them to drop down anywhere at any time.

Henry Ford says getting more money does not interest him much—only he just keeps on getting it.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Edward P. Golfer.

Golfers in France and England can talk of nothing but the wonderful stroke by which the Prince of Wales holed in one on the Royal Wimbledon course recently. Few golfers have accomplished such a feat; very few at so long a hole. Groups of people are visiting the course to see the sixth hole, where the feat was accomplished and caddies are doing good business.

It is customary for golfers who hole in one to stand drinks all round at the club bar. The prince was lucky again, for the only people in the bar besides the prince after the wonder stroke were Lord Adnam and the Hon. Piers Legh, with whom his royal highness had been playing.

It is a tricky hole, writes a golfing correspondent, and calls for a very accurate shot to reach the green. The hole is an "open" one, and therefore, there is no possibility of any passing caddy having played a trick. Two hundred and forty yards long, it is bounded on the one side by gorse bushes, while on the other is rough, undulating ground. At the far end of the green, the entrance to which is a narrow opening 15 yards across, are two shallow bunkers. The bogey for the hole is four.

The prince's caddy told that the prince played the shot with extreme care. His stance was light and well balanced. After a preliminary swing with his driver he played the shot, a perfect one. "At first we thought his royal highness had overdriven the green," said the caddy, "but he just did it. The ball was right in the hole." On reaching the green and seeing the result of his magnificent drive the first thing the prince did was to say: "Has this hole ever been done in one before?"

The prince's achievement did not affect his later play, for he did the seventh in two, and his card for the first nine holes showed the remarkably fine score of 39. The prince has been playing magnificent golf lately. His putting is accurate and has improved tremendously, while his driving and iron shots are strong and straight.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

HAVE YOU A LITTLE PEPTIC ULCER IN YOUR FAMILY.

In a talk about diet and peptic ulcer the other day I explained why I do not peddle, sell or give away diet lists for this or any other disease. It costs, say, three or four cents a copy to get out such printed stuff, and even if I can wangle a nickel per copy out of our gullible readers for the merchandise, there's no fun in it, because all the time I feel pretty darn certain that the information is not worth the hard bitten knuckle, after all. I mean that. No fooling. I don't think any diet list that was ever printed is worth two cents of any patient's money.

However, this is a funny world. It isn't what I think. It is what our readers think they want.

Now for well folk, a diet list may be well worth a dime. For well folk who are condemned to live with an invalid who is off his feed, a diet list is sometimes priceless. I have one for 'em, and it is priceless—that is, I am happy to send it to any reader who asks for it and incloses with his request a stamped envelope bearing his address. It is a "Menu for People Who Have To Live With a Peptic Ulcer Patient," and it is complete for three meals a day for a full week, with two, three or four items in each meal marked with a little star which indicates that the patient may share such items.

On the reverse side of this printed menu I have included, at no extra charge, but purely out of the goodness of my heart, no bolony, but a complete menu of six meals a day for the first weeks' treatment of an ambulatory case of peptic ulcer. There it is, take it or leave it.

For people who have a vague hyperacidity or hyperchlorhydria, heartburn and other digestive symptoms but no clear diagnosis of ulcer, I am glad to furnish a mere suggestive list of foods to avoid and foods to eat, on receipt of the correspondent's request together with a stamped envelope bearing his address. The request must be his own, not a clipping of this item.

Finally—here comes the catch in all this. I have a little booklet called "Guide to Right Eating" which contains at least a dollar's worth of information and advice about food and how to handle it, digest it, select it, combine it, avoid it, resist it or metabolize it. And now the sad news—I'm getting old and so I've got to begin accumulating an old age pension. Accordingly I must charge a dime for this "Guide to Right Eating," a dime and a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Clean Republicanism In Georgia Dependent On New Law, Says Cole

Editor Constitution: As a republican, permit me to heartily commend your today's editorial, "Clean Republicanism."

Under present state laws there is no way to reorganize republican party machinery in Georgia. For this reason the legislature should, in the interest of decency and to prevent future bloodshed, pass the bill as approved by President Cecil Neill.

I have attended these so-called republican (negro) conventions and with registration list in hand sought to prevent unregistered negroes from participating. The negro participants of these conventions give no heed or attention to Georgia registration laws.

For instance, the Cobb county republican convention was called last year, organized and presided over by a non-registered citizen of Fulton county. His oath, swearing that he was not a citizen of Cobb county, but a citizen of Fulton county, was read before this convention, but they elected him a delegate to the state convention, where he was made chairman of the credentials committee of the Ben Davis (negro) faction.

If the legislature does not enact a law supplemental to the present registration law you will see that resort will be found in violence to enforce the requirements of said registration laws.

Thanking you for the manifest fairness of your editorial, I am,

DEWITT C. COLE.

MRS. TUNNEY'S DOCTOR DENIES 'STORK' REPORT

DAMARISCOTTA, Maine, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Josephine Lauder Tunney, wife of Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the world, today was in a local hospital for treatment of a joint injury.

Dr. W. H. Parson, attending her, denied a report carried yesterday by the Associated Press that the former Polly Lauder was an expectant mother.

Mrs. Tunney has been a patient at the hospital for more than a week but hospital authorities have denied she was there.

The injury was received when she slipped on a motorboat landing recently.

The Conning Tower
BY F. P. A.

SONG.

For the Week-End Army.

Sing, ho, for the Saturday traffic,
And, hey, for the frank and the bun;
For motor maids far from seraphic—
Sing, hey, for it constitutes fun.

It's fun, lads, to play with a blow-out
And bump over dusty detours;
It's great, boys, to pack up and go out
'Midst the birds and the trees and the flowers.

Then dust off the grime of your cities;
Accumulate sunburn and tan.
Sing, la, for pajamas and pretties,
And, bah, for the primeval man!

Yes, Monday will come. You can get back
And camp by the telephone's brink.
The week-end is only a setback—
Let dishes pile up in the sink!

Those who are ballyhooing Chicago's 1933 fair say that they expect it will break all records. There is one record, however, that it will not break, and that is the attendance record of Philadelphia's Sesquicentennial. More people stayed away from that than from any exposition ever held.

And it may cheer Miss Ethel Barrymore to realize that everybody will always remember that it was Miss Barrymore of whom the Denver critics said that she gave the worst performance of her career; and that nobody remembers even now the name of one of the Denver critics who said it.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 12.—If anyone had told us when talkies began that "Street Scene" could be made into a successful screen venture we would have laughed them down.

Yet this picture, previewed for the professional group, has made the most significant impression of any talkie released in some time. It violates a good many of the tried and true notions of talking pictures. It vindicates good dialogue and proves conclusively that those stretches in talkies which heretofore have been considered "danger points" are so because of inability on the part of the players, or bad lines.

"Street Scene" is the most perfectly rhythmed picture to come out of Hollywood. No flaw marks its perfect flow—its characterizations are magnificent, its dialogue as fine as dialogue may be—yet the audience never loses itself in these things. The irrevocable march of the story dominates everything.

King Vidor has kept to the spirit of the stage play in that the camera never goes beyond the street itself. The story is told as in the play—from the outside of that tenement lodging. This is the most direct departure from established form Vidor ever practiced. It took a great artist to achieve it in celluloid; but its results are infinitely more dramatic than the same story made with conventional picture treatment.

Heretofore such attempts as this have come under the baleful title, "photographed stage plays," and have met with the most caustic criticism from picture makers. But "Street Scene" proves that given correct timing, good dialogue and perfectly cast players, half truths are more powerful than whole truths and indirection in the hands of artists the most telling weapon in dramatic warfare.

Despite the fact that Sylvia Sidney plays the role of the young girl beautifully, and Buster Collier is remarkable in the part of the young Jewish boy, and that Estelle Taylor has given one of the most convincing and tragic portrayals of her career as Mrs. Marraunt, the acting honors go to Beulah Bondi, "the woman with the dog."

Wampus beauties, just named, are back with us again. They are Joan Blondell, Constance Cummings, Frances Dade, Sidney Fox, Frances Dee, Rochelle Hudson, Anita Louise, Joan Marsh, Marian Marsh, Karen Morley, Marion Shilling, Barbara Weeks and Judith Wood.

Farm Board To Hold Cotton If Dixie Destroys Third of Crop

Local Trade Leaders Term Plan "Bunk," Declaring It Hopelessly Impractical.

more to help the price of cotton and impove general conditions than anything else."

In the absence of the telegram from Chairman Stone, which Washington dispatches said had been sent Wednesday, Governor Russell was unwilling to comment on the proposal. Until he has received full information from the farm board, together with information as to the size of Georgia's crop, he said he was unwilling to discuss the practicability of the farm board proposal.

Opposition to the sale of cotton held by the farm board to Germany or any place else was voted in the state senate Tuesday. A resolution introduced by Senator Fred Hand, of the 8th district, declared that such a sale would tend to further demoralize and lower the present market.

FARM BOARD'S PROPOSAL DERIDED BY MARTIN AMOROUS

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 12.—Martin Amorous, one of the greatest authorities in the south on cotton production and marketing, today branded the proposal of the federal farm board for destruction of one-third of the 1931 crop as a "damn fool proposition."

Mr. Amorous pointed out that nearly all cotton producers already have their cotton placed as security for loans and therefore could not, even if they wished, destroyed it.

"The entire idea," said Mr. Amorous, "is a mistake. It is misleading and an outrage to our cotton farmers. When the farm board declares that destruction of part of the crop would enhance the price of the balance they are wrong. It would have little, if any, effect on the price paid the consumer. Cotton merchants might benefit to some extent, but the farmer would simply lose the cotton he destroyed."

Mr. Amorous declared also that the proposal for the government to sell cotton to Germany on credit was not feasable as a means of increasing the market price here.

"Prices are fixed on the supply," he said, "and that supply is the same whether the cotton is in Germany or whether it is in Georgia. In 1920 the War Finance Corporation guaranteed payment for 100,000 bales sold to Czecho-Slovakia. It had the backing of the government and all the banks in Prague. The cotton sent there ultimately gave the merchants who shipped it a profit of 52 cents a pound, but the farmers who raised it got only 10 cents a pound—less than the cost of production."

NEW RELIEF PROPOSAL OFFERED BY CAROLINAN

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 12.—(AP) A proposal that the farm board purchase surplus cotton of farmers to be resold to them a year later at the purchase price plus a reasonable interest, storage and insurance, provided they signed legally enforceable contracts to plant no cotton on land owned or controlled by them, was advanced today by Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, ranking democratic member of the senate agriculture committee.

Senator Smith said the plan had been put to the farm board last year but it was not adopted. "The conditions now are more urgent for such a plan than they were a year ago," he said.

The contract, Senator Smith added, would not permit the producer or land owner to have allocated to him by the board any more cotton than he actually produced.

BILBO'S RECOMMENDATION DRAWS PROPOSAL BY MURRAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Recommendations of Governor Bilbo, of Mississippi, that cotton-producing states harvest only two out of each three rows were received today by Governor Murray, who then suggested that "bollies" not be ginned.

"Governor Bilbo's suggestion would do the work," Murray said, "but the trouble is getting farmers to do it.

"If all states had a ginning law similar to that in Oklahoma, the price of ginning 'bollies' could be increased to a prohibitive point and only high quality cotton would reach the market."

He urged that farmers use cotton bagging and as much other cotton material as possible.

PLAN OFFERED BY BILBO HELD "ABSURD" BY TRADER

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Everett Cook, president of the Memphis Cotton Exchange, today termed "foolish" the suggestion of Governor Bilbo, of Mississippi, that a third of the 1931 cotton crop be left unpicked in the fields.

"The opinion of the trade here is that the farmer should raise as much cotton as he can economically and not try to reduce the crop by leaving it unpicked," he said.

"If Governor Bilbo could convince the Mississippi growers to follow his scheme the rest of the cotton growers in the country would break their necks picking cotton at the expense of Mississippi."

NORTH CAROLINA HEAD PLEDGES CO-OPERATION

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 12.—(UP) The state of North Carolina will do everything possible to co-operate with the federal farm board in its efforts to save the price of cotton, Governor O. Max Gardner said tonight over long distance telephone from his home at Shelby when informed by the United Press of Chairman Stone's proposal.

Governor Gardner made no direct statement regarding Stone's provision that cotton-growing states destroy a third of their crop, declaring he needed time for study and conference before commenting on that question.

"I haven't received Stone's telegram yet," said Gardner, "but I will give the matter most careful consideration and will do all possible to co-operate with the federal farm board. I feel the deepest and gravest interest in the problem of cotton prices and assure the willingness of North Carolina to co-operate."

GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA URGES SURPLUS STORAGE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Storage of part of the now maturing cotton crop for a stated time was suggested tonight by Governor Doyle E. Carlton, of Florida, as a counter-proposal to the federal farm board's plan for destruction of one-third of the crop.

Governor Carlton agrees with the farm board that the cotton supply must be reduced in some way, but does not think it wise to destroy even a part of the crop.

"It would be better," he said, "to secure an agreement of the cotton states to store one-third of the now maturing crop for a stated time, and reduce the acreage next year, rather than destroy one-third as suggested by the farm board."

Chairman Stone Calls on Governors of 14 States To Aid in Dramatic Step.

tinue, may bring direct disaster to cotton-producing states and indirect disaster to the nation. . . .

"In view of the existing situation the board suggests that you immediately mobilize every agency including farmers, bankers, merchants, landowners and all agricultural educational forces to induct immediate plowing under of every third row of cotton now growing. Without question at present prices there will be considerable abandonment late in the season, but this will not improve prices during heavy marketing. The problem to be solved is to secure abandonment in an organized and orderly fashion which will give farmers a better return for the remainder."

"The board recognizes," Stone added, "that this suggestion calls for drastic remedy for serious emergency, but commends to you the thought that a major operation of this kind rather than attempts at lesser measures is now needed."

The program would be put into effect September 1 and be completed September 15. The governors were urged to respond immediately stating their attitude on the proposal.

The suggestion was regarded here as the board's most important move since stabilization operations were attempted in 1929. At that time 1,300,000 bales of cotton were bought at an average price of $85 a bale in an effort to steady sagging prices.

FARM BOARD PROPOSAL IS ASSAILED BY BILBO

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The federal farm board's suggestion to plow up every third row of cotton in the current crop in order to stimulate price was characterized tonight by Governor Theodore G. Bilbo as an "economic waste."

It will cost the farmers a million dollars in time and labor to plow up this portion of the crop," said Governor Bilbo, who has suggested leaving the third row standing unpicked in the field.

"The farm board's plan is foolish," he added.

Governor Bilbo said plowing up the third row would hinder picking of the present crop by throwing stalks against the standing rows and cause damage to the crop.

ABRUPT COMMENT MADE BY GOV. HUEY P. LONG

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 12.—(UP)—"Damned if I know," said Governor Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, tonight when asked his opinion of the new farm board plan to hold the 1930 stabilization cotton until 1932 if one-third of the present crop were destroyed.

"It sounds pretty good," he said, munching a leg of fried chicken, "but whether Louisiana farmers will plow up or throw away that much of their cotton, I'm not sure.

"They ought to get more for their crop than the present price. Something has got to be done, but damned if I know what it'll be."

TWO WEAKNESSES IN PLAN, DECLARES ROYAL MEEKER

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Royal Meeker, an associate of Irving Fisher, Yale economist, said tonight he believed the federal farm board's plan to destroy one-third of the cotton crop would prove beneficial to the growers and the country at large, but added that there were two weaknesses in the plan.

"The plan probably would fail," he said, "because of the lack of co-operation among the growers. The second fallacy is that the device is aimed at the wrong end of the problem. It should aim at marketing control and not production control.

"The cotton crop is so big that it cannot be sold at remunerative prices. Growers are not going to pick and gin the cotton and depress prices still more. The difficulty of any such problem is that unified action is difficult to obtain.

"But I fear the plan will be just another of those voluntary gentlemen's agreements. It does not require a gentleman to enter a gentlemen's agreement. Some growers will co-operate and some won't. Some will not destroy their crops, hoping to obtain higher prices for their cotton."

Atlanta's Boroughs Go Out of Existence

Atlanta, as an incorporated municipality with six boroughs, no longer exists.

With a few strokes of his pen, Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. Wednesday enacted into law a bill repealing the act of a recent legislature establishing the city of Atlanta with its boroughs of Atlanta, Decatur, Avondale, College Park, East Point and Hapeville. These cities today became cities once again instead of boroughs, and, sponsors of the repeal act claim, the danger of legal complications on bond issues by the six cities is eliminated.

The "Atlanta" act was passed principally for its benefits on Atlanta's census rating, and failed of its purpose when the census bureau refused to recognize the greater city, it was said.

in prices. It also follows rejection by the board of Germany's offer to purchase 600,000 bales of stabilization cotton with an option on 200,000 more on long-term credit.

The corporation owns 1,300,000 bales, which were bought from the 1929 crop to maintain domestic prices. These holdings have been condemned by cotton traders as a depressing influence on market prices.

Southern democrats, led by Senator Harris, of Georgia, opposed sale of stabilization stocks to Germany on the ground it would deprive farmers of a market for their huge 1931 harvest. The Stabilization Corporation directors today also discussed a policy for handling the surplus during the present crop year for recommendation to the board. It was said no agreement was reached. The old policy of not selling during the last crop year expired July 31.

Co-Op Group Meets.

The American Cotton Co-operative Association, which owns more than 2,000,000 bales, met this afternoon. Advances to be made to farmer members this year were considered. Creekmore, who is vice president of the association, said it was not likely the 90 per cent advances made last year will be agreed upon for this season.

Besides Legge and Callaway, two other new directors of the Stabilization Corporation were named. They were A. E. Kobs, Oklahoma City, and R. J. Murray, Dallas, Texas. Directors re-elected were R. B. Caldwell, Columbia, S. C.; J. E. Conwell, Atlanta; C. G. Henry, Memphis; W. R. Squiers, El Paso, Texas, and E. F. Creekmore, New Orleans.

Officers re-elected were E. F. Creekmore, president; H. G. Safford, J. R. Bacharach and C. O. Moser, vice presidents; P. L. Sarrkatt, assistant treasurer, and Miss R. A. E. Epstein, assistant secretary, all of New Orleans.

When Two Streams Seek a Common Level, They Always Move Down Hill

By Robert Quillen

Once upon a time a lonely hawk, cruising about a peaceful valley in search of dinner or adventure, spied a little brown hen in a barnyard.

"She's an attractive little creature," mused the hawk. "How pleasant it would be to soar among the clouds with her."

So the hawk dropped down from the air and came to rest on a rail fence and began his wooing.

He talked a great deal concerning the delights of racing with the clouds and hunting game on the wing, and his eloquence pleased him so well that he scarcely noticed the little hen's silence.

"Poor little thing!" he thought. "She's never had a chance. Imagine being cooped up here in this barnyard among the cows and pigs and bad smells! No wonder her conversation is limited. This environment would make anybody dull. How jolly it will be to teach her the art of flying and broaden her horizon."

The hawk, you will observe, had the heart of a philanthropist. Or maybe he was just vain. In any case, he pictured himself as playing fairy prince to a Cinderella and having a lot of fun watching her blossom out in a better environment.

"How grateful she will be!" he said to himself.

So they were married, to the utter astonishment of the barnyard folk, and the great adventure began.

"She's a lucky little hen," said the chickens in the barnyard, "to have a hawk for a husband. He's a famous flyer and lives on the fat of the land. We must be more polite to her."

After a few days the hawk began to hunger for rabbit meat and suggested a hunt.

"Rabbit meat!" cried the little brown hen. "Don't be silly. When people are hungry, they eat corn and worms. And anyway—I might as well tell you now—I couldn't fly over the barn to save my life."

"Corn and worms," growled the hawk. "Such food is for—" He stopped. He meant to say it was fit only for barnyard people, but he was too tactful. After all, it would take time to make his mate a real hawk.

Some months later a stranger passing the barnyard saw the little brown hen strutting before her sisters. Hawk feathers were fastened to her wings. She was too well-fed to fly up on a roost, but she carried her head with the high proud air peculiar to hawks.

"Where is your husband?" asked the stranger.

"There under the corn-crib," said the little brown hen. "The poor boy works so hard. His wing feathers are gone and his claws worn down to a nub. He is scratching up some worms for my dinner."

Text of Farm Board Appeal To Cotton States' Governors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The text of the farm board's telegram to the governors of 14 cotton-producing states proposing destruction of one-third of the present cotton acreage follows in full:

"Government cotton report of 15,584,000 bales if realized provides total crop and carryover supply of American cotton of more than 24,500,000 bales against probable world consumption of American cotton this fiscal year of 13,000,000 or possibly 14,000,000 bales, leaving probable carryover one year hence of around 11,000,000 bales.

"This condition occurs in spite of 10 per cent reduction of acreage last spring. It has already resulted in drastic declines in cotton prices, which if allowed to continue may bring direct disaster to cotton-producing states and indirect distress to the nation.

"Through serious world depression of last two years federal farm board has steadfastly attempted to protect cotton farmers and all who deal with them from price declines such as have affected all industries, first, by 16-cent loans to cotton co-operators, second, by removal from market by cotton stabilization corporation of 1,300,000 bales, third, by 90 per cent loans to co-operatives last year. These efforts had some measure of success but have been outweighed by continual excess production and continually increasing surplus.

"The board believes that the time has now come when cotton producers themselves must be called upon for immediate and drastic actions. Agricultural marketing act, section one, paragraph four, directs board to aid 'in preventing and controlling surpluses and in orderly marketing and distribution so as to prevent such surpluses from causing undue or excess fluctuations or depressions in price for the commodities.' Section five, paragraph four, 'the board is authorized and directed to investigate conditions of overproduction agricultural commodities and advise as to the prevention of such overproduction.'

"In line with above mandate from congress and in view existing situation board suggests that you immediately mobilize every interested and available agency in your state, including farmers, bankers, merchants, landowners and all agricultural educational forces to induce immediate plowing under of every third row of cotton now growing. Without question at present low prices there will be considerable abandonment late in the season but this will not improve prices during heavy marketing. Problem to be solved is to secure abandonment in an organized and orderly fashion which will give farmers a better return on the remainder.

"Board is convinced that such organized reduction immediately done will be more than repaid by increased price received by growers on this and future crops entirely aside from savings by reason of no picking and ginnings costs on that part of crop plowed under.

"Board recognizes that this suggestion calls for drastic remedy for serious emergency, but commends to you the thought that major operation of this kind rather than attempts at lesser measures is now needed.

"Board earnestly hopes this proposal, which is being sent governors of all cotton producing states will be approved by you and the people of the south and that necessary steps will be immediately taken to put it into effect on basis which will begin reduction throughout the south not later than September 1 and complete program not later than September 15.

"If the ten largest cotton producing states accept and carry out this program this board will do all in its power to support the program and will pledge itself to permit no sales by the cotton stabilization corporation of its present holdings before July 31, 1932, and will urge upon the cotton co-operatives financed by the board the desirability of similar action by them on their stocks of 1930 cotton now held.

"This program if fully carried out by southern farmers as well as by ourselves will mean reduction of total supply by at least 4,000,000 bales and withholding from this year's market of 3,000,000 bales more. You will appreciate necessity for very prompt action if this plan is to effectively benefit farmers this fall and you are therefore urged to immediately advise us your attitude toward co-operation on it. Board will promptly convey to you reactions from other states as received.

"FEDERAL FARM BOARD,
"James C. Stone, Chairman."

Conwell and Others Avoid Comment on Board Proposal

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—E. F. Creekmore, vice president and general manager of the American Cotton Co-operative Association, said tonight he regarded the cotton proposal as strictly a farm board affair and asked to be excused from commenting for the present.

The same attitude was taken by J. E. Conwell, Georgia's director on the association board, who said:

"It is a farm board matter and has not been considered by the co-operatives. I will have to think it over before expressing myself as to the wisdom of the plan."

These statements were typical of the others. None of the association directors seemed willing to comment openly, all professing to have no previous knowledge of the board's action. Beneath the surface, however, there was noted a rather distinct first-blush opposition to the proposal. It was suggested in one quarter that a counter proposal might be put forward calling for the federal farm board to destroy the three million or more bales which it controls, in lieu of the farmers bearing the burden of the plan.

The proposal for plowing under every third row of cotton was made several days ago by Governor Bilbo, of Mississippi, but did not attract much attention. The expectation was widely expressed here tonight that it would draw a storm of protests from the south. In the first place, it was pointed out, plowing under one-third of the cotton will be an expensive undertaking and many cotton growers will balk at such cost.

Persons here familiar with cotton growing and southern agriculture doubt the practicability of the scheme, if accepted.

The board's telegram on cotton assumed importance greater than that of which attached to the statement of wheat policy which was issued June 30. In this latter statement the board agreed to sell from its stabilization holdings only a cumulative maximum of 5,000,000 bushels of wheat monthly for the year ending July, 1932. Although a bumper crop for this year was then in prospect the board did not request the wheat growers to plow under any of their crop.

Storm Is Located Below Santo Domingo

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Richard W. Gray, Miami meteorologist, today stated a tropical disturbance was definitely located south of Santo Domingo, but said reports from Santo Domingo and Haiti failed to give distance of the disturbance south of the island or its intensiy.

A weather report to Gray from Port Au Prince, Haiti, gave an afternoon barometer reading of 29.88 inches, a slight fall since noon. Wind was 35 miles an hour from the east.

A report from Santo Domingo City said the barometer pressure registered 30 inches, with 12 miles of wind from the east. Wind was decreasing, indicating, Gray said, the storm progressed westward from its earlier position today south of the city.

RAILROAD VETERAN SUCCUMBS IN MACON

MACON, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—James S. Hutchins, 76, a retired mechanic and an employe of the Southern Railway for more than 20 years, died here today a few minutes after leaving a theater, where he became ill. The body will be shipped to Waycross for funeral and interment.

Mr. Hutchins came here from Dothan, Ala., and was widely known in the southeast. He has relatives in Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

PARAGUAYANS WARNED OF BOLIVIAN ATTACK

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Bolivian troops have massed on the Paraguayan Chaco frontier for an invasion of Paraguay, the newspaper El Liberal charged today in warning the population to arm for war.

Reviving the long-standing dispute between Paraguay and Bolivia over the boundary line in the Gran Chaco territory, the newspaper said Bolivia was prepared to carry out an attack similar to "the one that failed in 1930 because of discovery of the scheme."

FLOYD BOARD MEMBER QUITS FOR RELATIVES

Passage of Nepotism Bill Brings Resignation of County Official.

ROME, Ga., Aug. 12.—Homer Davis, member of the Floyd board of roads and revenues, resigned his position at a called meeting of the board Wednesday and his resignation was forwarded to Governor Russell.

Davis' action was due to the provision of the nepotism bill recently passed by both houses of the legislature and now in the hands of the governor, which require discharge of C. C. Davis and T. T. Port, relatives of the board members now on the county pay roll.

The bill requires that all employes who are relatives of county board members, the county warden, attorney and clerk cease to draw pay from the county after the bill is signed by Governor Russell. There are a number of persons affected by this bill and they have been called to a meeting Saturday morning to show cause why they should not be discharged according to the bill.

A special committee from the county board will also meet soon with the foreman and clerk of the January and July grand juries which recommended that County Auditor H. C. Carson, of Atlanta, be discharged.

Grand jurors will be asked to give the facts upon which they based their recommendations.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR JOHN J. HOWELL

SPARTA, Ga., Aug. 12.—Funeral services for John J. Howell, who died at the home of his sister at White Plains, near here, yesterday were, held this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Howell was for a number of years editor and publisher of the Cuthbert Leader and was treasurer of the Georgia Press Association until his health failed. He gave up his newspaper work then and came to the home of his sister, where he had lived for several years. An honorary escort from the press association went to White Plains to attend the funeral of the veteran editor.

President Louie L. Morris, of the press association, named the following to the honorary escort: G. Burnett Moore, editor of the Sparta Ishmaelite, Sparta; Mrs. F. J. Johnson, editor Oconee Enterprise, Watkinsville; H. S. Norris, editor McDuffie Progress, Thomson; Hugh J. Rowe, editor Banner-Herald, Athens; W. A. Shackelford, editor Oglethorpe Echo, Lexington; W. T. Bacon, editor Madisonian, Madison; J. C. Williams, editor Herald-Journal, Greensboro, and E. E. Lee, editor Warrenton Clipper, Warrenton.

Triangle Murder

Mrs. Walton Spence Land, 22, is the central figure in a triangle tragedy uncovered at Columbus, Ga., with the slaying of George Williams, 34, alleged suitor of the young wife. Her 60-year-old husband, James L. Land, from whom she has been separated for two months, has been held, charged with Williams' murder. Land said he killed Williams in self-defense.

GEORGIA WEED PRICES REPORTED STRONGER

DOUGLAS, Ga., Aug. 12.—(United States Department of Agriculture)—Complete prices today:

Orange Leaf—
Fourth quality	(B4F)		$14.30
Fifth "	(B5F)		8.40
Sixth "	(B6F)		3.60
Seventh "	(B7F)		1.50
Orange Lugs—
Second quality	(X2F)		$13.70
Third "	(X3F)		7.00
Fourth "	(X4F)		3.00
Fifth "	(X5F)		1.50

The market was somewhat stronger in the afternoon on better grades.

The above quotations show the average prices at which officially-graded tobacco sold at auction as compiled and released by the tobacco section, United States department of agriculture.

HAHIRA, Ga., Aug. 12.—The tobacco market here today carried 145,000 pounds of tobacco on floors, with bids running from one-half cent per pound to 26 cents per pound. Some very fine tobacco sold here today, all averaging above 20 cents, but the poorer grades were cheaper than has ever been known in the history of tobacco culture in Georgia.

Fully 60 per cent of this year's crop has been marketed, and at an average below cost of production.

SAVANNAH TO GREET RESCUED FLYER TODAY

Captain Lisandro Garay, Saved From Ocean, Due at Port Thursday.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Captain Lisandro Garay, Honduran flyer, wrecked in an attempted nonstop flight from New York to Honduras and rescued yesterday by the American-Brazil steamer Biboco off Cape Lookout, N. C., is not expected to reach Savannah until Thursday morning, latest advices from the steamer indicate.

Probabilities are that the steamer will reach Tybee roads at the mouth of the Savannah river late this evening, 11 o'clock or later, and may remain outside until early daylight hours when she will come into port to tie up at Atlantic Coast Line docks.

However, there is also a chance that the steamer will not linger in the outer roads but will steam on through to her berth. She is due to export for South America tomorrow afternoon. Steamship agency officials here say that she would dock at approximately 1:30 o'clock tomorrow morning if she made port during the night. Captain Garay will disembark here. He will need hospital attention, according to reports of injuries received by him in his mishap at sea, which include a fractured jaw and bruises and cuts about the body. He fell into the sea Sunday midnight and was picked up by the Biboco.

The master of the Biboco is Captain W. M. Lee.

BILL TO STRENGTHEN ELECTION PENAL LAWS

MACON, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Laxity in the penal provisions of the state elections laws, as effects municipal elections, will be removed in a bill already reported favorably by a house committee, and to be placed on the house calendar for consideration next week.

The bill is a direct outgrowth of the municipal bond election held here March 18, 1930, after which a Bibb county grand jury made a thorough investigation of reported irregularities and returned several indictments. Solicitor Charles H. Garrett could not prosecute the cases, he said, because of the laxity in the law. Mr. Garrett is co-author of the bill now pending in the house. It was drawn by him and Edgar Watkins, of Atlanta. Several other counties in the state are interested in its passage.

Mr. Garrett said today it, with other election law bills, already had passed the senate. Some of the other bills, affecting state elections, were drawn by Mr. Garrett and Cecil Neill, president of the senate.

ABLES IS SENTENCED FOR TAKING OF AIKEN

ZEBULON, Ga., Aug. 12.—E. O., alias "Slick" Ables, was sentenced to from three to five years here today after a jury heard the evidence on charges of taking a prisoner away from an officer of the law.

Ables, together with Monroe Hamm and "Red" Craig, former Atlanta policeman, were jointly indicted after Tom Aiken, a prisoner now serving on the chain gang, had been taken from Deputy Sheriff R. T. Tolbert, of Fulton county. Aiken was recaptured.

Hamm is now on trial, while Craig will be tried as soon as the other cases are disposed of.

DEFUNCT RAILROAD TO PAY BACK TAXES

VALDOSTA, Ga., Aug. 12.—Following a recent conference with Fi. W. Purvis, receiver for the Georgia & Florida railroad, the city finance department is this month making a settlement for back taxes due Valdosta by the road.

The settlement includes the payment during August of approximately $2,500 for taxes due before the road went into the hands of the receiver, and all taxes accruing since that time will be paid at such time as the court handling the receivership finds that the money is available.

In effecting the settlement the city made no reduction in the taxes, but did eliminate the interest due on the unpaid amounts.

STATE REALTORS PLAN MEETING IN SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Georgia real estate commission will meet here Saturday.

A. S. Harris, executive secretary of the Savannah real estate board, said the commission will examine applications for licenses by persons desiring to enter the real estate business and adjust brokerage differences.

Josiah Flournoy, of Columbus, is chairman of the commission. Members are I. L. Domingos, Macon, and Ward Wight and Miss Mary Bradford, both of Atlanta.

CHURCH AT TENNILLE PLANS SECOND ANNEX

TENNILLE, Ga., Aug. 12.—Finding the facilities of the church building inadequate for a large departmental Sunday school, members of the Tennille Baptist church, of which Rev. R. D. Hodges is pastor, have decided to erect another annex in the rear and adjoining the present annex.

The new building will house the primary and intermediate departments and the men's Bible class. Material for the building is being assembled and the work of erection will begin right away. J. A. Mills will have charge of construction, and the building committee is composed of W. C. Little, chairman; W. F. Mobley and J. V. Boatright Jr.

COMPANY TO BUILD ADDITION TO MILL

COLUMBUS, Ga., Aug 12.—(AP)—The Swift Manufacturing Company yesterday announced a contract for construction of an addition to its No. 2 mill here had been awarded to the A. K. Adams Company of Atlanta.

The amount of the contract was not announced. The addition will be 107 by 81 feet and four stories in height.

PLANE CRASH VICTIMS LAID TO LAST REST

LOUISVILLE, Ga., Aug. 12.—William H. Brimberry, who met his death in an airplane crash at Cincinnati Sunday morning, was laid to rest here this morning.

Mr. Brimberry spent his boyhood in Louisville and graduated from Louisville Academy. After graduating here he attended Georgia Tech. He became interested in radio development, making a connection with the Capital Electric Company, of Atlanta, of which he became vice president. He was one of the best radio executives of the south.

His mother, Mrs. W. J. Rhodes, and his only sister, Mrs. Philip Abbott, live here. The beautiful floral offerings attested the love and esteem in which "Brim," as he was familiarly known to his friends, was held. The services were jointly conducted at the grave by the pastors from three churches, with Rev. L. E. Williams, of the Methodist church, in charge.

All places of business were closed for one hour out of respect. Besides his mother and sister he leaves a wife, a week-old son and two little girls, Anna and Carolyne.

KEITH IS INTERRED AT WEST POINT

WEST POINT, Ga., Aug. 12.—A large crowd of relatives and friends gathered in Marseilles cemetery Tuesday afternoon for the burial of William E. Keith, victim of the airship accident Sunday in Cincinnati. Services at the grave were conducted by Rev. John Yarbrough, of the First Methodist church, and Rev. Hoke Shirley, of the First Baptist church.

In respect to Mr. Keith's memory the City Auditorium theater, which is operated by his brother-in-law, L. J. Duncan, was closed Monday and Tuesday.

DIVERSION ONLY SANE PLAN, SAYS ANDERSON

MACON, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—W. D. Anderson, president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, in an address before the Kiwans club today said the highway diversion plan was the only "sensible plan" yet submitted to care for the deficit of the state of Georgia.

In discussing taxation and the rising tide of governmental operation, Mr. Anderson said the state highway board handles $21,000,000 annually and he had been told "not 24 hours ago" that the issuse of highway diversion was an issue between "those who live on a paved highway and those who do not."

"Are we going to allow settlement on that basis of an issue which concerns the education of our children and the care of our helpless?" he exclaimed.

A. M. E. CONVENTION HELD IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Aug. 12.—The big tri-convention of the state of the African Methodist Episcopal church convened in St. John church here today. Dr. J. E. Reese is pastor.

The keynote sermon by Bishop W. A. Fountain, D. D., Ph. D., episcopal head of the A. M. E. denomination in Georgia, followed with the holy communion with Dr. R. J. Jefferson, presiding elder, Griffin district, and Dr. G. B. Lancaster, presiding elder, Eatonton district, celebrants.

CRISP SEES PROSPERITY IN TARIFF ACT REPEAL

Congressman Blames Hawley-Smoot Law for Depression..

MONTEZUMA, Ga., Aug. 12.—Charles F. Crisp, congressman from the 3d district, addressed the Montezuma Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon Wednesday. He was introduced by John B. Guerry.

In discussing the tariff, Mr. Crisp expressed the opinion that the present world depression was largely the result of artificial trade barriers and he characterized the Hawley-Smoot tariff act as a "Chinese wall," which, in excluding all foreign goods from the United States, had embittered other nations, who, in turn, had passed retaliatory measures.

He further pointed out that 1,200 American-owned branch factories had been established in foreign countries, 600 of which are in Canada, employing foreign labor, while American factories are running on short time. He stated that he was convinced that nothing would do more to restore prosperity than a repeal of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act.

In discussing the farm loan act which he compared to the corn laws of England, he said that "the policy of the farm board has tended to hold down the price of cotton," and that he will vote for a repeal of the act. He expressed the opinion that no legislation will change the immutable law of supply and demand.

He closed his address with an appeal for courage, conservatism and the practice of sacrifice and urged his hearers to work, economize and cut out luxuries.

HOMER PADGETT JURY DEADLOCK PROLONGED

VALDOSTA, Ga., Aug. 12.—After 24 hours' deliberation the jury in the Homer Padgett case has reached no decision. Judge W. E. Thomas, presiding in the case, has made no inquiry of the status of the jury.

Early in the day crowds of the curious began taking their places in the court room, where they remained all day awaiting the verdict that did not come. Attorneys for the defense and state, as well as the court attaches, remained within easy reach during the morning, but as the deadlock progressed they took more latitude in their movements.

Today marked the seventeenth day of the trial of Padgett, one of the five defendants charged with murder in connection with the death of W. H. Browning and his wife in August of last year.

There are many rumors about the number of votes taken by the jury and the way the vote stands, but these are all without foundation. However, as the jury has not asked the court for any additional charge on the law, it is presumed that the deadlock is due entirely to a sharp division over the nature of the verdict to be returned.

AMERICUS MEETING TO PUSH ROAD PAVING

AMERICUS, Ga., Aug. 12.—Georgians interested in the building of hard-surfaced roads in this part of the state, and in the rapid completion of route 3 between Atlanta and Albany will gather in Americus Tuesday, August 25, in an effort to influence state highway officials and forward this needed work here.

The meeting has been called jointly by the State Route No. 3 Association and the Georgia State Automobile Association and has the indorsement of the Americus Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. Delegates attending will be welcomed by Mayor James A. Fort and W. T. Anderson, chairman of the board of commissioners of Sumter county. Much dissatisfaction with progress already attained in paving this highway has been manifest here and along the route of the road between Atlanta and Albany.

BEWARE!

If You're Told Some Other Preparation Is the Same as GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN

WATCH OUT

THIS warning is printed to put the public on guard against a deception which may be practised against those who seek genuine Bayer Aspirin for pain, headaches or colds.

We take this means of warning you, so you may be able to protect yourself and your family against the results of such deception.

BEWARE!

Other preparations, we are informed, have been offered at times to those who ask for Bayer Aspirin; and even represented in some cases as being "the same as Bayer Aspirin."

Watch Out! Remember that years ago doctors warned the public against "headache remedies," some of which are heart depressants and unsafe for many people to take.

Then remember how Genuine Bayer Aspirin came. And was acclaimed the world over by leading men of science as SAFE relief for pain, and was prescribed without hesitation by eminent physicians. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

What folly, then, in the light of these things, to dose yourself with drugs of which you know nothing. Don't gamble—KNOW.

The genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets are made by a special process, under careful supervision of scientists, in the Bayer Laboratories, with over 25 years of highly specialized experience.

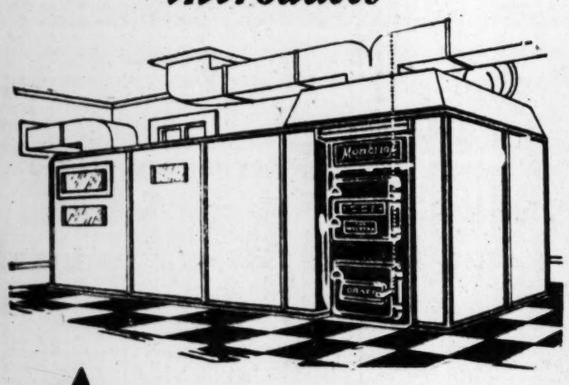

So when you want SAFE relief for pain, cold or headache, ask for BAYER ASPIRIN. You have a perfect right to ask for what you want. And an equal right to get what you ask for.

Look for the name BAYER on the package. And the word Genuine in red. Insist on Genuine Bayer Aspirin and refuse substitutes.

DOES NOT HARM THE HEART

A great public PREFERENCE growing GREATER

Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?

For 16 years the outstanding first-choice tire of the automobile owners in the United States has been Goodyear.

That is an important fact, but an even more important one is that for the last several years this preference has been growing even more rapidly.

Today when values are being scrutinized more carefully than ever before, public preference for Goodyear is stronger than it ever has been.

You are not interested in how tires are made.

You are interested in what service they give.

The proof of tire service is the actual purchasing choice of the millions of automobile owners in America.

It will be noted that 30.7% of the car owners of America prefer Goodyear Tires. This preference is more than twice that of any other make of tire.

This tire survey was based on a scientifically mailed questionnaire to car owners in every state in the country and proportioned in turn to cities and rural communities.

Just look at the chart shown here and see how the automobile owners in the United States voted on the question: "What tire is best?"

This vote is based on actual experience and not on engineering claims or advertising assertions.

CAMP HIGHLAND TO CLOSE WITH GALA CELEBRATION

Colorful Pageant Planned For Camp's Final Day

The 1931 season at Camp Highland, the summer recreation center of the Young Women's Christian Association, closes August 25 with a gala celebration. The last Saturday at camp is traditionally known as "Highland Day," when all former campers and their friends return for a last get-together. This year a colorful pageant, "The Spirit of the Association," will be given, depicting the various phases of the Y. W. C. A. program.

Highland Camp is located 12 miles from Atlanta, just off the Marietta highway. The only age limit at Highland affects the very young, for anyone over 10 years of age may enjoy its pleasures. Highland is especially attractive to the business woman and three different groups of women have their own clubhouses where they entertain week-end parties. The camp, with its 107 acres of rolling land, allows freedom for rambling in the woods. Highland is equipped with screened shacks, lodges, dining hall and recreation hall. The large concrete swimming pool is proving an added attraction at Camp Highland. Among the events enjoyed at Camp Highland are the weiner roasts given on the rocks in Nickajack creek.

In addition to swimming, land sports are enjoyed, including tennis, baseball, croquet, ping-pong, archery, etc. For those less athletically inclined there are overnight hikes, camp sings, and for the book-lovers there is a well-equipped library in the Anne Boykin lodge, with its cozy fireplaces and shady, breezy veranda. Counselors give instruction in swimming, dramatics, dancing, arts and crafts. Vesper services are held each evening, just before the sounding of "taps."

Brides-Elect Are Honored

Miss Caroline Selman and Miss Iverson Dews will entertain at a bridge party and handkerchief shower Friday evening at the home of Miss Dews on Sycamore street, in honor of Miss Martha Steele and Miss Annie Kate Melton, brides-elect. Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. Harrie Dews, Mrs. Caroline Selman and Miss Norma Pritchard.

The guest list includes Misses Martha Steele, Annie Kate Melton, Lucy Dews, Mary Gregory, Doris Houston, Virginia Cooper, Sara Steele, Evelyn Melton, Susan Gardner, Antoinette Johnson, Della Stone, Eugenia Houser, Micky Wing Mason, Rebecca Holbrook, Lillian Marbut, Sara Matthews, Edna George, Margaret Beall, Dorothy Ford, Elizabeth Hill, Raymond Wilson, Mary Bell Woodruff, Betty Fleming, Emily Campbell and Mesdames G. C. Ware, Fred Cook and Leslie Steele Jr.

Junior Order Elects Officers.

The following officers were elected yesterday at the state session of the Daughters of America, women's auxiliary of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, held at the Ansley hotel: Louise Fisher, of Savannah, junior past council counselor; Leila Ellis, of Macon, associate junior past counselor; Gertie Lawton, of Lindale, Ga., counselor; Leila Williams, of Atlanta, associate counselor; Maude Robertson, of Atlanta, vice counselor; Mary Seaward, of Savannah, associate vice counselor; Maude Paport, of Savannah, counselor; Ada Farris, of Augusta, warden; Annie Hughes, of Atlanta, inside sentinel; Oma Gene Grooms, of Dalton, outside sentinel; Myrtle Granade, of Augusta, state judiciary.

The following visitors were present: Mrs. Hester Runner, national vice counselor, of Louisville, Ky.; Albert S. Bossong, F. B. D., of Cincinnati, Ohio; Miss Sara A. Knox, of Aiken, S. C., and Mrs. Sallie N. Cushman, of Aiken, S. C.

For Miss Webb.

Miss Jean Lucas will be hostess at a small informal tea Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club in honor of Miss Polly Webb, of Statesville, N. C., who is the guest of Miss Louisa Candler at Callanwolde, the beautiful estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard Candler, on Briarcliff road. The guests will include a small group of friends who attended Hollins College, at Hollins, Va., with the honor guest.

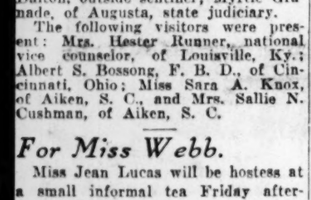

Miss Candler entertains at luncheon today at the Piedmont Driving Club, inviting 14 friends to meet her guest. Invited to meet Miss Webb are Misses Frances Boykin, Patty Porter, Jean Lucas, Eugenia Candler, Mary Candler, Charlotte King, Helen Candler, Martha Candler, Liza Tway, Jane McMillan, Vaughn Nixon, Mary Meador Goldsmith, Palmer Atkinson, Mary Elinor Kemp, Margaret Selman and Mamie Raine.

Miss Mary Elinor Kemp will be hostess at a small luncheon Friday at her home on Springdale road honoring Miss Webb, and invited to meet her will be a group of former Hollins students and covers will be placed for Miss Webb, Misses Louisa Candler, Patty Porter, Frances Boykin, Jean Lucas and Miss Kemp.

For Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Arthur McD. Wilson III, a charming acquisition to Atlanta society, will be honor guest at a luncheon given Friday at the Wren's Nest, the hostesses to be the executive board of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association.

Mrs. Wilson III is a recent bride, and is the granddaughter of Mrs. A. McD. Wilson Sr., the life president of the Uncle Remus Association. Others invited will be members of the honor guest's family, Mrs. Arthur Wilson Jr., Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. Slaton Waldo.

Braswell - Merritt Rites Take Place in Union City, Ga.

Mrs. Percy Merritt, who before her marriage yesterday was Miss Mildred Braswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan T. Braswell, of Union City, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt will reside at 856 Briarcliff road, in Druid Hills, upon their return from their wedding journey to Washington, D. C., and New York city. Photo by Bascom Biggers.

UNION CITY, Ga., Aug. 12.—Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mildred Braswell and Percy Merritt, of Atlanta, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Union City at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Zack Hayes, of Gainesville, Ga., in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and groom. The music was rendered by Mrs. W. W. Wells, who played the "Lohengrin" wedding march as the processional. During the ceremony "At Dawning" was softly played, and for the recessional "Mendelsshon's Wedding March."

The lovely bride was handsomely gowned in a stylish model of black satin, and her black felt hat was an Empress Eugenie model, while the accessories matched her costume. She wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

Immediately following the ceremony a seated breakfast was served and the house was decorated with a profusion of roses, budlea, delphinium and other garden flowers.

Mrs. Merritt has enjoyed wide popularity in this section of the state. Charming and attractive in appearance and personality, she is outstanding in her profession. She received her bachelor's degree in home economics from Georgia State College for Women, after which she specialized in dietetics at Emory University hospital, where she has been head dietitian since 1929.

Through her mother, she is a member of the Caldwell and Connally families, prominent in North Carolina and Georgia, and her paternal great-grandparents were the Braswells and Beans, pioneer Georgians. Her sister is Mrs. Hunter Fowlkes, and her brothers are Harold Braswell, of Gadsden, Ala.; Willie Braswell, a student of Furman University, and Taylor Braswell, of Emory University.

Mr. Merritt, son of P. F. Merritt, of Greensboro, Ga., is a graduate of Emory University and popular member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is connected with the Aetna and affiliated insurance companies with offices in the Hurt building in Atlanta. His mother was the late Annie Davis Copeland Merritt, daughter of Edward A. Copeland, who was prominent in civic, religious and business life in Greensboro. His brothers are Ed Merritt, of Atlanta, and William Merritt, of Greensboro. His aunts are Mrs. J. H. Young, of Greensboro; Mrs. J. W. Evans, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. C. L. Winter, of Redan.

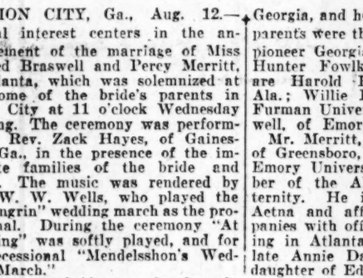

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt left for a motor trip to Washington, D. C., New York and other points of interest in the east. Upon their return they will be at home at 856 Briarcliff road, N. E., in Atlanta.

Norman Club Meeting.

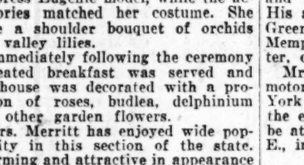

Former students and teachers of Norman Junior College of Norman Park, Ga., are invited to attend a picnic Friday, August 14, at 6 o'clock, at Grant park, at the wooden pavilion at Park street entrance. For further information call Hemlock 6185 or Dearborn 0674.

Miss Hadas To Wed Asst. U.S. Attorney In New York City

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Announcement was made here yesterday of the approaching marriage of Miss Eva Hadas, graduate of Emory University and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Hadas, of 129 Richardson street, S. W., Atlanta, Ga., to Murray Irving Gursein, assistant United States attorney, of New York city. The rites will be solemnized at 3:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon at the Jewish center in Brooklyn, N. Y.

A native of Atlanta, Miss Hadas was graduated from Girls' High school and from Emory University, where she took her A. B. degree in the class of 1930. She was an outstanding student at the university, being specially proficient in English and literary subjects, and was the contributor of numerous stories and articles to the "Emory Phoenix," student literary publication. In addition she took part in various campus activities and was one of the most popular students at the university.

Upon her graduation Miss Hadas entered Columbia University in New York, where she took her M. A. degree. Her father, a retired Atlanta businessman, has made his home in that city for the past 30 years.

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

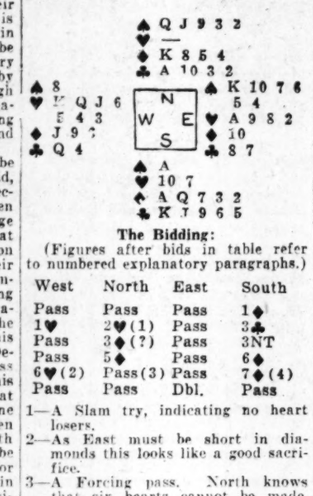

Defensive Bid and Forcing Pass

Most Contract players are sufficiently familiar with the procedure of Contract bidding so that they quickly recognize the bids considered Forcing. Forcing bids are such as require a response from partner. Their use with hands of many types is everywhere recognized as essential in order that the proper bid shall be reached. Opening Forcing bids carry with them an element of risk, as by their use the contract may be so high as to risk defeat. It is for this reason that the standard of hands strong enough to force partner to respond has been made so high.

However familiar players may be with the usual types of Forcing bid, there are few who would ever recognize a pass as a Forcing bid. When the pass becomes a Forse is at a stage in the bidding when it is certain that the partnership can make a score on the hand either by penalizing their opponents through collecting a penalty for their overbid, or by securing a game or Slam at the best declaration in the combined hands. In the hand which illustrates the text of this article, North's pass of West's Defensive bid of six hearts is a pass which requires a response from his partner. Of course, North knows that six hearts cannot be made and the one question is whether a bid of seven can be made by the North and South partnership or whether they must be content with the penalty collected for defeating the adverse bid. South in this case is in a much better position to decide the question and North decides to leave him untrammelled in his decision. If North should double six hearts it would be a statement to his partner that he was so much in doubt of the ability to score a Grand Slam with the combined hands that he believed the Double of six hearts the better course for the partnership. It is true that this does not necessarily prevent a bid of seven by South, but it cannot do other than influence him in reaching a decision. North knows that his partner is also well aware that West cannot make six hearts against the strength held by North and South. If the bid of six hearts is passed as it was in this case, then South must do one of two things; either bid for Grand Slam or double the adverse bid. It is an interesting situation and the illustration given is very illuminating.

Neither side vulnerable; West Dealer.

The Bidding:
(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♦
1♥	2♥(1)	Pass	3♣
Pass	3♦(?)	Pass	3NT
Pass	5♦	Pass	6♦
6♥(2)	Pass(3)	Pass	7♦(4)
Pass	Pass	Dbl.	Pass

1—A Slam try, indicating no heart losers.
2—As East must be short in diamonds this looks like a good sacrifice.
3—A Forcing pass. North knows that six hearts cannot be made, but by passing, lets South know that a Grand Slam is still a possibility. South must either Double or bid.
4—South decides to try for the probable Grand Slam (1,500 points) in preference to a sure set of 3—a total of 400.

In the play, South went down one, as after West showed three diamonds, he elected to play West for two spades and either one club or no clubs. On the second round of spades, West over-ruffed. The hand can be made by a different line of play.

TODAY'S POINTER.
Strength Repsonses To A Takeout Double.

A hand containing even 2 honor-tricks is a fairly strong hand considering that partner has made a Take-out Double, which shows at least 3 honor-tricks. Combined hands will have 5 out of 8 honor-tricks and if the Doubler holds more than 3 honor-tricks or a favorable distribution, a game is in sight.

Partner informs the Doubler that his hand is better than the minimum and contains at least 2 honor-tricks by making, whenever possible, a Jump response—higher bid than necessary. It is, of course, not a Forcing bid and if a major suit is thus shown it may have as little as Q J x x or K x x x in the suit.

To illustrate: East can make a Jump two spade response to partner's Double of one heart with

Spades	Q J 7 2
Hearts	7
Diamonds	A 7 5 3
Clubs	K 6 5 4

or with

Spades	J 8 6 3 2
Hearts	6
Diamonds	A 3 2
Clubs	A 4 3 2

This is the only case in Contract where partner is justified in making a Jump bid on a non-biddable trump suit. Such a procedure is quite safe because the Doubler must logically infer that (a) partner merely attempts to show better than the minimum hand; (b) he certainly does not hold a very strong suit for otherwise he would have made a Double Jump. Jump responses after opponent's one notrump should be avoided when vulnerable on any but very strong hands.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL
BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

"This is a man's world," we hear it said on all sides. We agree or disagree with that sentiment according to the humor we are in. Occasionally one hears something which indicates that all of them don't fare so well in their own world. Among this number are two of my correspondents, one a young man and one middle-aged. They have both been unlucky in love and neither of them can figure out where his failure lies. Can we?

The young man boasts that he neither drinks, curses, smokes nor gambles. All of which is good recommendation but none of these virtues counts for a great deal with young girls. They haven't learned to think about the importance of these virtues in the males. They are concerned with the traits that guarantee a good time. They want laughs, frolics, entertainment. Later on they will learn to discriminate between what is merely attractive and what is worth while, but not yet. If a boy is amusing, a semblance of good morals will suffice. If he is not, the most exemplary conduct won't count in his favor.

A young lady of 'teen age recently was helping an older friend prepare a party list. As the names were proposed the young lady commented in this fashion. "Have him, he's the cutest boy in town." "Oh, he is so witty and funny!" "He nearly kills me, he doesn't care what he says." "His manners are perfect and he is a divine dancer." None of your moral virtues have any place in these appraisals. The young people are looking for a good time and they will take to their hearts those who can furnish it.

Old or young, rich or poor, there are some attributes that a woman requires of a man. Heading this list is a good grooming. It is as important in the life of a man as it is in the life of a woman. There is no larger item in the account between men and women, boys and girls, than neatness and tidiness. Well cut hair, a freshly shaven face, spotless linen, shined shoes and a shirt and tie and sox that have at least one color in common are always attractive to the women. There is no substitute for the bath and the shave. There is no chevron that ranks above the clean collar and there is no costume complete without a clean handkerchief. The Oriental sheiks may be successful without the aid of soap and water but the American sheik knows that there lies his chiefest charm.

Did not a sensible woman tell me recently that she fell in love with her husband because he always had two immaculate handkerchiefs in his pockets? Did not that same woman tell me that when her husband was dead the sight of that drawer full of his clean handkerchiefs broke her heart?

A man may have a big fortune salted away and stored in the bank. The world doesn't know about what is in the bank. The world only knows about what he spends. He is judged by what he puts out, not what he puts in. Similarly, a man may be rich in virtues but the girls judge him by what he exhibits, not by what he boasts. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Harry Danforth To Entertain

TWO DEAD, 1 DYING IN LIQUOR BATTLE

TAZEWELL, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(AP) A deputy sheriff and an alleged operator of a still were dead today while a second deputy lay in a Middlesboro, Ky., hospital, seriously wounded, victims of a gun battle growing out of a raid yesterday on a still near the Virginia line.

W. S. Thompson, 50, a deputy sheriff, wounded in the stomach by a shot gun charge, died in a Middlesboro hospital last night.

Tine Brooks, 56, accused of operating the still, died in a Middlesboro hospital today.

Carl Caldwell, 35, deputy sheriff, suffering from pistol wounds, is expected to recover.

Mrs. D. T. Brooks, wife of Tine Brooks, and his daughter, Minnie, were in Claiborne county jail, while officers were seeking Doyle Brooks, 20, who fled from the scene of the battle.

Highland Features Kodak Exhibit

Girls who have been at Camp Highland since June 15 are invited to send all kodak pictures back to Highland before Wednesday, August 19, so they may be entered in the exhibit. The winners will be announced on Highland Day, August 22, and attractive prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. Fred Patterson, chairman of the camp committee, and Mrs. Robert M. Crumley, vice president of the Y. W. C. A., have given lovely prizes to be presented to the girls entering the most unique, original or attractive snapshots picturing the various phases of Highland life.

The pictures will be classified according to groups, the first containing those submitted by girls from 10 to 15 years of age and the second those from 16 years and over. This is one of the many entertaining features planned for Highland Day, when the Y. W. C. A. holds "open camp" for all former campers and friends. Further details of the program will be announced later.

KLEENEX
DISPOSABLE TISSUES

WASHING handkerchiefs is no longer a necessary evil. This unpleasant task is ended forever—if you choose to join the thousands who have adopted Kleenex.

What is Kleenex, you ask? Kleenex is a remarkable tissue—far softer, gentler, more absorbent than you ever dreamed a tissue substance could be made. Tests prove it's twice as absorbent as an old linen handkerchief!

Always clear, fresh, dainty

Kleenex comes to you in dainty squares, handkerchief size. Conveniently packed, in a Cellophane-wrapped package that keeps every tissue fresh and sanitary.

And the cost is so very, very little. If you send your washing out, Kleenex will save considerable money, for many individual tissues can be used for the price of merely laundering one handkerchief!

There's no self-infection as with the handkerchief that's carried back to the face again and again. When you use Kleenex, all germs are destroyed, along with the tissue.

Try Kleenex for removing face creams. Authorities say it's best, because Kleenex is so powerfully absorbent that it blots all impurities from the pores.

Many home uses

Use Kleenex for wiping spectacles and razor blades. For dusting and polishing. Mothers find Kleenex invaluable in caring for babies.

Kleenex is so enormously popular that any drug, dry goods or department store can supply you. The package is Cellophane-wrapped for perfect cleanliness. A convenient arrangement permits tissues to be removed with one hand.

If you have Hay Fever...

—you'll appreciate the softness and absorbency of Kleenex. Do not put up with damp, irritating handkerchiefs another day. It is impossible to describe the greater comfort of these dry, gentle, absorbent tissues. (And remember, Kleenex costs less than laundering!)

WARNING!

Acts of vandalism—dynamiting and other malicious damage to electric lines, towers and other facilities of this Company—have occurred sporadically during the last few months.

Violence is again being threatened against this Company's property.

Information which we consider reliable has been brought to us that members of a group have, within the past twenty-four hours, been advised to "go out and tear down as much of the Company's property as you can."

We warn any and all persons guilty of such acts that they will be relentlessly prosecuted.

REWARD

We now increase the previously offered reward of $1,000 to $2,500.

This amount will be paid to the person who provides this Company with information which, WHEN FOLLOWED UP BY US, leads to the arrest and conviction of persons or any one person guilty of dynamiting electric transmission towers, poles or manholes, damaging sub-stations, cutting wires, or otherwise committing malicious acts designed to interrupt electric service and endangering the lives of the public and of our employes.

Information may be furnished in person, by telephone or by letter to P. S. Arkwright, president, or W. E. Mitchell, vice president and general manager, Electric Building, Atlanta. The source of any information will be treated as confidential and will not be disclosed under any circumstances.

To All Law-Abiding Citizens:

We earnestly solicit your co-operation in putting a check upon these criminal acts.

With a system extending over 40,000 square miles, you can well appreciate that it is difficult to patrol all of our lines, all the time. That we have succeeded to a large extent in protecting your service against these interruptions is shown by the fact that all of the attacks have been perpetrated at isolated spots and in the dead of night.

You can assist in ending this vandalism once and for all by giving PROMPT information if you observe suspicious characters at night working in the neighborhood of electric transmission towers, poles, sub-stations, etc.

Notify the police, but also, WITHOUT ANY DELAY, notify this Company. If in Atlanta, call WAlnut 6121 and ask for the ELECTRIC LINE SUPERINTENDENT. Elsewhere, call the nearest Georgia Power Company office.

Your co-operation will be gratefully appreciated and if it should lead to arrest and conviction, the reward of $2,500 will be paid you.

Flower of Thorns

INSTALLMENT XXIX.

"Please . . . is grandmamma . . put with . . grandpapa?"

"Of course. She would wish that, dear old lady!"

"I think they're together," said she wistfully. "I couldn't bear to think that they're not together again. They loved each other so much!"

"For love is strong as death," he quoted again.

"You believe that?"

"Yes, Sally, I believe that. I am sure of that."

"I hope he came for her. I think he came, and she saw him—and went away with him."

"I hope so with all my heart," said he gently. Katie's son found no difficulty in knowing that love is strong as death. "Let us think so, and be glad for them both."

She lay with closed eyes, but the tears she could not control crept under her lids and trickled down her cheeks. His eyes grew compassionate. Poor little girl, she had stood so much! He had brought some late May roses from the garden, and now he called her attention to them—see how exquisite the color, how perfect the form, how wonderful the fragrance! Her tears ceased, she held out her hand for the flowers.

"When you are better you must see the Winstead gardens. We pride ourselves on our roses—that is, I do, and dad smiles benignly. Rose growing is a favorite occupation of mine," he smiled.

She looked at him curiously, with something of resentment.

"How many favorite occupations have you got?" she asked. "Running a successful dairy, raising prize chickens, knowing everything about antiques, growing roses—I suppose you grow particularly wonderful roses, too."

"Fairly."

"You surprise me more and more. I am terrified to discover how many, many things you can do!" she managed to make answer.

"You'll be terrified if ever you are called upon to be my partner at bridge," he told her, laughing. "I somehow manage to acquire the rottenest hands ever dealt to anybody this side of hades."

"You don't play a good game, really?"

"Really I don't."

"I am glad to know that," she said deliberately. "I do. It gives me real pleasure to know that there really is something in the world I can do better than you can."

He laughed. "Now I know you're better! You're—Flower . . of . . Thorns herself again."

"I heard . . the milkman . . singing that. A long time ago. When I kept a hot dog stand on the road," she remembered tiredly. For suddenly she was absurdly weak and tired.

"I used to sing it myself. A professor I knew showed me the words and music, and I learned to sing it because it pleased him so much."

"So the milkman told me. I liked it, too." And she added astonishingly: "I should like to hear it again . . . right now."

"Flor . . de . . Espina . . ."

The wind from the garden ruffled the curtains and brought in the fragrance of many flowers. The whole room was a sort of golden glow and a man's voice came out of the heart of the radiance and the fragrance and the peace.

She was so utterly spent, and so weary! The brown lashes rested on the pale cheek. The exhausted girl slept.

Sam Winstead, resting his elbow on the satinwood table, leaned his cheek on his palm and stared at her reflectively, motionless, for a long interval.

But Sam Winstead's head drooped. He watched the girl who didn't love him, who was afraid of him—and who was married to him. A rueful smile twisted his lips. He could give her everything. Could he give her happiness? And he wished her to be happy.

Mrs. Rutherford's sudden death and Sally's collapse had shocked him profoundly, had forced upon him a question which peremptorily demanded an answer. What was to be the effect of her grandmother's death upon Sally's reaction to her marriage with him? He had seen the look Sally had cast upon his father when Henry Winstead attempted to approach his son's bride and it had angered him, had given him pause to think anxiously. Sally had married him because of her grandmother—and the old lady's death had immediately followed. He had counted on Mrs. Rutherford remaining alive for some years; he had hoped that, after she had married him, and with her mind relieved of fear, Sally would naturally learn to care for him—how could she remain adamant against the constant thoughtfulness of a devoted love?

But with Mrs. Rutherford his strongest prop was removed. Sally was here, in his house, ministered to by his affection, his by every law—except the one great law. She didn't love him. Now that her grandmother had gone perhaps she would never learn to love him. He could give her everything—except happiness. Had he, indeed, done well to marry Sally?

Well, he had followed his inclination, done what he wished to do. He had honestly meant it for her happiness as well as his own, knowing what he had to give her. And now perhaps she would never understand, she would never want what he had to offer.

A hazy plan, a nebulous ghost of an idea, began to form in his mind. He rose and stood for a space by the bedside looking down at the sleeping girl, and his eyes were the eyes of one tormented. This was the one woman. He leaned over her whom he loved and who didn't love him, didn't begin to know him, was afraid of him, and kissed her.

He must think this thing out rationally. Her happiness must be safeguarded. If he couldn't have her—and have her against her will he would not—nevertheless he had his own work, a man's work in the world of men. Thank heaven for that—a man's work, his own particular work, chosen by himself. But as he walked out of the house he did not hum to himself nor whistle as was his wont. Flor de Espina he had called her . . . Flower of Thorns. But there were no buds of blossoms now. Only thorns.

Because Sally was young and healthy her body was more resilient than her spirit. Color came back to her lips, sparkle to her eyes. She had left her room and was growing stronger with every passing hour. Then the nurse departed—Mrs. Sam Winstead was quite well again and had no further need of her; Sally was out of the house, in the garden; it was early June, a sweet, cool June, and the garden was riotous. It was a very beautiful garden, as beautiful as only a Carolina garden can be.

"This is a lovely place, but I thought we were to stay at Oakleigh," she ventured one morning. There was a little seat under the great live oak outside her window, and this was her favorite haunt. She felt safe here as if the strong arms of the live oak upheld and protected her, shut her in safe from all intrusion. Her privacy was seldom intruded upon. Henry Winstead spent most of his time in the city, coming home late at night and leaving early in the morning before she was out of bed, and her breakfast was always served in her own room. Sam seldom disturbed her. But this morning he sat with her. He had decided to speak if she gave him the right opportunity to do so.

"I thought you had better stay here for a while—at least while you weren't quite well. But if you prefer to go back to Oakleigh now—" he paused.

Reese Bows to Coen as Grant Is Idle in Rye Tennis Tourney; Cracker Officials Plan Complete Reorganization for Next Year

Mr. Charley Rentrop, who is making wrestling matches in the city, was beating the drum for "Thees Jeem" Londos Wednesday afternoon and willing to argue.

There was some disposition on the part of newspapermen present to argue that the old Kentuckian, Robert Fredericks (Ed Strangler Lewis to you) had the greatest headlock the game ever saw.

Charley Rentrop said "No." And Rentrop always wins arguments about wrestling holds because he uses the personal demonstration method as his argument. And Charley used to be a pretty tough hombre in the ring.

"Let me haff your head," said Charley Rentrop in the exact tone of voice Marc Antony once used in asking the Romans for their ears. And suiting the action to the word, Charley Rentrop seized this reporter's noggin in his arms.

"Ed Lewis squeeeeeeeze," said Charley Rentrop, illustrating and ignoring muffled protests.

"Now Jeem Londis, he does not squeeze. No. He pulls the head around this way, see? And den he lift up wit a tweest like wringing chicken's neck. See?

"I haf felt dem both und I know," said the German as he released his victim who sat staring to one side for the next few minutes. "Londos has the best."

Mr. Guy Butler, the golfer, was one of the four or five newspapermen in the room. Mr. Butler very foolishly asked concerning Jim Londos' Japanese leg lock.

No sooner was the query out than Mr. Rentrop had Mr. Butler on the floor and one leg pulled back in the lock which the champion uses so effectively.

"It hurts in four, five diff'rent places," explained Charley Rentrop as he stood over the prostrate and perspiring Mr. Butler.

This really broke up the conversation, as no one else had any questions to ask. It took just two demonstrations to convince them that there was nothing about wrestling they did not know.

The old game takes a lot of panning now and then, but it takes a he-man and one in great physical shape to take part in it.

Rentrop, who is substituting here during the absence of Henry Weber, will put on the next show on August 25. Night baseball makes one impossible next week.

ALL ABOUT HOLLYWOOD.

Julian Foster, of Madison, Ga., returned to Atlanta Wednesday from Hollywood, Cal,

Julian, as you learned in The Constitution last Monday, chugged out to the movie lots on a motorcycle and got a job because Oliver Hardy, of the Laurel and Hardy comedy pair, was a friend of his. Hardy used to live in Madison.

Foster, who is a Vanderbilt football player, rode across the Mojave desert at night when it was "cooled" off.

"It was too hot in the daytime," said Foster. "And at night it cooled off to 120 degrees. It was that at 10 o'clock at night."

Foster took a round-about trip, traveling 5,000 miles on his motorcycle. Hardy got him a job in one of the comedies the pair were at work on. "It was a burlesque on 'Beau Geste' and will be called something like 'Beau Hunks,' I think," said Foster.

The boy's big kick was meeting Marlene Dietrich.

The Commodore reported that the Los Angeles people were still talking and that the visit of the Georgia team was already a subject of conversation.

It develops that Hardy, the goofy comedian, was born at Milledgeville. Is there a wise crack in that?

THESE COMEBACKS.

Benny Leonard, who is coming back because he believes Doc Kearns can heat up enough matches to replenish their respective purses, recalls that there was a lot of the phoney in Jim Jeffries' comeback in 1910.

That was in the era of the "white hopes" and at the time there was quite a lot of ballyhoo about the nobility of Jeffries' return to the game in an effort to restore the heavyweight crown to the Nordics. No one seemed to recall that Jeffries demanded and got a guarantee of $100,000 for his noble comeback. It was that, and that alone, which pulled him out from his saloon.

These modern comebacks are just as bad off physically and just as much hollow shells as was old Jeff. But they are more frank about it. It's just as best, perhaps. It would be pretty difficult to ascribe anything noble to the racket just now.

What the game needs is for Retzlaff and Schaaf to clean out the Carnera-Campolo threats, so-called. The

REESE TRIMMED BY COEN, GRANT IDLE IN TOURNEY

Billy Too Inaccurate. Women Reach Semi-Finals at Rye.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The battle for the women's singles title in the eastern turf court tennis championships narrowed down to a pair of international matches today, as two players from the United States and two from England advanced to the sem-final round.

Mrs. Elise Goldsack Pittman and Joan Ridley, ranking British stars, are to face Sarah Palfrey, Boston, and Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, Wilmington, Del., respectively, tomorrow afternoon for the right to enter the final round for the championship which Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn did not defend this year.

In the men's singles four matches today completed the field of the last 16 with four favorites winning.

The scheduled third-round match between Bryan Grant, young Atlanta star, and Fred Perry, British Davis cup player, was held off until Thursday as tournament officials made a successful effort to get the women into the semi-finals so that they may have some rest before the national women's tourney opens at Forest Hills Monday. The Grant-Perry match is expected to be a feature of tomorrow's play.

HOW THEY WENT.

Mrs. Pittman eliminated Dorothy Weisel, of Sacramento, Cal., third in the national ranking, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. Miss Ridley rallied to down Josephine Cruickshank, of Santa Anna, Cal., fifth on the ranking list, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

The Palfrey sisters, of Boston, Sarah and Mianne, engaged in an old-fashioned hitting battle with Sarah coming out ahead by scores of 6-0, 11-9. Mrs. Jessup, who has not been ranked in America's first ten since 1926, scored over another former first ten player, Mrs. Lillian Scharman Hester, of Brooklyn, 6-1, 6-4.

Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, defending champion in the men's singles was extended to the limit to conquer Lester Stoefen, Los Angeles, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Texas, another seeded player, scored easily over Edward Burns Jr., of New York, 6-2, 6-1.

ATLANTAN WILD.

Wilbur F. (Junior) Coen, of Kansas City, proved more accurate than Billy Reese, of Atlanta, in a slugging match and won 6-3, 6-4. Reese seemed unable to get the ball over the net consistently. David N. Jones, of New York, eastern intercollegiate titleholder, won the fourth men's match of the day from Edgar Yoemans, of Washington, D. C., 6-4, 6-4.

A pair of favored teams, one British and one American, also advanced through the third round in the women's doubles. Miss Ridley and Mrs. Pittman conquered Clara Louise Zinke, of Cincinnati, and Virginia Rice, of Boston, 6-3, 6-2, while Mrs. Jessup and Penelope Anderson, of Richmond, defeated Alice Francis, of Montclair, N. J., and Clara Greenspan, New York, 6-1, 6-1. The Davis cup combination of George M. Lott Jr. and John Van Ryn led the men's double teams through their second round matches, defeating F. Proksch, New York, and E. H. Leboutillier, Westbury, N. Y., in love sets.

Sutter and Bruce Barnes, Los Angeles, defeated Merritt Cutler, New York, and Anton F. Von Vernuth, New York, 6-2, 6-1, in a second-round match.

Helen, Betty Liked; Women's Draw Wrong.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—After completing the draw for the women's national tennis championships, officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association discovered an oversight which left the name of Alice Marble, San Francisco star, from the list, and decided to cancel their action. A new draw will be held tomorrow.

Miss Marble told officials she had filed a formal entry by mail, but it was not received. It was decided that Miss Marble deserved a place in the tournament, which starts Monday, and after considering possible ways of revising the draw the conclusion was reached that the only arrangement which would be fair to all players whose entries had been accepted was to hold the entire draw over again.

No change is expected in the lists of 16 seeded players when the new draw is made. Mrs. Helen Wills Moody is placed at the top of the domestic list and Betty Nuthall, who won the national singles title last year when Mrs. Moody did not defend it, heads the list of 18 foreign players.

Seeded behind Mrs. Moody in the domestic list are Helen Jacobs, Mrs. L. A. Harper, last year's No. 1 ranking player; Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, Marjorie Morrill, Mrs. John Van Ryn, Dorothy Weisel and Josephine Cruickshank.

Behind Miss Nuthall in the foreign list are her fellow members on the English Wightman cup team, Phyllis Mudford, Dorothy Round, Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall and Mrs. D. C. Shepherd-Barron; two English women who came over on their own, Joan Ridley and Mrs. J. B. Pittman, and the Italian noblewoman, Baroness Levi.

Mrs. Moody is placed at the top of the upper half of the draw, with Miss Nuthall at the bottom of the same half, while Helen Jacobs and Miss Mudford hold the same positions in the lower half.

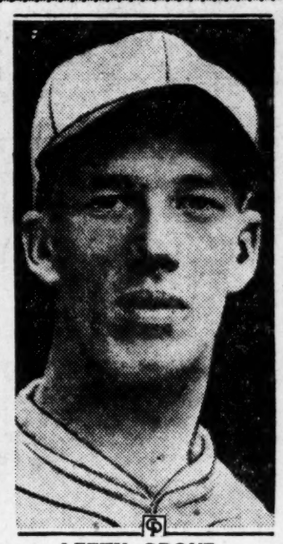

MOONEY RECALLED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Jim Mooney, young southpaw who has been pitching brilliantly for the Bridgeport (Eastern league) club, has been recalled by the New York Giants, it was announced tonight. He will report immediately. Mooney, farmed out after a brief trial with the Giants this spring, has won 16 games and lost 3 with Bridgeport. His return gives the Giants four left-handed pitchers.

Prominent Sports Figures in the News

"BULL" BROWN.

LEFTY GROVE.

BRYAN GRANT.

WILBERT ROBINSON.

"Bull" Brown, Vanderbilt University athletic star, is considering signing a contract with the Cracker ball club. He will be offered papers today and is expected to join the Dobbsmen. Winning his twenty-third game of the season Tuesday, Lefty Grove, ace of the Philadelphia Athletic hurling staff, is nearing a pitching record for the major leagues. Bryan Grant, young Atlanta tennis star, meets Fred Perry, British Davis cup star, in a third-round match in the annual Rye tennis championship today. He was idle Wednesday. Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, is rather gloomy at present. Rumors have it that a new manager will start out with the Robins next season, and then some say he will stick. He is very popular and may remain at his old post. You'll hear more about these figures.

CROWN IS WON BY MRS. JONES

Mrs. Wright Bows in Finals of A. W. G. A. Tourney, 2-1.

Mrs. Albert Jones added another championship to her string Wednesday morning when she defeated Mrs. J. C. Wright, 2-1, on the Ansley Park course to win the August match play tournament sponsored by the Atlanta Woman's Golf Association.

It was the second time this year that Mrs. Jones has won medal honors and gone on through to a title. She was tied with Mrs. Wright with a pair of 97's for low score in the qualifying round Monday morning.

Long drives and consistent approaches and putts won for Mrs. Jones Wednesday. She had a medal round of 46 for the nine holes.

One of the features of the three-day event was the stellar play of little Miss Dorothy Kirby, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kirby Jr. She defeated Mrs. Larry Caudill, 1 up, in the quarter-finals and eliminated Miss Mary Tenenbaum on the tenth green Tuesday, but lost to Mrs. D. T. Cannon on the tenth green Wednesday. It was Miss Kirby's first tournament of any importance. A fall off the walkway crossing the drain ditch at the ninth green probably cost her the match. She was one up at the time, but suffered a badly skinned leg and minor bruises, which impaired her game. Continuing despite the injuries, she dropped the ninth as Mrs. Cannon squared the match and went one stroke over par to lose to Mrs. Cannon's perfect play on the extra hole.

The tournament was a "hot weather" novel event, each match being played at nine holes instead of 18. It proved pleasing to members of the association.

Tom, Harry Barnes Reach Key Finals.

Two brothers, Tommy and Harry Barnes, younger brothers of Pete Barnes, Junior Chamber of Commerce golf champion, will meet Sunday in a 36-hole match over the Stockade course for the title in the third annual James L. Key invitation tournament. Tommy, 14-year-old sensation of the 1930 Georgia state amateur tournament at East Lake, was medalist in the qualifying rounds and is a favorite to win the title, left undefended by Pete. Harry is 18 years of age.

Tommy defeated Duke Turner, 5-4, and Harry eliminated Charles Henderson, 3-2, in the semi-finals.

C. E. Drummond and I. D. Friedman, second flight finalists, will play the first 18 holes of their match this afternoon and the other 18 later in the week.

All other flight finals will be only 18 holes.

Johnny Hadley, an all-prep football star from Tech High, won the fourth flight title with a 5-4 victory over Fred McLendon.

FIRST FLIGHT.

Tommy Barnes beat R. W. Benning, 6-5.
Tommy Barnes beat Duke Turner, 5-4.
Harry Barnes beat Charles Henderson, 3-2.

CONSOLATION FLIGHT.

D. T. Cannon beat Lollie Brannon, 1 up.
Charles Edens won from H. Barnett by default.
John Knight beat J. R. Lown, 6-5.
Pete Goodman beat H. McDonald, 2-1.

SECOND FLIGHT.

C. E. Drummond beat D. P. Bowen, 1 up.
I. D. Friedman beat Paul Senkbeil, 3-1.

THIRD FLIGHT.

J. D. Johnson Jr. beat L. D. Mullins, 5-4.
J. T. Tribble beat Jake Friedman, 1 up.

FOURTH FLIGHT.

Johnny Hadley beat Buster Adams, 5-4.
Fred McLendon beat Jack Langley, 5-4.
Hadley beat McLendon, 5-4 (final).

Ferst, Rosenberg Win at Ingleside.

Monie Ferst and H. J. Rosenberg Jr. advanced to the second round of the President's cup tournament on the Ingleside course with victories Wednesday. Ferst defeated G. M. Kohn, 2-1, and Rosenberg eliminated L. Regenstein Jr. on the 20th green.

Remaining first-round matches in the tournament will be completed before Saturday, when second-round play will start.

Newnan Net Meet Will Open Monday

NEWNAN, Ga., Aug. 12.—Newnan's annual city tennis tournament will be played during the week of August 17 on private courts here, it has been announced.

Men's singles and doubles, boys' singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles events will be played.

The seeded players include Douglas King, Tom Glover, L. Glover, Pat Johnston, Bo Barron, W. Poole and W. C. Caldwell in the men's singles and Richard Orr, Bill Barron, Billy Atkinson, Hart Odom, Norman Jackson, Jimmy Askew, Frank Hudson and Lewis Beers in the boys' division.

Freshman at Tech Wins Golf Tourney

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Aug. 12.—Sherman Parmenter, Georgia Tech freshman, defeated D. H. Starr 3-2, here this afternoon in a 42-hole match to win the annual Cartersville Country Club golf championship. Twenty-four of the 42 holes were played Tuesday afternoon when darkness halted the match with the count all even.

Members of the tournament committee ordered an 18-hole match for today and Parmenter won out.

Meet the Mind! It's Frank Brazill

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 12. (AP)—Frank Brazill, Memphis first baseman, was hailed as an inventor today.

He presented the club with a bat rack on which he has been working for some time. The rack keep bats off the ground and out of the sun, preventing warping.

He believes his idea will be copied all over the Southern league.

Atlanta Golfers Split In Play at Asheville

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Jack Toomer, of Jacksonville, Fla., who topped the qualifying field, swept through his first round match in the annual Biltmore Club invitation golf tournament today with a 4-and-3 victory over Tommy Aycock, also of Jacksonville.

Toomer played the same steady brand of golf that netted him the medal with a 36-hole score of 148 in the qualifying round. Aycock won the tournament in 1929.

All the first round matches were run off without any startling upset.

Both of Augusta's first flight representatives passed out of the the picture, W. D. Fondren, of Memphis, defeating Craig Barrow, of Augusta, 4 and 3, and G. W. Spencer, of Sanford, Fla., triumphing over B. Zimmerman, the other Georgia city entry, one up in one of the hardest fought encounters of the day.

Atlanta's two golfers won and lost. W. T. Healey moved up into the second round with a 7-and-6 decision over A. C. Ulmer, another Jacksonville star, but D. Y. Sage Jr. bowed to Henry Westall, of Asheville, one up, on the 19th hole.

Carl Dann Jr., Orlando, Fla., eliminated W. F. T. Coxe, of Asheville, 6 and 4.

SALE OF TAITT OPENS SECOND MAJOR TIEUP

Atlanta Gets Koster in Deal With Phils. Barons Win.

By Ralph McGill.

Complete reorganization of the Atlanta baseball club before the next season is the plan of the owners, who are already at work disposing of players and making new tie-ups which will produce players for the 1932 campaign.

The Crackers return home today for a three-day series with Nashville. The series should enable them to make a further advance on the Memphis team in second place.

Poco Taitt will be leaving the club today or tomorrow for Philadelphia. Sale of Taitt to the Phillies gives the Crackers their second major league tie-up, one with the White Sox having been in existence this year.

KOSTER COMES HERE.

Taitt, who had a major league trial with the Red Sox, was sold for cash and a player to be delivered next season. For the remainder of this season Outfield Koster will take his place.

Other deals will be made before the completion of the present season. The winter will see still others.

A threat of dissention during the present season, which was smoothed out by the owners, undoubtedly had something to do with the decision to make sweeping changes. They are entirely justified and would have been had the decision been reached sooner.

"We are going out to produce a winner in 1932," said President Chip Robert Wednesday. "If it requires a complete reorganization we will do so. We are not at all satisfied with the team and are out scouting now for players."

"YOUTH" MOTTO.

Youth will be the motto next year, according to President Robert. The start this fall will enable them to take a look at more young players.

The outfield and infield will be completely revamped for 1931 and changes will be made on the pitching staff.

Two new rookies will be put on today or tomorrow. Benny Rothstein is one who will go on. The other will be announced later. The league rules provide that two rookies may be added to the squad during the last month of the season.

The players will be given a chance during the remainder of the season, according to club officials. Second place isn't so valuable. They pay off on first place. And club officials seem to have decided that they will direct their attention toward 1932 now that 1931 has proved a failure.

USE YOUNGSTERS.

"We are going to play as many youngsters as possible," said President Robert. "The 1932 club is going to be an interesting one."

The Crackers will get a player from the Phillies next season. Aid will also be forthcoming from the White Sox. It is probable that another player will be disposed of during the week to line up other help for next season.

Several offers have been received for players now on the club. They will be disposed of as soon as possible, according to club officials.

The Crackers, who won at Nashville and lost at Birmingham on the present road trip, will play the Vols for the remainder of the week. They are at home all next week with Memphis and Little Rock.

GOOD JOB.

R. J. Spiller, business manager and vice president, who made the deal for Taitt, will return home today or tomorrow. He did a good job in disposing of Taitt. It was a neat bit of salesmanship.

Benny Rothstein, first-baseman, may break into the lineup this week, relieving Shirley in the later stages of some of the games. The identity of the second rookie to go on the list will be made known soon.

MATE IS SIXTH IN TURF CLASH

Bostwick Star Fails in Saranac Handicap, Danour Wins.

By Edward J. Neil,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A big brown colt named Danour today slapped a stunning defeat on Mate, a champion among the three-year-olds, and five other highly-touted thoroughbreds.

Nine times the long-legged son of Dozier and Wilton Flauna finished behind the leader until he landed today in the Saranac mile, feature of the day at Saratoga, where Mate, which thrice has conquered Twenty Grand, was on display before an admiring throng.

It was no place for Danour, the chronic second-placer. Everyone thought Mate was out for an airing, a spread-eagle choice in a field of seven, with the possibility that fellows like Surfboard, A La Carte and Halcyon might give the A. C. Bostwick ace some sort of a workout.

Off to a winging start, over a rain-heavy course that was just to his liking, Danour found himself in front of the field, instead of second. He was carrying only 103 pounds, a feather compared to the 127 on Mate.

To the amazement of the crowd that had made Mate a 9-to-10 favorite and had all but forgotten Danour at 10 to 1, the big brown colt galloped along head to head with the Flying Horse farm's Commuter until the field hit the stretch; with Mate trailing back in sixth place. Then George Ellis, on Mate, let his champion go. Catrone brought A La Carte up with a rush. Surfboard made his bid, and Danour seemed about to drop himself into another second place.

But, instead of quitting, the colt headed for the finish line in a stretch battle with A La Carte, the Alton stable three-year-old. Mate could not make up an inch of ground. Danour thundered under the wire a nose ahead of A La Carte, Surfboard grabbing third place away from Commuter, and Barometer, the Bradley entry, parading lengths home ahead of Mate.

Mate was fully eleven lengths behind the winner, and the only horse the Prince Pat colt was able to beat was C. V. Whitney's Halcyon. The mile was run in 1:40 1-5.

The victory brought Danour's owner, David D. Moore, a purse of $8,500.

SHADE, OSTER SIGN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Dave Shade, veteran California middleweight, has been matched with Willie Oster, Boston puncher, for a 10-round bout at White City next Monday night.

Crackers Lose To Barons.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 12.—The Barons won their fifth straight game from the Crackers here Wednesday afternoon, 10-0, with Jim Edwards allowing only four hits.

Johnny Dobbs used three pitchers in a vain attempt to check the flow of Baronial hits and runs, the league-leaders amassing 15 bingles off the combined hurling of Bunny Hearn, Paul Gregory and Lefty Carithers. Hearn was the losing moundsman.

The victory sent the Barons 16 full games ahead of the Memphis Chicks and 17 1-2 games ahead of the Crackers. The Chick defeat by the Pels enabled the Crackers to remain a game and a half behind second place.

The Barons got what breaks there were Wednesday, while Edwards kept the four singles scattered for Birmingham's eighth triumph out of 11 games with Atlanta here.

ONLY BLOWS.

Johnny Ryan singled with Shirley on first in the second on the hit-and-run. Barnes led off in the third with a single to right, Taitt beat out a hit to short in the eighth and Pepper Martin, who replaced Ryan in the seventh for some practice, singled to left center in the ninth. That was all.

Shirley took third on Ryan's hit-and-run delivery, Barnes got to third on Sheehan's sacrifice and Taitt's long fly to Moore in the only two "threats" made by the Crackers.

Barnes was hit by a pitched ball and took second on Taitt's single in the eighth, but Edwards made Johnny Chapman pop out and Shirley forced Taitt. Martin's single in the ninth with one out gained nothing, because he was forced by Autry, who in turn was forced by Williams, batting for Carithers.

Bunny Hearn got by the first three innings with little danger, yielding only a single by Weis, but he walked

Follow Georgia's Champions With Max Hall at Jackson

Albany Sandlotters Reach Jackson for Regional Crown Fight

STATE TITLISTS CAPTURE TOWN, CLOSE PRACTICE

Youngsters, Confident of Success, Play and Work Hard.

By Max Hall.

Staff Correspondent.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 12.—Leaving behind them a trail of thunderstruck townspeople, overworked Pullman porters, and weeping cafe proprietors which stretched all the way back to Albany, the sandlot champions of Georgia arrived at Jackson early this morning.

They immediately took over the city, put it in their back pocket, and went out to the ball park for a last practice before their battle tomorrow and Friday for the championship of Region No. 9 against teams representing Tampa, Fla.; Mobile, Ala., and Jackson, Miss.

In the draw tonight Albany was placed against Mobile for tomorrow's play. Tampa will play Jackson at 1 o'clock, and the Albany-Mobile contest will immediately follow. The two winning teams will meet in the finals Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The Albany team's entrance to Jackson was marred by calamity of the gravest sort. Passing into the lobby of the Robert E. Lee hotel, Bobby Dews tossed a large cantaloupe into the air and tried to catch it on top of his head. It hit the floor with a sickening thud and emptied its contents all over the lobby.

LATE ARRIVAL.

The cantaloupe, in some mysterious manner, joined the party last night in Birmingham, soon after the boys had eaten supper in the station cafe.

Some 16 half-starved boys crowded into that little eating place about 9 o'clock. They filled every seat in the place but two. A lone patron fled in terror. Those kids simply tore out the inside of the cafe.

Then they went to their private car, the good ship Norway, and went to bed. They were comparatively quiet last night, that is after a few outbursts like "Bo Clifton, you can eat that there orange, but keep the juice outer my eye."

The team was a little off form in its practice this morning. It's nothing to be alarmed at. It is, in fact, a good sign—it will make them fight harder tomorrow, and they are almost sure to be feeling better and playing at their best.

ROYAL GUESTS.

Here in Jackson the visiting sandlotters have been made royal guests. Wearing little white ribbons on their shirts, they today went to picture shows, played miniature golf, and went swimming free of charge. Tonight they were guests at a night ball game between Jackson and Baton Rouge.

Joe Gershon joined the squad at Birmingham late last night and is now the life of the party. Major Trammell Scott sent little Joe over to see the tournament. He came from Atlanta to Birmingham by himself, and is now the roommate and contact man of this correspondent.

You should have heard the kids at dinner today. Charlie Dews took one look at the waitress and whispered to Dink Gerst, "Gosh, she's a purty girl."

"Coming right up," she would say, sweetly.

"Okay, baby," said Joe.

Bobby Dews is little, but, would you believe it, Joe Gerson just comes up to his shoulder.

By the way, Joe picks Albany to win.

If Albany takes its first game tomorrow, the boys will get a free ride over to Vicksburg Friday morning to see the Mississippi river. Hot dog, won't that be swell?

Ring-Mat Card Set For Almand Friday

A combination wrestling and boxing card will be presented at 8:30 o'clock Friday night at Almand park.

Young Richard and Jimmie McDuffey will meet in the best two out of three falls in the wrestling feature, while Kid Denby, of Chattanooga, and Irish Branon, of Atlanta, welterweights, will furnish the boxing attraction.

Sun Almand and Pete Sauls, heavyweights, will meet in a one-hour limit wrestling preliminary.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Grantland Rice

The Recompense.

I've dreamed that I was Bobby Jones
With 60 for my score;
I've dreamed that I was Dempsey
When his left hook ruled the beat;
I've dreamed that I was big Babe Ruth,
And heard my homers roar
Beyond the distant pickets
While the crowd was on its feet.

But since I've followed them around
I'm glad few dreams come true;
I hate to autograph a ball,
A catcher's glove or bat;
I hate to write on menu cards,
I'd rather eat my stew,
I'd rather tap the good old type—
And let it go at that.

Grove and 30 Games.

Bob Grove needs seven more victories to slip into the 30-games-won division at a time when his team has 45 games left. His percentage record is phenomenal, but those 30 victories are still far away with only six games left.

It isn't likely that Connie Mack is going to take any chance of tiring a long left arm that will be needed in the next world's series, and to win 30 games Grove will have to win practically every game he pitches from now on.

He could make the grade if crowded, but it has been three years now since the Athletics were crowded and there is no sign against the late summer skyline that any crowding is going to take place this year.

The Big Scramble at Beverly.

Recent developments have indicated somewhat loudly that the big scramble at Beverly, which starts soon, will carry far more action than many looked for in a "Jonesless championship."

The firing has been heavy lately along many of the fronts of amateur golf. Charley Kocsis, of Detroit, finished in a tie with Tommy Armour for the Michigan open and beat the British champion in a play-off. Phil Perkins, the English star now living in the east, churned out a 68 at Lido this week, and Lido isn't any harder to take than Gibraltar. It is one of the toughest scoring tests in the world.

Jesse Guilford reported with a 72 in the Canadian amateur in spite of a bad beating later, and Ross Somerville, of Canada, another entry, batted out a 70. And Somerville can play a lot of golf.

The northwest contingent is coming on with a small group that needed 148 or beter to qualify, leaving behind Don Moe, one of the five best amateur golfers in the world. But they can look out for Doc Willing and Frank Dolp. And they can look out for Charley Seaver, Lawson Little and Johnny Goodman.

Cyril Tolley recently returned two rounds in the neighborhood of 75 at the national, which is answer enough. And Beverly should suit the long-hitting Tolley with its demand for power.

In place of being anything like a drab championship, this next one should be all cluttered up with excitement as twenty sections of the United States send in their veterans and their kids. And it might be mentioned that with Phil Perkins, Cyril Tolley and Ross Somerville it is no part of a certainty that the United States of America will retain the big cup that Bobby Jones finally turns over to the field—one of the strongest fields any championship has known in years.

CRACKERS LOSE TO BARONS, 10 TO 1

Bancroft and hit Moore and let Susko bunt perfectly, filling the bases, as the fourth opened. Weis then singled to right, scoring Bancroft and Moore. With one ball on Gooch, Dobbs pulled Hearn and put Gregory in. Gooch singled off Gregory, scoring Susko but, in spite of several bad holes, Paul was little the worse off until the eighth. Three singles, two doubles and a home run ruined the White Sox hope in the eighth. Carithers gave up a single in the eighth, but soon checked the flow of runs. Andy Moore hit the home run with Bancroft on second.

Art Weis strengthened his batting average with three out of three, walking twice. Pete Susko garnered four out of five, while Cortazzo got three out of five.

Infield wild throws hurt the Crackers and shattered Hearn's hopes of winning his twelfth game. It was the Barons' twenty-second victory out of the last 26 games.

Atlanta Stars Enter Albany Shoot Today

ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Trap shooters from Georgia, Florida and Alabama will gather at Radium Springs tomorrow for a registered 10-event shoot.

The contests consist of six 25-singles, 2 handicaps and two doubles for trophies. Among those expected to attend are J. B. Royale, Tallahassee, Florida state champion, accompanied by 10 members of the Tallahassee club; H. N. Alford, C. W. Tway and others from Atlanta and teams from Deland, Sarasota and Thomasville. Robert Norris is cashier.

game would then be open for Schmeling to fight the most logical of the newcomers.

And retain his crown until some more are developed.

SAND THE TRACK.

The Crackers face one of those decisions today.

They are, following their collapse at Birmingham, just a half game ahead of both the Travelers and the Lookouts.

And just a game and a half out of sixth place.

Unless the Crackers put sand on the track they will enable the New Orleans Pelicans to keep intact their record of never finishing out of the first division since the league grew up.

The club has been a disappointment in its games with Birmingham. The last five straight have been dropped.

Unless sand is poured on the chutes the Crackers are going on down. If the Vols should prove tough during the remainder of the week the result would be disastrous.

CUBS WIN PAIR TO GAIN NOTCH AS GIANTS SPLIT

Cards Add Half Game by Taking Two Games From Robins.

Chicago's Cubs battled their way back into second place in the National league pennant race yesterday when they took both ends of a double bill from the Philadelphia Phillies. The scores were 7-3 and 12-1.

The Phils forced the Cubs into an extra inning before giving up in the opener. Bob Smith hurled the Bruins to victory in the last game.

The Giants split a double-header with the Pirates despite the three home runs by Mel Ott, Giant outfielder. The Bucs took the first game, 6-4. In this game Ott banged two homers. Bill Walker limited the Bucs to three hits in the second game and the McGrawmen won, 9-0.

The St. Louis Cardinals added a half game to their lead when they took two games from those Brooklyn Robins. They won, 5-0 and 8-5. Jess Haines gave up 11 hits in the first game, but managed to blank the Birds.

The double bill between Cincinnati and Boston was rained out.

Trot Crown Race Is Halted by Rain

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The grand circuit harness racing program, featured by the $60,000 Hambletonian stakes for the three-year-old trotting championship, was postponed today until tomorrow, because of the muddy condition of the track.

It was the second straight day the weather has prevented racing at Good Time park.

BOYNTON BOWS TO TEXAS BOY IN CULVER MEET

Carr and Cheshire Lose in Doubles; Boynton Wins.

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Henry Holden, Houston, Texas, seeded eight in the draw, eliminated George Boynton, Atlanta, from the national junior tennis championship here today in a stirring fourth-round match. Holden was forced to three sets by the plucky Atlantan, who finally succumbed, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1.

Holden's unerring accuracy with his crisp volleys at the net ultimately earned him the victory, although Boynton passed him repeatedly during the long struggle. The Texan's greater heighth gave him a reach that made him almost invincible once he worked his way up to the net..

Boynton and his partner, Art Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., went into the third round of the junior doubles by defeating Clark and Leyda, Pittsburgh, 6-3, 6-3. Holden and his partner, Sterling Williams, Austin, Texas, eliminated Julian Carr and Ross Cheshire, Atlanta, from the doubles in a second-round match by a 6-3, 6-3 count.

Hal Surface, of Kansas City, seeded No. 12, provided the first big upset of the tournament Wednesday when he eliminated Bernard Friedman, of Philadelphia, seeded No. 4, in the fourth round, 6-4, 6-3.

Jack Lynch, Taft (Cal.) star who was seeded No. 3, had to extend himself to survive the round. He finally defeated Richard Hebard, of White Plains, N. Y., 3-6, 6-1, 10-8.

Billy Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., defeated J. L. Beaver, Gainesville, Ga., 6-3, 6-3, while in boys' third-round singles, Gene Marko, Los Angeles, defeated Joe Whalen, Miami, Fla., 6-4, 3-6, and Edward Sutter, New Orleans, defeated Norman Bickell, Chicago, 6-3, 9-7.

Howard Advances At Montgomery.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Favorites, with few exceptions, come through with ease in the Alabama state tennis tournament today and a number advanced through the first round without the formality of a contest, their opponents defaulting.

Wilmer Hines Jr., of Columbia, S. C., ruling favorite to win the men's singles crown, advanced through default as did Mel Tarpley, of Tampa, another out-of-state player considered to have a good chance to win.

Alabama's two chief hopes, Robert Little, of Tuscaloosa, and J. C. Miller Jr., of Birmingham, won their matches handily, Miller advancing to the third round with the loss of only one game.

Little took his first-round match from William Hessigner, of Montgomery, 6-0, 6-0.

Miller, seeded No. 5, beat Bonneau Murray, of Montgomery, 6-0, 6-0, and won his second-round match from Dr. L. E. Morton, of Anniston, Ala., 6-0, 6-1.

Charles Hume, New Orleans, seeded No. 4, won from Walker Reynolds, Anniston, Ala., 6-0, 6-1.

In other first-round matches in men's singles, John L. Carter, Montgomery, won from James Duffy, New York, 6-1, 6-1; Claire Barclift, Birmingham, eliminated Joe South, Montgomery, 6-3, 6-1; Ray Wheeler, Anniston, trimmed A. A. Evans, New York, 6-3, 6-3.

Pierre Howard, Atlanta, won from Aubrey Stabler, Greenville, Ala., 6-1, 6-3; Carey Stabler defeated John Andrews, Montgomery, 6-2, 6-0.

In a second-round match, Harvey Terrell, Birmingham, trimmed Edwin Hatch, Uniontown, Ala., 6-2, 6-1. Both advanced through the first round by default.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three or four attempts to carry on the Tuesday rally failed in today's stock market. Prices closed with a heavy tone, canceling approximately half the flashy advance of the previous session.

Railroad securities imposed a drag of other groups. Rail stocks refused to extend their rise and many carrier bonds weakened. Activity was considerably above the average for the past fortnight, amounting to 1,258,780 shares, but a good bit below yesterday's volume.

Until mid-afternoon the market was a narrow and generally colorless affair. Around the beginning of the last hour prices were marked up with some success, United States Steel climbing to 90 1-2, final prices proved to be virtually the day's lows. Steel common sold off 1 1-4 net.

In the rails, Atchison returned a loss of 4 1-4.

The trend in the steel industry seems to have acquired some degree of firmness. Estimates of current operations differed, but none of the trade reviews reported a decline. Iron Age said there had been no change in the 30 per cent rate, but emphasized several important market factors that pointed to an early upturn.

Not so encouraging was the decline in electric power output, representing a reversal of seasonal tendencies, nor the July jump in copper stocks to a record high, the fourth consecutive monthly rise.

Cotton was quiet, but still a little heavy, losing 40 to 60 cents a bale on the day. Grains, however, improved, wheat moving up a cent.

There was some irregularity to the foreign exchanges, but firmness of sterling, comfortably above the gold point, created a good impression. Cables ruled at $4.85 13-16, up 1-16.

BANKS OF U. S. RECORD DECLINE IN RESOURCES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Total resources of the 6,805 national banks in continental United States decreased $483,769,000 between March 25 and June 30 to an aggregate of $27,642,608,000.

T. W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, in announcing figures today, said that as compared to a year ago when there were 7,252 national banks, the June 30 resources showed a decrease of $1,473,841,000.

Total deposit liabilities of the banks on June 30 were $22,198,240,000, a decrease of $145,926,000 since March and a drop of $1,070,644,000 for the year.

The aggregate deposit liabilities on June 30 included demand deposits of $10,105,885,000 and time deposits of $8,579,590,000. The remainder was made up of deposits due banks and bankers, certified and cashiers' checks, and United States government deposits.

In the time deposits was included postal savings of $207,205,000, time certificates of deposit of $1,311,535,000, and savings pass book accounts of $6,031,314,000. The latter division represented 15,245,028 accounts.

Loans and discounts, including rediscounts on June 30, amounted to $13,177,485,000, a decrease of $544,587,000 in three months, and $1,710,267,000 in the year.

Paid-in capital stock of the banks amounted to $1,687,663,000, a decrease of $28,591,000 since March, and $56,311,000 in the year.

Surplus funds of $1,493,876,000, and net undivided profits, excluding reserve accounts, of $443,592,000, or a total of $1,937,468,000 showed a decrease of $125,187,000 in three months and $199,744,000 in 12 months.

Liability of reporting banks on account of circulating notes outstanding was $639,304,000 compared with $645,523,000 in March and $652,339,000 a year ago.

Holdings of United States securities aggregated $3,256,268,000, an increase of $63,550,000 since March and $502,327,000 in the year.

Other miscellaneous bonds, stocks and securities owned amounted to $4,418,569,000, a decrease of $51,090,000 in the three months, but an increase of $284,339,000 in the year.

Cash in banks of $368,589,000 showed increases in the three and 12-month periods of $34,467,000 and $26,082,000, respectively.

The percentage of loans and discounts to total deposits on June 30 was 59.36, compared with 61.41 on March 25, and 63.98 on June 30, 1930.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, 10 points down at 6.20.

Receipts 55; shipments 302; stocks 166,478.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Cotton was generally lower today.

Buying by trade interests and covering kept the selling within a comparatively narrow range. After advancing from 6.99 to 7.07, December broke to 6.97 in the later trading and closed at 7.03. The general market closed steady at net declines of 8 to 12 points.

The opening was barely steady, 8 to 12 points lower in response to the decline in Liverpool, with active months showing net losses of 12 to 16 points during the early trading.

Offerings increased after the publication of the weekly weather review which appeared to be more favorable than anticipated by some of the early buyers, and prices sagged off under the selling. It sent October down to 6.76 and March to 7.27 during the middle of the day. Later fluctuations were irregular with closing quotations showing rallies of 5 or 6 points from the lowest.

The trade buying reported during the day was supposed to include some buying for Japanese and continental account, while Liverpool was a seller here during the earlier trading. Southern selling was a little more in evidence, according to some of the local brokers, but offerings from that source were said to be comparatively light.

The New York Cotton Exchange service estimated domestic consumption for July at 425,000 bales compared with 455,000 in June and 399,000 in July a year ago, but the figures appeared to attract very little market attention.

Liverpool cables reported hedging, local and foreign liquidation with a poor offtake in that market, but said there was a slightly better inquiry for cotton cloths. Exports today 50 bales, making 43,228 so far this season. Port receipts 3,359 bales. United States port stocks 2,759,751.

6 TO 10-POINT LOSSES MADE IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Following the excitement attending the government's crop estimate the cotton market has apparently fallen into a rut from which it will take fresh developments to extricate it. Trading today was very moderate and prices following an opening decline of 9 points due to very unfavorable cables fluctuated within a comparatively narrow range, advancing 5 to 6 points at one time on trade buying and easing off 8 to 9 points later on selling by ring traders. Neither the weekly weather report, considered generally favorable, nor a storm warning for a tropical disturbance near Santo Domingo exerted any appreciable influence. The market ruled quiet but steady all afternoon, with prices gradually improving under moderate short covering, gaining 5 to 6 points from the lows. The close was steady, the general market showing net losses for the day of 6 to 10 points.

Liverpool came in 5 penny points worse than due and private cables stated that there was hedge selling in the market there and foreign liquidation. Manchester cabled that the offtake was poor but there was a slightly better cloth inquiry.

Port receipts 3,359; for week 13,748; for season 26,234; last season 117,217. Exports 50; for week 12,416; for season 41,158; last season 57,914. Port stock 2,754,693; last year 1,595,165. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 41,256; last year 20,848. Spot sales at southern markets 3,632; last year 11,667.

Brokers' Views

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The cotton market was steady today though at a slightly lower range of prices. Trading was rather mixed, owing to conflicting developments and fluctuations were narrow. Closing sales showed only small net losses.

Locals were inclined to sell but the trade and investors absorbed the offerings so easily that there was no aggressive selling.

Forecast of July consumption indicates an increase of 46,000 bales over last year, while the report of a tropical disturbance created more or less uneasiness as to the weather outlook of the next few days.

BEER & CO.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—The cotton market seemed to have gotten into another rut with the crop ideas mixed, some believing the government estimate too large, others claiming it is about right and still others holding the opinion that it is too low. The local market opened today 6 to 9 points off on the active months, in line with lower cables than due and not much overnight rain indicated by early reports. The price movement was within an extremely narrow range during the morning, a favorable government weekly crop summary causing only a slight decline, which was quickly recovered by trade buying which appears on all setbacks, while free offerings developed on all advances. The detailed weather map indicates moderate to heavy general rains in the Carolinas but none of consequence elsewhere.

HUBBARD BROS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The market was subjected to very little change after the opening setback due to lower Liverpool cables. Again the trade were buyers on the opening which lent a very steady tone to the market. The market during most of the day could be classed as steady, although it had no definite trend. The general sentiment still continues bearish but at the same time cotton prices have not gone below the low prices reached on Monday, so this leaves traders rather cautious in view of the fact that the market technically is in a position to rally on any bullish news.

Liverpool futures are due tomorrow: October 3.62; January 3.74.

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Stocks yielded their forenoon gains on profit-taking and opposition from quarters inclined to question the market's ability to extend its advance without supporting good news. The limited quantity of stocks appearing on setbacks, however, provided little incentive for aggressiveness on part bearishly disposed traders. Attempts to initiate another drive against the rails, moreover, met well defined resistance.

Business statistics struck a new chord in that, while changes for the week were admittedly moderate, they tended toward the constructive side in contrast with previous exhibits. Freight loadings were up 15,541 cars, while the steel reviews discovered a text for optimism in the 1 per cent advance of steel-making activity.

BEER & CO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Yesterday's advance was not extended in early trading today but the market was well supported throughout the morning only a little below yesterday's highs and early in the afternoon another rally put United States Steel above its high of yesterday. However, the run up in the afternoon seemed to bring out more selling than buying and was followed by reactionary tendencies toward the close, which accounted for the averages losing part of their gains of yesterday.

The general effect of the day's market action is to make yesterday's rally appear as largely a technical move against a new short interest which had accumulated during the dull markets of the past week or so. At the same time the fact that so little selling was met in the early stages of the rally makes it seem unlikely that much additional liquidation is to be met within the immediate future at the levels which constituted support for the leading stocks earlier in the week.

DOBBS & CO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—We continue of the opinion that the absence of sustaining business factors is the major influence in the current stock market situation, and that important offerings of leading stocks will check effort to effect a sustained advance until signs of lasting improvement are seen on the industrial horizon. Renewal of active offerings in the last hour today with resulting heavy declines, we believe, will invite further selling tomorrow. Another factor to be considered is that a large part of the short interest has been eliminated from the market, and that for the time being there will be less resistance from this source of support. This applies particularly to United States Steel, American Can, Westinghouse, Bethlehem and J. I. Case and other issues which have been lending at premiums.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—After the market had remained in a quiet trading range throughout the morning, an attempt was made to renew the advance by putting up Steel common but the results of this maneuver were so unimpressive as to bring about a generally heavy tone in later dealings, resulting in a fair-sized loss for the day. Such action by the market is not especially encouraging, neither does it offer any grounds for renewed bearishness, as it may only indicate a technical adjustment following yesterday's too rapid advance. However, some little concern is being caused by the mediocre action of the rails, which generally speaking lagged on the advance yesterday and were in special supply again today with Atchison, Union Pacific and New York Central showing special weakness.

COURTS & CO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The market ran into unexpected selling today and it must be said that the pressure was not confidently resisted. Obviously, the market for the leading rails is still thin and when selling developed in the afternoon these stocks gave ground quickly and easily. The rally in the rails Tuesday apparently did not dissipate belief that no rate relief can be expected until late in the year, if then, and that any improvement will have to depend absolutely upon betterment in general business conditions. It is agreed that operating economies have gone just as far as they safely can go.

FENNER & BEANE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—After opening slightly easier because Liverpool cables were somewhat weaker than due, the market showed a steadier undertone throughout the rest of the day with final prices near the top. The late firmness was in face of a weak corn market and sharp declines in Winnipeg and Minneapolis, where the early tone had been decidedly strong. The Searle Elevator Company interpret their crop report of yesterday, showing condition of 52 per cent for western Canada, to mean a crop of 225,000,000 to 235,000,000 bushels, which is somewhat higher than local estimates. The government weekly crop summary showed little change in the western provinces for the week and said hot weather was needed in northern districts of Alberta and Saskatchewan to mature crops before frost.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Corn today showed remarkable strength, then weakness and then a renewal of vigor. Trade reports that ton for ton corn was almost $4 cheaper as fuel than coal had much to do with hoisting the corn market. As a result of increased selling on price upturns, however, temporary setbacks carried corn down to fresh bottom levels for the season, but another outburst of buying led to a brisk new advance as the market closed.

Corn closed nervous, 1-4 to 1 1-8 cents higher than yesterday's finish, wheat 3-4 to 1 advanced, oats 1-2 to 3-4 up, and provisions varying from 32 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

North central Iowa points reported that the value of new corn, delivered at rural elevators after being shelled, was 17 cents a bushel on the current market basis, and that coal at the same points was $8.50 a ton, making corn as fuel $3.97 a ton cheaper than coal.

A strong undertone in wheat and oats was ascribed largely to sympathy with corn. Oats crop news continued unfavorable.

Provisions reflected weakness of hog values.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—The United States Gypsum Company today declared its regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share on common stock and $1.75 on preferred stock.

Additional Issue

Electric Bond and Share Company

(A New York Corporation)

Cumulative $5 Preferred Stock

Callable as a whole or in part upon 30 days' notice at any time at $110 per share and accrued dividends, upon affirmative vote of a majority of outstanding Common Stock. Dividends are payable quarterly, February 1, May 1, August 1 and November 1.

For further particulars concerning the Company and its cumulative $5 Preferred Stock, we refer to the letter of Mr. S. Z. Mitchell, Chairman of the Board of the Company, which we summarize as follows:

Business — Electric Bond and Share Company acts in a supervisory capacity for certain electric power and light and other public utility companies and supplies technical and financial assistance in connection with the financing, operation and business development of these companies and the construction of their properties. It is a service company and not a holding company as that term is ordinarily used. It is not engaged in the business of supplying electric power or light, gas, street railway or other public utility service, nor does it control any company doing such business in the United States. It controls one public utility holding company only, viz., American & Foreign Power Company Inc., through ownership of a majority of its junior securities. That company controls public utility subsidiaries operating entirely in foreign countries. Electric Bond and Share Company also owns and holds for investment substantial minority interests in five other public utility holding companies, viz.: American Gas and Electric Company, American Power & Light Company, National Power & Light Company, Electric Power & Light Corporation and United Gas Corporation, the subsidiaries of which supply electric power and light service and in many cases also other public utility service in thirty-two states of the United States.

Earnings — Earnings for the twelve months ended June 30, 1931, as shown in the Chairman's letter, were equal to more than 4¼ times annual dividend requirements on all Preferred Stocks to be outstanding upon completion of this financing.

Equity — The Preferred Stocks are followed by 15,042,148 965/1000 shares of Common Stock of no par value, which has an indicated market value, based on the present market price, of more than $500,000,000.

Legal matters in connection with the issuance of this $5 Preferred Stock will be passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts of New York.

This Stock is offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel at $89.75 a share and accrued dividends, to yield 5.57%

BY ALEXANDER HENDERSON.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The persistent heaviness of the railroad obligations continued to impose a heavy drag on the bond market today, and the trend was irregularly lower.

The average of 10 representative railroad issues again recorded a new low level for the movement, but the foreign issues, with a few exceptions, continued to recover. Industrial liens were mixed, while utilities were generally about steady.

Gains ranging from fractions to more than 4 points were common in the Brazilian, Chilean and government of Argentine issues. Reflecting the unsettlement in Cuba, Cuban public works 5 1-2s lost a couple of points. The European dollar bonds were irregularly higher, particularly the German issues, although the German government 5 1-2s encountered profit-taking and closed 1-4 of a point lower.

In the rails, such issues as Baltimore & Ohio 1st 4s, Michigan Central 4 1-2s and the New York Central consolidated 4s sagged 1 to 1 1-2 points to new low prices for the year or longer. Wider losses were common among the second-grade or thinly traded carrier obligations.

In the industrials, Bethlehem Steel refunding 5s, Remington Rand 5 1-2s with warrants and St. Joseph Lead 5 1-2s were among issues up a point or so.

The American Telephone issues were about steady and fairly active.

United States government obligations were little changed.

BOND INTEREST PASSED BY GREAT NORTHERN

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The International Great Northern railroad, which operates in the southwest, will pay no interest on adjustment mortgage bonds due October 1, the board of directors announced here today. O. P. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, is chairman of the board.

According to the railroad's financial statement its net operating income for the first six months of 1930 was only $59,310 as against $1,389,618 for the same period this year. A large part of the railroad's business consists of transporting oil in the Texas Panhandle district.

Edwin G. Wagner, assistant treasurer and assistant secretary of the Great Northern, said it is within the discretion of the directors to pass the interest payment. The same action, he said, was taken on the interest due last April. They issued no statement.

At the same time directors of the Missouri Pacific railroad announced a dividend of 1 1-4 per cent on its preferred stock for the quarter ended October 1. This is payable to stock of record as of September 14.

Texas & Pacific directors announced a 1 1-4 per cent dividend on both its common and preferred, payable September 30 on stock of record as of September 14.

The directors of the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico declared interest on its 5 per cent non-cumulative income bonds payable at 2 1-2 per cent covering the six months prior to June 30. The interest is payable October 1 on presentation of surrender coupon No. 30.

COTTONSEED CRUSHED DECREASES IN YEAR

Miscellaneous Markets.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Cotton goods were quiet today, with prices easing. Acetate rayon yarns continued in steady demand. Weavers are using more than a year ago. Silks were selling to the cutting trades in fair volume. New lines of tropical suitings for 1932 were offered at reductions varying from 20c to 25c a yard. Burlaps were quiet.

METALS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Copper quiet; electrolytic spot and future 7½@7½. Iron quiet, unchanged. Tin firm; spot and near-by 26.00; future 26.15. Lead steady; spot New York 4.40; East St. Louis 4.22. Zinc quiet; East St. Louis spot and future 3.82@3.85. Antimony 6.60.

RUBBER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Rubber futures closed dull: September 5.20; December 5.50. New contracts—September 5.32; December 5.55; March 5.75. Spot-smoked ribbed 5½.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Shipments of the Segal Safety Razor Corporation, division of the Segal Lock & Hardware Co., in July were the largest since organization of the company, Louis Segal, president, said. "They were approximately 30 per cent greater than in June," he added.

The Iron Age composite prices of pig iron and steel scrap have declined slightly this week, the former to $15.50 from $15.54, and the latter to $9.25 from $9.42 a week ago. The finished steel composite price is unchanged at 2.116 cents a pound.

VALUES ON CURB MEET PRESSURE

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—With the exception of the oil shares, the curb market was somewhat heavy today, as a reaction to yesterday's abrupt upturn.

Trading slackened considerably, although the turnover of 220,000 shares was well above the recent low levels. Never the less, it was roughly 70,000 shares less than yesterday's turnover.

Oils again reflected the better feeling in the industry as result of the firming of gasoline prices which has followed the Oklahoma shutdown of wells.

An active and firm feature of the oil shares was Imperial, Canadian member of the Standard group, which rose a point. Gulf gained a point in a light turnover, and Humble and Indiana were steady.

Utilities generally lost ground. Electric Bond & Share, most active share in the list, lost nearly a point, and American Gas & Electric sagged 1 1-2.

Industrials were mixed. Aluminum Co. sold up 4 points, then lost most of its gain. In the motors, Ford of Canada "A" was firm, but Ford, Ltd., and Stutz eased.

JULIUS ROSENWALD ILL ON 69TH BIRTHDAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Julius Rosenwald, financier and philanthropist, observed his sixty-ninth birthday today in a sick room at his Highland Park estate.

His health, Mrs. Rosenwald said, has shown improvement during recent weeks, but under orders of physicians, only members of the immediate family were permitted to see him.

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time .... 20 cents
Three times .... 17 cents
Seven times .... 15 cents

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate earned.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification and The Constitution reserves the right to revise or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted from persons listed in the telephone or city directory on memorandum charge only. In return for this courtesy the advertiser is expected to remit promptly.

TARZAN AT THE EARTH'S CORE No. 64
By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Jana seated herself at Tarzan's side. "They are going to kill you," she whispered. "I know these people. Carb will have his way. You were Jason's friend and so was I. If we can escape I can lead the way back to Zoram. Once there, since you are my brother Thoar's friend, Zoram's people will have to accept you." "Why do you whisper?" asked a gruff voice behind them, and turning they saw the angry face of Avan, the chief.

Without waiting for a reply he said to Maral: "Take the woman to the cavern. She remains there until the council decides who shall have her for a mate." As Jana followed the chief's wife she cast an appealing glance at Tarzan. The ape-man looked quickly about him. Only a few warriors were near the opening of the trail which led down the canyon. Alone he might have won his way through, but with the girl it would have been impossible.

And so Tarzan shook his head, and his lips, which were turned away from Avan, formed the word "wait!" As the Red Flower of Zoram disappeared in the dark cavern of the Clovians the chief addressed the ape-man. "As for you, man of another country, until the council decides your fate you are a prisoner. Into the cavern with you!" The ape-man hesitated. A bold dash for freedom might carry him beyond the few warriors who lolled idly about, expecting no emergency.

Tarzan felt certain the voice of the council would doom him to death. Then he would be surrounded by all the warriors of Clovi, alert and ready to prevent his escape. It was now—or never. But Tarzan of the Apes made no break for liberty. Instead he turned and strode toward the entrance of the cavern. For the Red Flower of Zoram had appealed to him for aid and he could not desert the sister of Thoar and the friend of Jason in her time of need.

HOOVER AND GIFFORD DISCUSS EMPLOYMENT

Economic Situation Is Topic at White House Breakfast Conference.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Business and unemployment were the subjects of a breakfast table conference today between President Hoover and Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

It was the second time within a week the two have discussed the economic situation over their morning coffee. Today's talk lasted so long that it was nearly 10 o'clock before Mr. Hoover reached his office. Generally he is at work by 8.

The meeting was regarded by observers here as of unusual significance since Gifford's company is one of the largest in the world and its fact-finding organization is regarded by President Hoover as extremely efficient.

ST. LOUISAN NAMED TO POST WITH FRISCO

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—W. E. McGraw, former vice president and general superintendent of the Cotton Belt railroad, has been appointed special representative to H. L. Worman, vice president of the St. Louis-San Francisco railway in charge of operations, it was announced at Frisco headquarters here today.

McGraw will have his headquarters here.

U. S. HOLDS LEADERSHIP IN GASOLINE TRADE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The United States is still the world's gasoline trade leader.

However, other countries are making inroads, as indicated by commerce department reports today showing American exports of 63,195,331 barrels in 1930. This was only 49 per cent of the world trade as against 72 per cent in 1924.

TRADER LIVES UP TO HIS NAME.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Wherever fair exchange is made
Has been established honest trade.
—Trader the Wood Rat.

Trader the Wood Rat was happy. Yes, sir, he was happy. For a long time there had been no one in the old cabin near his home. He knew all about that cabin. There wasn't a corner or a shelf or a crack or a hole that he didn't know about. There was nothing left in that cabin. There hadn't been since it was last occupied. And now two of those great two-legged creatures had moved in, and they were bound to have a lot of things to trade for. Trader could hardly wait for darkness to come that he might visit that cabin, he being one of the little people who go abroad at night instead of by day.

The next night he had to wait as before for his neighbors, the Skunks, to tire of playing on the cabin floor. As soon as they left he entered. Almost the first thing he discovered was an old can filled with pretty white pebbles and shells. His eyes sparkled. He did love shiny things. They were of no use to look at, but who shall say that things that give pleasure because someone enjoys looking at them are not useful? Trader forgot about the shoes. He started in at once to carry away those white pebbles and shells.

"I'll trade fair for these," thought he. "When I have emptied this thing I'll fill it up again with something I don't want. That will be a fair trade. Exchanging something you don't want for something you do want is good trading. I'll make a good trade tonight."

There is nothing lazy about Trader. He is an industrious little fellow. He worked hard and fast. It took many trips to get all those pebbles and shells over to his home and properly placed in his collection. Then it took almost as many trips to take back and fill that can with the things he would pay for what he had taken. And all the time he hadn't the least idea that Farmer Brown's Boy was chuckling silently as he peeped over the edge of his bunk and watched, or that the latter had that day picked up those pebbles and shells along the brook while he was fishing and brought them up to the cabin especially for Trader.

When he got up in the morning the first thing Farmer Brown's boy did was to look in that can. Then he chuckled. "I guess it was a fair trade," said he. The can was filled with little bones that Trader had made a collection of when he could find nothing better.

GIRL NAMES SLAYER OF COAST GUARDSMAN

NEWBERN, N. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mary Cannon, who was with John Peel when the 38-year-old Pamlico coast guardsman was shot to death, today identified a newspaper photograph of Ben Thompson, of Goldsboro, as Peel's slayer.

Thompson has not been arrested.

Highlights of Wall Street

BY CHARLES W. STORM, Editor, the News Service of Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Although the general stock market developed a reactionary tendency today the Street did not give up hope that Tuesday's rally was the beginning of a substantial advance in anticipation of an improvement in fall business. Those who follow the tape closely declare that the market is acting exactly as it did early in June when the last substantial rally from the low levels started.

The inability of the general list to continue Tuesday's advance was attributed to the elimination of a substantial part of the short interest which was responsible to a great degree for the rally witnessed on that day. It was also attributed in part to the unwillingness of prospective buyers of stocks to bid up prices. Those important banking interests who are reported to be accumulating stocks at this level also curtailed their aggressiveness, being content to add to their holdings on the recession.

Net losses in the industrial shares ranged from 1 to 4 points in the most active issues, while the net declines in the rails ranged from 1 to 3 points. Opening prices showed firmness compared with the preceding final figures but the absence of buying orders caused the general list to sag. The weakness, however, did not become pronounced until the last hour, when the lowest prices for the day were recorded.

One favorable feature of the reaction was the report that those prominent banking interests who believe that improvement has started to manifest itself were buyers on the way down.

The inability of the general list to continue upward resulted in a curtailment of activity on the part of pools which are undertaking constructive movements in innumerable issues, particularly stocks selling for a small number of dollars per share.

HOPEFUL STEEL REPORTS.

The fact that the weekly reviews on the steel industry contained some ray of hope was a source of encouragement. While these reviews differed as to whether steel operations were maintained or were slightly higher the last week, they concurred in the belief that there were some important signs of a pickup in the steel business in the near future. It may be that this belief is also shared in some important banking quarters where there has been accumulation of Steel common recently.

Steel common at one time today showed an advance of more than a point, but this was lost in the late dealings when the whole market sold off abruptly. A firm which in past years has been reported to have acted for interests close to the United States Steel Corporation was a substantial buyer of Steel common today.

Heaviness of American Can and its net loss of more than 2 points was due in a large measure to selling which accompanied reports that the tin plate business had the last week shown a further contraction of about 5 per cent, with indications of further curtailment to a lesser degree than witnessed the last month.

By Bill Key,
Radio Reporter.

ENTERTAINMENT features offered the radio audience today by the National Broadcasting Company include both musical and dramatic programs.

An outstanding dramatic sketch with musical background, "Minuet," built around an episode of the French revolution, will be heard under Vida Ravenscroft Sutton's direction on the Magic of Speech program over an NBC-WEAF network from 2 to 2:30 p. m.

Another example of radio drama is the Rin Tin Tin thriller, "The Secret Panel," to be heard over an NBC-WJZ network from 6:15 to 6:30 p. m. The dog hero discloses the manner in which an eccentric scientist met death. Izaak Walton, patron saint of fishermen, will be the reincarnated guest of honor on the Arco Birthday Party to be broadcast over an NBC-WEAF network from 7 to 7:30 p. m.

From 7:30 to 8 o'clock, on an NBC-WJZ network, John Charles Thomas, famous baritone recently returned from a season in Belgium, will be guest artist on the Maxwell House program. It is the second of eight special programs on which he is featured.

At the same hour, over an NBC-WEAF network, the last of this season's outdoor concerts by Edwin Franko Goldman and his band will be heard from the campus of New York University.

Another broadcast, featuring Princess Ivanova Obolensky, will be the "Paris Night Life" program to be heard from 8:45 to 9 o'clock over an NBC-WJZ network.

Guy Lombardo has promised to tell "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," when he is interviewed by Bob Taplinger, Columbia writer, during the broadcast of "Meet the Artist" over the Columbia network at 3:45 p. m. This broadcast will mark one of the very few occasions on which the popular orchestra leader has spoken into the microphone.

The present success of his Royal Canadians' orchestra is a far cry from the day in Ontario, Canada, some 15 years ago when Guy, aided and abetted by brother Carmen and Fred Kreitzer, made his debut before a Mothers' Club meeting. Encouraged by the applause and influenced by the teaching of their father, a musician, they enlarged the orchestra, drafting another brother, Lebert, the trumpeter, and other players. A fourth brother, Victor, is now in the band, and all but two of the original Royal Canadians are still with Guy, making 11 in all.

Lombardo's formula for his popular slow-tempo music is quite simple. Because his personnel has been changed but little since the early days of the organization, the musicians play together with a sense of balance and phrasing that can be acquired only after years of playing together. Experience has taught them the charm of simplicity in orchestration and the subtle art of pianissimo dynamics.

THE BOSWELL SISTERS—Connie, Martha and Vet, have made a unique arrangement of "Shine On, Harvest Moon," which they will sing in "that Boswell manner" as the highlight of their broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network at 6:45 p. m. This song, now being revived in the current Ziegfeld Follies, was first popularized more than a decade ago by Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth.

Enjoyable Weather To Continue Today

Rainfall in excess for month... .33 inch
Rainfall deficiency for year.11.38 inches
Temperature Wednesday .....78 degrees
Temperature one year ago....87 degrees

The coolest August weather that the city has experienced in many moons is still on the program for today, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist, and the menu is "fair and moderately cool. Temperatures possibly between 63 and 82 degrees." Wednesday the day was cool and very pleasant for Atlanta, the mercury dropping no lower than 63 degrees and getting no higher than 78.

ARCHITECT INSPECTS WEST POINT P. O. SITE

WEST POINT, Ga., Aug. 12.—R. S. Hart, of Washington, representing the supervising architect's office, spent yesterday in West Point getting final data for the new postoffice building. While here Mr. Hart looked over old plans, prepared some years ago, but which were not used on account of dissatisfaction with the former site.

"West Point will get a much better building by reason of the delay," said Mr. Hart.

TELEVISION NEAR, LAFOUNT THINKS

U. S. Radio Commissioner Guest of Local Dealers at Dinner.

Television will eventually be commercially feasible; television receiving sets will retail for approximately $75, but television is not now a commercially sound enterprise, despite the fact that several companies are putting television sets on the market, is the opinion of Harold A. LaFount, federal radio commissioner, who addressed a group of members of the Atlanta Radio Dealers' Association at a dinner given in his honor Wednesday night at Rich's tea room.

The problems confronting the proper development of television are strictly technical, the commissioner said, and are not a matter of federal opposition. As the sets now on the market are made, permission to all companies that claim to be prepared to broadcast pictures would crowd the available ether about ten to one. So the commission has denied license to all companies until such a time as the device is perfected.

In some sections, automobiles are being fitted out with radios to a very great extent. In several cities, every taxi is equipped with a radio. In many instances homes in some sections are beginning to install two sets. These and other indications lead Commissioner LaFount to believe that this winter will be one of the greatest years for radio since its invention. Following these remarks, and a brief outline of some of the problems of the commission itself, in which he likened it to an agency of traffic, he closed with a complimentary remark or two about the homes of Atlanta.

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University, thanked the commissioner for his talk, with the remark that the radio was the greatest medium for the dissemination of education ever conceived by the mind of man. He prophesied that this country would see the time when 100 of the most able and brilliant educators in the country would broadcast the classics from some central point, in such a way that some one of the truths of the ages would be on the air each hour of the day, and that an education would be procurable by any one with no other expenditure than the initial cost of his receiving set, and of his time.

LABOR UNION OPPOSES CITY PAY DONATION

Vigorous opposition to the proposal that city employes donate one month's salary to meet a deficiency in the municipal treasury was voiced by the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its semi-monthly meeting Wednesday night.

"Such a plan would place the burden of a debt that rightfully belongs to 278,000 people upon the shoulders of about 3,000 city employes," the resolution adopted by the federation points out.

The central labor body also deplored the use of veiled threats against employes who might demur to the month's salary donation plan, characterizing such procedure as "imperious and unbecoming the highest executive of our city."

Pledging its support and co-operation in any constructive plan for the relief of the city's financial emergency, the federation went on record as opposing the salary donation proposal as being "out of harmony with justice and fair dealing."

HIGHWAY BUDGET IN FLORIDA CUT

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A slash of $431,000 in its maintenance budget for the year was made by the state road department at a session here today.

The action, members said, would decrease the bills payable for the new year from approximately $750,000 to $319,000.

MUSCLE SHOALS BIDS ASKED BY COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Bids for private leasing and operating of Muscle Shoals were invited today from 135 leading chemical, farm industrial and power enterprises by the Muscle Shoals commission.

They are to be submitted by September 1.

Wholesale Wire Tapping Charged to Capone Mob

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Chicago Tribune said today that federal agents had reported that the gang of Alphonse Capone has been tapping telephone wires on a large scale in an effort to keep advised as to the movements of both law enforcing agencies and independent bootleggers.

The agents said that by tapping the wires of independent liquor distributors the Capone syndicate has been able to learn when a load of liquor is to be moved so that it can be hijacked.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Divorce of the Atlanta public school system from council with authority to raise and expend its own funds independent of any other body will be considered at a special meeting of the board of education slated for 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Orie Head, county police desk sergeant, was back at the switchboard receiving reports from the county force Wednesday after a two weeks' vacation.

Dr. W. L. Gilbert, county commissioner, was appointed by that body at a special meeting Wednesday to confer with Gwinnett and Cobb county authorities concerning the building of a road from old Pinkneyville on Peachtree road west to Crooked creek. Gwinnett county commissioners have written to the Fulton board seeking to settle a matter concerning whether the Fulton county line embraces part of the new road or not.

H. P. Wright, deputy prohibition administrator, Wednesday made public the report for the fiscal year of prohibition enforcement in the northern district of Georgia. The report of the fiscal year, which ended June 30, shows that 800 cases were completed and that of this number 658 resulted in convictions, 56 were acquitted, 572 entered pleas and 85 were nol prossed. There were 142 trials in all, and 909 cases pending at the end of the period. Fines amounted to $27,918.

Thomas C. Law will be the principal speaker at the luncheon of the City Club of Atlanta, to be held at 12:30 p. m. today in the Tavern tea room. Mr. Law attended the international convention of Rotary Clubs in Vienna recently and will speak on "Some Impressions of Europe."

J. W. Cruse, 1140 Oak street, S. W., was placed under a $100 peace bond by Judge Clarence Bell in municipal court Wednesday to prevent him from carrying out threats he is alleged to have made against his wife, who resides at 1140 Peachtree road.

Peace warrant proceedings brought against B. F. Stoe, of 683 Marietta street, by A. R. McCullough, of 376 Luckie street, were dismissed in municipal court of Atlanta Wednesday morning. The proceedings were instituted when McCullough alleged that he had been attacked on Saturday night.

Garner Johnson, 19, who was arrested Saturday night and indicted Tuesday for larceny of an automobile and using a stolen license plate, entered a plea of guilty before Judge G. H. Howard in Fulton superior court Wednesday. He was given 12 months on the auto theft charge and three months on the misdemeanor count.

Mayor James L. Key left Atlanta Wednesday for Chattanooga, where he will address members of the Rotary Club at noon today on prohibition. He was accompanied on the trip by A. L. Belle Isle, member of a traffic commission; J. P. Womack, Key's campaign manager, and newspapermen. He will reiterate a charge that the present law is corrupting the American people and cannot be enforced as its friends would have it done.

Tax Assessors J. C. Little and Leo Sudderth Wednesday protested to Mayor James L. Key a proposed change in Georgia fi. fa. system providing for issuing a separate fi. fa. on each separate parcel of property no matter how many strips an individual owns. They held it would increase cost of operation of the department, and would be more expensive to property owners. The bill lacks only the signature of the governor to become a law.

Half a dozen Atlanta policemen are slated to face the police committee of council at the regular meeting of that body tonight. Charges range from making arrests without cause to drunkenness on duty.

Lester B. Lowenstein, adorned in an army uniform, dark glasses and a virile growth of beard, has hiked, according to his story from Phoenix, Ariz., to Atlanta, by way of Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York and Savannah, since July 3, or about five weeks. He plans to stop off in Kansas early in September for the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and then to be in Detroit for the American Legion convention. His stay in Atlanta has been short, but he has managed to get a letter from Governor Russell, wishing him luck, and expressing the hope that they meet in Detroit.

Central Night school's annual picnic will be given at Dixie lakes Saturday night. All students and former students who wish to attend are urged to meet on the lawn of the state capitol at 6 o'clock.

A son and a daughter of Mrs. Carrie Reed, of Riverside, Wednesday volunteered to submit to a transfusion of blood to save their mother's life. Mrs. Reed, at Grady hospital in a weakened condition following the birth last week of a daughter, must undergo a transfusion, and her children, Arnold Reed, 15, and Lucile Reed, 13, Wednesday offered to give their blood.

Central Iron & Steel Company, of Harrisburg, Pa., has opened offices at 314 William Oliver building, the industrial bureau of the Chamber of Commerce announced Wednesday. The office is in charge of Stanley A. Hunt, district sales manager, and the personnel will cover the states of Georgia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Florida, Louisiana, Alabama and part of North Carolina.

W. H. Braswell will speak on the proposed DeKalb and Fulton county merger at 7:45 o'clock Friday night at the DeKalb county courthouse in Decatur. Mr. Braswell is among those urging submission of the merger proposal to the voters of DeKalb county.

Safe breakers early Wednesday morning knocked the combination from the safe of J. R. Jamieson's offices, 339 Peachtree street, but obtained only a few cents, it was reported to police Wednesday. The vault was badly damaged.

Mrs. C. M. Dickinson, 62, of 509 Center street, active and prominent member of the First Baptist church of East Point, was reported in a critical condition Wednesday following an accident in which she fell and fractured her hip during a church picnic at Oakland City municipal park.

J. O. Brooks grocery, at Lakewood avenue and Richmond street, was entered late Tuesday night or early Wednesday by burglars who apparently were content with dismantling and stealing the telephone as their loot. The robbery was reported to police Wednesday, and officers were puzzled over the strange theft.

An argument over a dime developed into a fight in which Grover C. Merritt, of Central avenue, received several severe cuts about the face, head, and back Wednesday afternoon, according to police reports. Merritt was taken to Grady hospital weak from loss of blood, was treated, and dismissed. None of the cuts was serious. The altercation was said to have occurred at Moore and Decatur streets.

A sneak thief late Wednesday afternoon rifled a cash register in the S. H. Kress store at 43 Whitehall street, S. W., of $168, it was reported to the police. The report said a clerk had seen a negro loitering around the register and that when she opened it a few minutes later the money was gone.

TARIFF ACT BLAMED FOR U. S. DEPRESSION

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Prolongation of the present depression was attributed to the Smoot-Hawley tariff act by Jacob Viner, professor of economics of the University of Chicago, at the Institute of Politics today.

Professor Viner told members of the round table conference on international problems of commercial and financial policy there are excellent grounds for the belief that the tariff prolonged the depression and still is prolonging it.

He said the "flexible clause" in the Smoot-Hawley tariff act does not make for important reductions in the duties levied, and even if it did, the tariff commission, "heavily loaded with its high tariff men," would never invoke it to lower tariffs.

The Smoot-Hawley tariff act was termed by Professor Viner as "economically inexpedient." He said it makes exporting more difficult by raising the general price level of labor and raw materials. The gain in employment in the home consumption industries, he said, is more than offset by the loss of employment in the export industry.

THE Fulton county board, perennial "pinch-hitter" for Candler field, still is "batting a thousand" as far as our airport is concerned. Its most recent action—Wednesday afternoon—of agreeing to supplement the city's $35,000 fund for an administration building by an appropriation of $15,000, was a splendid gesture of continued co-operation and friendliness to Atlanta's improvement projects. It has the satisfaction of knowing, however, that its liberal contributions—in the present instance as well as in many others—have provided the support needed to make this airport the hub of southern aeronautics. . . . With the completion of the administration building and American Airways' fine new structure the word "hub" will mean no accident of geographic placing, but the actual center of progress as well as activity.

Members of the Fulton county board soon will be given a hop to Birmingham, where they may view from the air, as well as in more detail, the splendid building which that city erected as a part of its $1,000,000 airport program. The suggestion was made at the meeting Wednesday afternoon by J. H. Gray, Candler field manager, during the course of the discussion of the $15,000 appropriation. After the session Commissioner Longino moved that the offer be accepted and he has backed up unanimously. The trip probably will be made in one of American Airways' big air liners.

Beeler Blevins, veteran Atlanta pilot; Bonnie Rowe, local parachute artist, and a number of air corps reserve fliers, now in training at the airport, were Candler field's representatives at the "open house" held Wednesday by the Rome Chamber of Commerce. The Rome airport was the scene of the festivities, which included a barbecue in addition to the aeronautic activities. Rowe made a jump from the Kinner-powered Waco which Blevins flew to the affair; the army boys did some formation work and a balloon-bursting contest added to the gayety of the event. The reserve squadron included three Douglas O2H's, four PT3A's and one PT1. Twelve ships, all told, performed at the field during the afternoon.

Major General Frank R. McCoy, commander of the fourth corps area, and his aide, Lieutenant William S. Biddle, who took off as passengers in two army ships a few days ago bound for Camp Beauregard, Alexandria, La., Wednesday were at Dodd field, San Antonio, Texas, according to information received at Candler field, and probably will return here Sunday or Monday. The general is flying in a Douglas PT2B, piloted by Lieutenant E. A. Hillery, and his aide in a Thomas-Morse O19B, piloted by Lieutenant W. T. Beatty. The area commander is on an inspection trip to various posts in this section.

Five Curtiss O1's—the famous Falcon observation planes—will be sent there to replace the three Douglas O2H's now a part of the equipment of the Candler field air reserve unit, it was announced Wednesday by Lieutenant Raymond R. Brown, air officer for the fourth corps area. Two of the O1's, which are powered with Curtiss D-12 430-horsepower motors, are ready for delivery at Mitchel field, New York, and Lieutenant Brown plans to leave for the east early next week and fly one of them back here. With the arrival of the Curtiss planes the equipment for the local base will consist also of three Consolidated PT's and the Douglas BT2B.

Savannah, with one of the finest airports in the south, now is considering plans for the erection of a municipal hangar, it was reported in news dispatches from the south Georgia city Wednesday. It was said that the building, if and when built, will be thoroughly modern in every respect. Installation of the field's new lighting system is progressing satisfactorily, it was stated. Contracts call for the completion of that phase of the work by October 1.

Visiting airplanes at Candler field during the past few days included a six-place Travel Air monoplane, bound for Jacksonville from Oklahoma City, with I. D. Miller as pilot; a Stinson Junior, Jacksonville to Cincinnati, A. J. Marshall, pilot, and a new Stearman sport job, powered with a Wasp Junior, on its way to the east from San Antonio, Texas. John Frost, the owner-pilot, was carrying one passenger. These out-of-towners were serviced at the Curtiss-Wright hangar.

JEALOUSY IS BLAMED FOR DUAL TRAGEDY

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Milton Thomashefsky was shot in his office in a Brooklyn apartment house tonight, authorities said, by a 26-year-old nurse, who then fatally wounded herself.

"Presumptive jealousy" was the motive advanced by District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan, but the father of Miss Agnes Birdseye, the nurse, refused to accept the theory and said both were shot by a third person.

AGITATOR BANISHED BY MOBILE JUDGE

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 12.—(AP)—E. J. Redd, of Philadelphia, Pa., arrested by police for delivering speeches on the river front here advocating violence and social equality, today was ruled as an undesirable citizen by Recorder David H. Edington from the bench in city court.

Redd was told by the court to leave the city at once as he was not a desirable resident. His request that he be allowed 24 hours to secure work of some kind met with the order from the recorder to seek another city for his habitat of the future.

STATE LAND LOSS NOW $33,924,610

The Georgia property value loss for 1931 as shown by tax digests of 150 counties has reached $33,924,610, W. B. Harrison, comptroller-general, reported Wednesday. The original estimate of the ad valorem shrinkage was $40,000,000, and the actual shrinkage probably will not miss that sum by very much, it was said.

The 11 counties which have not reported their digests are Bacon, Charlton, Chatham, Dooly, Haralson, Mitchell, Peach, Rabun, Richmond, Tattnall and Terrell. Advance reports from Chatham and Richmond indicate that their 1931 digests will not vary much from last year's figures. The only counties showing increases so far are DeKalb, Fannin, Fulton, Gwinnett and McIntosh.
